OBITUARIES.

Maine Conference.

F. A. Bragdon was born in Brewer, October 10, 1836, and died at Kennebunkport, April 24, 1893, aged forty-three years. His parents were Methodists, and he was educated at the Maine Wesleyan Seminary. He became interested in religion among the Free Baptists and united with that Church. In 1870 he joined the Methodist Church in Bangor. The previous year he married Miss Sarah Boden, of Brewer. Feeling that he was called of God into the ministry, he received license as a local preacher, and in 1872 joined the East Maine Conference, and was sent to Penobscot. His subsequent appointments were: Surrey, Corinth, Atkinson, Carmel, and Lincoln. In 1882 he was transferred to the Maine Conference, and stationed at Conway, Gorham, Goodwin's Mills, Kennebunk, and Kennebunkport. At the last Conference he was appointed to South Paris. On his return from Conference, in his preparation for removal to his new charge, he was prostrated with disease, which developed into cerebral meningitis. He was not considered dangerously ill till inflammation of the brain cut off all intelligent communication. The day before his death in his delirium his thought was with his lifework. Hearing the church bell on Sunday, he said, "I must tell them of Jesus and his love—'God so loved the world.'" After a severe struggle through the day and night he quietly fell asleep in the morning. Brother Bragdon was a good man, a sound preacher, and a successful minister of the Gospel. His loss is greatly deplored by his widow, his two sons, and family friends, as well as by those to whom he had ministered. The remains were interred in the village graveyard, to sleep with kindred dust till the morning of the resurrection.

Ezekiel Smith died at his home in Brunswick, July 9, 1893, aged seventy years. The immediate cause of his death was cerebral hemorrhage. He was born in Phillips, in 1823, where he spent the first twenty-one years of his life on the home farm. After he became of age he began to acquire an education preparatory for his work in the ministry. Wholly dependent on his own exertion, he studied at Farmington Academy, Maine Wesleyan Seminary, one year at Wesleyan University, and graduated from the Concord Biblical Institute. At the close of the graduating exercises he was married to Miss Clara A. Cooper, who still lives to bear a noble part in the Church she loves. He worked ten years in the ministry. With great faithfulness he served the following charges: Kennebunk, Cumberland and Falmouth, South Berwick, Gorham, Winthrop, South Wayne and Phillips. At his last charge, in 1863, his constitution was broken down by excessive labor. Three years of sickness followed, after which, with partially restored health, he moved to Brunswick. To his business cares he added official duties of the Church, to which he gave many years of faithful service. Brother Smith was respected in the community, loved in his home, and honored in his church. He was a man of deep religious convictions. He had a brave, manly spirit, and lived the life of a Christian. He was ready and glad to go home. A wife and three children mourn their loss.

James S. Rice was born in Pownal, April 13, 1808, and died September 18, 1893, aged eighty-five years. He was converted at Gorham in 1828, and received into the Methodist Church the next year. He was licensed to preach in 1836, and in 1837 joined the Maine Conference, and was appointed to York. His subsequent appointments were East Readfield, Baldwin, Minot, West Newfield, Cumberland, Buxton, Gray, Bethel, and Chebeague. He was located for five years; again admitted. In 1872 he retired to the ranks of the superannuated and engaged in business at North Powers. In 1830 he was married to Miss Eunice S. Johnson, of North Yarmouth. They have had four daughters. Brother Rice was a devoted Christian and a clear and logical preacher, strong in his convictions. He was an enemy of Masonry and all secret societies. His end was peaceful. "He rests from his labors, and his works do follow him."

Kinsman Atkinson was born in Eaton, N. H., October 26, 1829; died in Glenwood, Ia., February 15, 1894. He was converted when eleven years of age. In 1853 he began to preach, marrying Miss Lydia Stackpole, of Biddeford, Me., the same year. He joined the Maine Conference in 1854. His appointments were as follows: Cape Porpoise, East Poland, Lisbon, North Auburn, Woodfords, Mechanic Falls, Conway, Cornish, Kezar Falls, Cape Elizabeth Depot, Oxford, Beacon Street, Bath; supernumerary, Fryeburg, Fairfield, Scarboro, Kittery, West Kennebunk, Kennebunkport, Cornish and Kezar Falls, Biddeford and Saco Ferry, Eliot, Peak's Island. At the time of his decease he was a superannuate. Last May Brother Atkinson, with his wife, went to Glenwood, Ia., in order to be near their daughter. His last sickness was brief. Many times a day he spoke of his trust in the Saviour and willingness to depart and be with Christ. A few days before he died he said to his son-in-law, "It seems to me that if I could only preach once more sinners would repent." A wife and one daughter (Mrs. Fannie L. Hayward) are left to mourn the loss of a loving and precious husband and father. May great grace be afforded them by the loving Father! Brother Atkinson was a man of great intellectuality. He was a keen analyst, a strong preacher, a good pastor, and on some of his charges remarkable revivals occurred. Brother Atkinson was strong in his attachments, and nothing was too great for him to do for a friend. For years Brother Atkinson had suffered infirmities of body, but had been wonderfully sustained by grace. He rests from his labors. May we join him in answering the final roll call at the great reunion in the sweet by and by.

Joseph Colby died at his home in Gorham, Me., September 6, 1893, after a long and painful illness, aged eighty years. He was born in Tamworth, N. H., December 30, 1812. In 1841 he was soundly converted and became an active member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Hearing the call of God for special service, he entered almost immediately upon his work, and was licensed as a local preacher in 1842. At thirty-two years of age, although he was favorably situated in life as a prosperous business man, with a family growing up around him, he felt that he must give himself wholly to the work of the ministry, and was received on probation in the Maine Conference in 1844. Without special theological training his fervent piety, sound scriptural doctrine, and ready command of language made him an acceptable preacher, while his genial, cheerful spirit, upright deportment, and kind heart rendered him a popular pastor. He studied diligently to prove himself a workman needing not to be ashamed. Possessed of good natural abilities, he soon won his way to the best appointments in the Conference, among others serving with great acceptability San Augusta, Gardiner, and Chestnut Street, Portland. His pulpit ability was early recognized by his Conference, and in 1863 he was chosen Presiding Elder of Lewiston, then Gardiner District. Here he served with such satisfaction to the churches and ministry that at the close of the four years' term he was appointed to the Portland District, and again four years later to the Augusta, then Readfield District, thus filling this very responsible position for twelve consecutive years. He was twice honored by the votes of his brethren with a seat in the General Conference, the first being the Philadelphia Conference of 1864, and the second the Chicago Conference of 1868. Here he served with credit to himself and his constituents. Brother Colby was deeply interested in the stirring scenes which occurred before and during the war of the rebellion. He went to the front himself in 1861 as chaplain of the Twelfth Maine. Returning to Maine, he resumed his pastoral work. After having been in the effective ranks thirty-seven years he took a supernumerary relation in 1881 on account of failing health, and five years later, in 1886, he was returned as a superannuate. He was married in 1834 to Miss Almeda Ballard, who was a most efficient helper in his religious life and in his work as a minister. To her blessed influence and courageous spirit he attributed a large share of his ministerial success. She passed to her rest and reward November 25, 1878. Five of their family of six children survive, and to them was granted the sad privilege of soothing the last hours of their respected father. Brother Colby was married in 1882 to Miss Melinda M. McDaniel, who proved herself an affectionate companion. Brother Colby was an earnest man. He was an excellent judge of character. He was quick in his decisions and remarkably correct in his estimate of men and affairs. These qualifications fitted him for leadership, and the Church recognized his abilities. His last year was attended with great suffering, and although frequently despondent, yet oft and again was the victor cry of Paul upon his lips, "I have fought a good fight;" and then grasping the hand of his pastor would exclaim, "Brother, I do want to be among the number who have finished their course and have kept the faith." His desire is granted.

Charles Chauncy Cone was born in Bolton, Conn., April 14, 1802, and died in Bowdoinham, Me., May 14, 1893, aged ninety-one years. His ancestors were of Puritan descent. In early life he removed to Northumberland, N. H. In youth he was converted among the Congregationalists, but in 1831 he joined the Methodists, and soon after was licensed as a local preacher. He identified himself with the antislavery and temperance causes. In 1834 he went to Maine as an agent of the American Antislavery Society. While lecturing for this society, at the request of the presiding elder, he supplied the Methodist church at Gorham. The same year he was received on probation in the Maine Conference and appointed to Gray Circuit. His subsequent appointments were: Fryeburg, East Machias, Brunswick, Bowdoinham, Newcastle, East Thomaston. In 1844 he located, but supplied a Methodist church in Saint Stephen two years, and in Calais one year. In 1848 he was readmitted to Conference and appointed to Skowhegan, then to Saco. In 1852, on account of impaired health, he was superannuated. In 1854 he was stationed at Hallowell, and afterward, for eight years, served as presiding elder on Gardiner and Portland Districts; then he served two years as an agent of the American Bible Society and one year as agent of the Freedmen's Aid Society. In 1860 he took a supernumerary relation and retired to his home in Bowdoinham. He was twice a delegate to the General Conference. Brother Cone was firm and pronounced in his convictions, a strong debater, but mild and courteous in his manner. He was a cheerful Christian, a faithful pastor, a successful minister, and a kind and affectionate husband and father; but the dark shadow of affliction often crossed his threshold. The wife of his early manhood, Susan Mahuren, died in Fryeburg in 1836. His second wife, Harriet Butterfield, died at Brunswick in 1840. His third wife, Mary Purington, died in Saco in 1851. In 1852 he was married to Margaret Butterfield, sister of his second wife, who faithfully ministered to his comfort more than forty years, and still survives him. Brother Cone was serene and cheerful in his old age, and without any marked sickness. At length the weary wheels of life stood still.

New England Conference.

George Prentice was born in Grafton, Mass., December 15, 1834. He became a Christian in early life, and not much later felt a strong desire for a life of greater usefulness than that of the sphere which he then filled. When about seventeen years of age he found his way to Wesleyan Academy, at Wilbraham, and entered enthusiastically upon the college preparatory course of study. He had an acquisitive mind, and soon became one of the foremost students in the school. While here he made his first essay as a preacher. Gilbert Haven, a local preacher, afterward a bishop of the Church, exercised episcopal functions by sending out promising young men to hold neighboring meetings and address such congregations as they could gather. In this tentative ministry young Prentice met with ready success and gave good indications of his future. After completing his preparatory course he decided to spend some time at the Biblical Institute. Leaving there in 1856, he taught for some time in Richmond, Va., and in 1857 joined the New England Conference. He filled appointments at Greenfield, Ludlow, Wilbraham, Oxford, Melrose, and Newtonville, doing acceptable and valuable service, and developing remarkable powers both as a preacher and pastor. In 1867 he went to Europe, and spent two years in travel and in study at the University of Halle. On his return he filled appointments at Hyde Park and Bromfield Street, Boston. Before going abroad he had given such evidence of extensive mental culture that Wesleyan University in 1865 had conferred on him the honorary degree of A.M. In 1871 he was elected to the chair of rhetoric and English literature in Wesleyan University, and was at the same time made instructor in Hebrew. Later he was transferred to the professorship of modern languages, which he held for more than twenty years. For the last few years before his death his health had been gradually failing, and leave of absence was given him at the close of the last academic year. He sought recuperation in Southern California, but it was too late. He died at Pasadena, October 10, 1893. Dr. Prentice had a wide and favorable reputation, not only as a preacher and teacher, but as a writer. Numerous and very able articles from his pen appeared during his early manhood in magazines and quarterly reviews. He also published two or three volumes of translations from the French of Pressensé and Sainte-Beuve. He wrote the biography of Bishop Gilbert Haven, an admirable setting forth of the life and character of that remarkable man. Later he was the author of the life of Wilbur Fisk in the series of "Leaders of Religious Thought." His writings evinced a high order of literary ability and attracted wide attention. As an instructor Professor Prentice was noted for his complete familiarity with the subjects which he took in hand, for his fresh, natural, and effective methods, and the inspiration imparted to his pupils. He was a man of genial spirit and delightfully companionable. His friendships were numerous and very constant. He was warm-hearted, sympathetic, generous, and helpful. His piety was deep and sincere, but not obtrusive nor egotistic. His sermons were strong, instructive, and edifying, rather than eloquent or exciting. He was twice married, first to Miss Ellen F. Derby, of West Boylston, Mass., November 26, 1856. She died August 25, 1876. He was married in 1878 to Miss Elizabeth M. Brooks, of Middletown, Conn. Dr. Prentice had a life of sorrow and great affliction. Of four children one son died in infancy; two sons just coming to man's estate, and each not long after graduation from the university and giving brilliant promise for the future, were cut off. A beautiful daughter was smitten by disease in the first bloom of womanhood, and "was not, for God took her." He bore these calamities with great patience and submission, but they no doubt affected him severely and probably hastened somewhat his own departure. He rests from his labors and his works follow him.

Josiah Weare Dearborn was born at Andover, N. H., December 1, 1848, and died in Watertown, Mass., January 19, 1894. He was married December 1, 1876, to Miss Martha B. Dinsmore. He leaves a widow and three sons. Brother Dearborn's early surroundings were peculiarly favorable to the molding of a noble Christian character. His father was a Methodist minister, and his mother was a woman of unusual strength and refinement of character. He had in early youth such educational advantages as the common schools of New Hampshire afforded. During the years 1864–65 he attended the New Hampshire Conference Seminary in Tilton, N. H. His conversion occurred while at the seminary. He commenced his college course at Wesleyan University, continuing there one year. The remainder of the course was taken at Dartmouth College, from which he was graduated in 1870. Feeling the need of special preparation for his chosen lifework, he became a member of the School of Theology of Boston University, being graduated with the class of 1873, after which he took work within the bounds of the New Hampshire Conference. After about a year he joined the New England Conference, where he continued in honored and successful service until the summons came to join the hosts of the Church triumphant. He served the following charges: Nahant, Marblehead, Maple Street, Lynn; Everett, Stoneham, Roslindale, and Watertown. As a preacher Brother Dearborn was thoughtful, earnest, and self-possessed. While he aimed to make the message plain he never descended to the arts of the demagogue. His delivery, always extemporaneous, was bold and energetic, but he was no ear-splitter. He was a true spiritual guide to his parishioners. His interviews for that purpose were as carefully planned as were his pulpit discourses. In these interviews he was as relentless and conscience-searching in hunting down and transfixing the devil's sophistries as he was tender and hope-inspiring in giving nurture to the feeblest aspirations after a better life. He was sympathetic and thoughtful in his attitude toward old friends, valued them highly, and held them to him as with hooks of steel. His conversation was enlivened by a subtle humor that was pungent but never caustic. Brother Dearborn was not troubled with doubts. The materialistic conception of things had no charms for him. He adhered to his convictions of duty with that kind of tenacity that leads, when occasion calls, to martyrdom, but that never goes hunting for stakes and fagots. Brother Dearborn's last sickness was characterized by a mental and spiritual illumination that made his companionship a benediction. He was a noble and manly man, richly endowed with faith, and one for whose companionship here we thank God, and for whose companionship hereafter we look and wait.

Andrew McKeown, D.D., was born in Nicteaux, Nova Scotia, July 20, 1823, and died in Watertown, Mass., December 11, 1893. He was one of three brothers who became able and successful ministers of the Gospel. He struggled long and hard with the difficulties which surrounded him in early life. For forty years our brother was connected with three different Conferences. His appointments testify to his ability and popularity. The churches he served were as follows: Allen Street, New Bedford; North Bridgewater, Bristol, First Church; Fall River, and Pawtucket, all in the then Providence Conference. Having been transferred to the New England Conference, he was stationed at Puncheon Street, Springfield; Saint Paul's, Lynn; Central Church, Lowell; Roxbury (now Winthrop Street), Grace Church, Worcester; Harvard Street, Cambridge; Saratoga Street, East Boston; Auburndale, Winthrop Street, Boston, again; Boston Street, Lynn; Monument Square, Charlestown; Newton, Eggleston Square, Boston. He also served the Chestnut Street Church in Portland, Me. Dr. McKeown graduated from Wesleyan University in 1851, and in 1873 recevied the honorary degree of doctor of divinity from the same institution. Dr. McKeown married Miss Velina B. Pease, of Edgartown, and after a happy union of nearly forty years she died at Newton. The shock occasioned by her death was irresistible, and he never after was equal to his former self. His health and elasticity gradually gave way, till he ceased from his labors and was reunited with her in heaven.

Edward Payson King was born in North Amherst, December 24, 1843, and died at Clifton Springs, N. Y., October 3, 1893. Brother King was converted when sixteen years of age. Immediately after his conversion he set about his preparation for the work of the ministry, spending some four years at Wilbraham, and later two years at Newburg Seminary, Vermont. In 1867 he entered the theological seminary of the Boston University, graduating in 1870. He was united in marriage to Emilyetta Dickinson, at North Amherst, August 3, 1869. He joined the New England Conference in 1871, was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson and elder by Bishop Gilbert Haven. While he was attending the theological seminary he supplied the church at Winthrop with Brother J. N. Short for one year; then he was stationed at Washington Street Mission, Boston; Franklin, Boston, City Missions; Everett, Amherst, Asbury, Springfield; Holyoke, Gardner, Morgan Chapel, Boston. The intimate relationship which Brother King held with his Maker qualified him to lead men to Christ. His chosen work became a passion with him, and whatever was important to this end received his careful attention. His preaching was plain, practical, spiritual, and helpful. The truth of the Gospel had in him a bold advocate. He never took a course because it was popular, but because it was right, and what he deemed right that he did, and by his fidelity to the truth he was an inspiration to the churches. Our brother was broad in his sympathies, strong in his attachments, quick in his perceptions, outspoken and yet tender in his rebukes. His companionship was genial; those who knew him well felt impressed with a special hold upon his affections. Dr. Chadbourne, his presiding elder, said of him, "Few preachers have ever walked among us whose standard of manly integrity and of Christian consistency was higher than his." The esteem in which he was held by his congregations was shown at his funeral by delegations from nearly every one which he had served, bringing tears, tributes, and floral offerings.

Charles Thurston Johnson was born in Nahant, Mass., October 16, 1838, and died in Winthrop, Mass., October 26, 1893. He was converted during the pastorate of Rev. W. R. Clark, D.D., in May, 1854. He fitted for college at Wilbraham, Mass., in 1855 and 1856. While there he decided to enter the gospel ministry. At Wilbraham he was baptized and received into the Church by Rev. Chester Field. He met at Wilbraham Miss Elizabeth S. Edson, of Yarmouthport. Friendship ripened into love, and the two were married July 22, 1863. Three children have been born to them, Orville E., Wilbur F., and Mabel P., all of whom have reached maturity and are now living. Brother Johnson, after a full course at Wesleyan University, was graduated in 1863. He joined the New England Conference the same year. He was ordained elder by Bishop Scott, at Waltham, Mass., March 31, 1867. His appointments have been Princeton, Shrewsbury, Chicopee Falls, Easthampton, Grace Church, Springfield; Byfield, East Cambridge, Fitchburg, Palmer, Newton Upper Falls, Ipswich, Stoneham, Marblehead, and Winthrop. At Winthrop tuberculosis appeared in the joints of his left limb, necessitating two amputations and seven operations. Later the disease spread over the whole body, involving the spine and lungs. He suffered much, but was a man of heroic courage and never lost hope. The morning he died he gave a message to each child, and said to his faithful wife, "You know where to put your trust." The early light of day streamed into his room. Suddenly he said, "It is a beautiful day." It was a beautiful day, for the day-star had arisen in his heart and he saw the dawning of the eternal morning. Saturday, October 28, after touching services in the Winthrop Church, the body was laid to rest in the quiet cemetery at Nahant, where the surging waves break against the great cliffs, playing dirges and chanting his requiem. Brother Johnson was a modest, unassuming man. To him the Gospel was good enough to preach. Many have been converted during his ministry. His substantial work secured permanent results to the churches which he served.

Henry Dorr was born September 2, 1841, in Clayton, N. Y. He was converted in his seventeenth year, and at once felt the call to preach. He was licensed at the age of twenty-three. He enjoyed the advantages of the best schools in Jefferson County, N. Y., including a first-class seminary. In 1865 he entered the Biblical Institute at Concord, N. H., where he studied two years, removing with the school to Boston in 1867. In Boston he continued his studies until February, 1868, when failing health compelled him to relinquish school work. He entered the New Hampshire Conference in 1868. He was stationed in South Acworth, Hinsdale, Salem, Suncook, Newmarket, Haverhill, Mass.; Wesley Church, and Claremont. On account of a serious accident, resulting in the loss of a limb, Brother Dorr in 1885 took a supernumerary relation. In a short time he was again in the active work as supply at West Quincy, Mass., where he served until the spring of 1886, when he was transferred to the New England Conference. He was appointed to West Quincy, Webster Square, Wooster; and to East Saugus. On February 5, 1894, he was suddenly transferred by the chief Bishop from the field in East Saugus to the eternal field in heaven. Brother Dorr was eminently successful in all his charges. His able preaching, faithful pastoral service, devoted Sunday school work, and his strong and manly advocacy of temperance and other reforms made him a leader in every community where he labored. There was much variety in his preaching. In social life and pastoral work he reached the hearts of all. He was ever kind and helpful. Like his Master he went about doing good. He was a successful financier. In Newmarket, N. H., he delivered the church from a crushing debt of nearly $20,000. He raised about $10,000 in his last charge for church improvements. In 1868 Brother Dorr married Miss Louisa A. Flint, of Auburn, N. H. She bore him two children. He was soon bereft of the mother and of both the children. In 1877 he married Miss Emma E. Tolle, of Newmarket, N. H., who, with a daughter, survives to mourn their loss. Cheerful, earnest, great-hearted, true, Henry Dorr was a boon to earth and is an acquisition to heaven.

Mark Staple, D.D., was born in Newmarket, N. H., May 4, 1805, and died in Brooklyn, N. Y., November 26, 1893. He was converted in early life. Uniting immediately with the Church, he soon felt the call of God to preach the Gospel, and was received on trial in the New England Conference in 1832. From that time until he was disabled by the infirmities of age the duties of the ministry occupied all his time and received his constant attention. In 1858 he withdrew from the Methodist Episcopal Church. For a few years he was pastor of an independent congregation, but finally united with the Methodist Protestant Church. In his new ecclesiastical relation he soon won for himself a large place in the esteem of his brethren, who honored him in various ways. But as age crept on he felt a desire to return to the old Church at whose altars he served in his early manhood. He was most cordially readmitted to the New England Conference in 1888, and his name placed on the roll of honor, where it remained till his death. His preaching was strong, fervid, and impressive, and marked by a singular aptness of scriptural allusion and quotation. It was preeminently spiritual, simple, and practical. His piety was of a cheerful type. His religion dominated his life. The serenity of his countenance was an index of his soul. His family testify that no fretful exclamation ever escaped his lips. He despised pretentiousness, admired sincerity. He was a Methodist, ardently attached to the doctrines of his Church, yet broad-minded and truly catholic. His wife, with whom he lived for nearly sixty-one years, preceded him a little time to the better land. The closing years of his life were spent in Brooklyn, in the family of his daughter, who ministered to him with loving fidelity. His last sickness was borne with characteristic patience. It was on the evening of the Lord's day that the summons to the realization of the "far better" came. He was ready, and entered into paradise.

Washington Conference.

Richard Lane was born in Mathews County, Va., September 25, 1825, of Christian parents. He was carefully trained in the nature of the Christian religion. In 1844, in his nineteenth year, he was converted. Soon after his conversion he joined Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church, of Annapolis. At the second session of the Washington Conference, held in Washington in 1865, he was admitted on trial into the traveling connection. He was ordained deacon the same year by Bishop Simpson, who also ordained him elder in 1869. His appointments in the Conference were as follows: South River, Dallas Street, Baltimore (here he began the project for the new church, the Centennial, which that congregation now occupy); Loudon County, Va.; Frederick City, Md.; Abingdon, Va.; Wytheville, Va.; Williamsport, Md.; Saint Paul's, Baltimore; Lexington, Va.; Waugh Chapel, Baltimore; Strasburg, Va.; Shepherdstown, W. Va.; Hedgesville, W. Va.; Gunpowder, Md.; Buckeystown, Md. At the session of the Conference in 1893 he was present, though he had not been well for several weeks; yet he was anxious to attend, saying to his wife and other friends, "I will venture; I feel that it will be my last time." At the close of the Conference he was appointed to Libertytown, Frederick County, Md. This appointment he never reached. He came to Baltimore March 14 to spend a few hours with his friends before going to his new field of labor. While there he was taken very ill, and removed to the Johns Hopkins Hospital for special treatment, where he died in great peace March 29, 1893, in the sixty-eighth year of his age. He had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church forty-nine years and in the active ministry for twenty-seven years. He was "a burning and a shining light." As a preacher his manner was plain and forcible, as a pastor he was diligent and untiring. His illness was brief, but his end was glorious. Sunday, March 26, his last Sabbath on earth, was a day of rejoicing with him. He said, "My work is done; I am now ready; I am almost home."

Matherine Callender departed this life March 26, 1893, at his home in Saltpeter Cave, Va. He united with the Church at the age of eighteen, and for fifty years was a member of the Church. At the time of his death he was sixty-eight years of age. He was admitted on trial in the Washington Conference by Bishop Ames in 1868, and received into full connection by Bishop Janes in 1870. Of the brethren who joined with him in 1868 only four remain. From 1888 he sustained a superannuated relation to the Conference. He was an unpretentious Christian man, faithful to the trusts committed to his care, and preached the Gospel without fear or favor. When the end came he was ready to depart and be at rest.

George Thomas Pinkney was born in Calvert County, Md., June 1, 1834. His father, Rev. Loudon Pinkney, a local preacher, and a man of great moral worth, moved with the family to Anne Arundel County, Md., in 1837, and engaged in the business of a farmer. In the fifteenth year of his age the subject of this sketch was converted at Mount Tabor Methodist Episcopal Church, where he remained a number of years, after which he removed to Annapolis, Md., and joined the Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church, filling the offices of class leader and steward with great success. In 1865 he was licensed to preach. In 1867 he was received on trial into the traveling connection and appointed to Calvert Circuit, where he remained two years. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson in 1869, and ordained elder by the same bishop in 1871. His other appointments were as follows: Patuxent, Mount Zion, Georgetown, D. C.; Woodville Circuit, Severn, Robert's Chapel, Alexandria, Va.; Lynchburg, Va.; Ebenezer, Washington, D. C.; and Centennial, Baltimore, Md. In the month of December, in his second year at the last charge, while preaching he was stricken with paralysis, from which he never recovered. At the twenty-fifth session of the Conference, in 1888, he was compelled to take a superannuated relation, which he sustained until death. His sufferings were great, but cheerfully borne. He died in great peace at Annapolis, Md., March 2, 1894. A few hours before his death he said, "I am ready and willing to go. Do not grieve after me, for I am going to rest with Jesus and the angels in heaven."

Baltimore Conference.

William H. Pitcher was born in Anne Arundel County, Md., November 25, 1824. He was admitted into the Baltimore Conference in 1846. He died December 25, 1893. Beginning his ministry in his twenty-second year, he ended his earthly course in his seventieth. The recommendation for admission to the Annual Conference was made by the Quarterly Conference of Severn Circuit. Trained by parents who were devoted to their Church, he was converted in early life. About four miles south of Baltimore stood the old church in which they worshiped, one of the plain and unattractive houses of worship in the bounds of the circuit. Old Severn Circuit was one of the training grounds of the itinerancy. Presiding elders, preachers in charge, and junior preachers enjoyed its hospitality, and preached their sermons from very plain pulpits to very large and appreciative congregations. It was not, therefore, unfortunate for W. H. Pitcher that these surroundings modified the home and school life of a country boy. So near, too, was he to Baltimore that he could feel the throbs of movement which great populations afford as well as enjoy, the contemplative quietude of rural life. His active pastorate was brief. In 1846 he was appointed to Charles Circuit, in 1847 to Payette Street, Baltimore; in 1848–49 to Ryland, Washington; and in 1850–51 to Hagerstown. After five years of supernumerary relation he was appointed to Exeter Street, Baltimore, in 1857–58. He was supernumerary again in 1859–60. In 1861 it was considered unlikely that he could ever resume an effective relation, and he was made superannuate. His life in this respect is distributed into eight years of active duty, seven of supernumerary relation, and thirty-three of superannuated. It is doubtful if our brother ever had physical adaptation to the work of our ministry. He was delicately built, of nervous temperament, of gentle disposition and reserved manner. Quick to perceive, but reflective and cautious, he spoke deliberatively but enthusiastically. His presence in home and pulpit was conciliatory and deferential. Tenderness and sympathy wove about his pastoral demeanor an invitation to confidence. His reading was well distributed in theology and general literature, and he seems to have digested what he read and made it usable and profitable. The fondness for books continued to the end, and gave cheerfulness and occupation to weary hours. Far from pretending to scholarship, he yet wrote and spoke accurately and impressively. His pastorate at Exeter Street was very popular and useful, though it was often interrupted by sickness and ended his active career. His first supernumerary relation in 1852 associated him with Dr. L. F. Morgan at Charles Street church in Baltimore, where he preached on alternate Sundays, as Dr. Morgan was chaplain to the United States House of Representatives, and the usage then was to have service at the capitol every Sunday morning by one of the chaplains. Dr. Morgan testifies to his ability and usefulness, and considered him an excellent preacher, and for his opportunities an extraordinary one. In an interesting note to the writer Dr. Reiley says: "His discourses were well thought out, practical, edifying, and full of unction. When he entered the Conference he was considered one of our brightest and best young men." His voice and his nervous system, however, broke down under the strain of ministerial duty, and for many years he looked on with interest in the work of God and the activity of his brethren, but he could not participate. The occupations of these years were divided between the care of his health and business. Dr. Edwards, in the Baltimore Methodist, writes: "Brother Pitcher had been an invalid so long, cut off from personal association with his brethren at Conference, that few knew him. He had better knowledge of the preachers and their work than most of them had of him. Through all the years of his isolation, however, he cherished a brotherly affection for them, and his happiness was hardly less than theirs when success attended their labors. His heart was always first and most in the work of the ministry, and he would have been glad at any time to reenter it at any worldly sacrifice if the Lord had so willed. His worldly success was generously used in supporting the Church and doing good among his fellow-men." Long years of struggle with disease, inevitable seclusion at home, or in pursuit of health in a milder climate, the death of his faithful wife in 1892, the oppressive asthma which complicated his condition, deprived him of rest, made sleep fitful, and wore out his strength. For years he was confined to the house, and for a long time slept only when propped with pillows in his chair, baffling disease with unwearied patience and unfeigned trust in God. In all this affliction he exemplified most beautifully the spirit of Christ, spoke of his experience modestly but definitely, and those who have visited him felt that he walked with God and had the testimony that he pleased him. On Christmas Day, at his daughter's residenee in Baltimore, he was sitting with his family, and rose to walk across the room with assistance, but was exhausted, and, sitting down, he immediately expired.

Greenleaf G. Baker was born in the town of Alfred, Me., March 20, 1837. His father, Charles Baker, was a Methodist preacher. Something of this good man's ability may be gathered from the fact that for thirteen consecutive years he filled the office of presiding elder in his Conference. The mother was a gifted and talented woman. Her devotion to the Church was remarkable. When but eleven years old Greenleaf left home. In the fall of 1852 Gilbert Haven was holding a revival in Northampton, Mass. While the congregation were singing an invitation hymn the preacher passed down the aisle scanning the faces of the people for signs of conviction. He placed his hand upon the head of a sandy-haired boy, saying, "You ought to give your heart to Christ." Immediately the boy knelt at the altar and soon found the Saviour precious. That boy was the subject of this memoir. He was not, however, fully satisfied with the evidences he possessed that the work was genuine, and continued seeking at home. One night he had a long struggle in prayer. Jacob at the ford wrestled not more strenuously with the angel than did he. "At last," he said, "I gave myself fully into the keeping of Jesus, and on awaking the next morning found my heart full of peace and joy. I felt it my duty to preach, and at once set about getting an education for that purpose." When he was but eighteen years of age he was licensed as a local preacher, and in this capacity was active in the work of saving souls. In 1861 he joined the Black River Conference, and was stationed at Madrid, N. Y.; but at the opening of the war he was discontinued at his own request, and entered the United States service. At the close of the war he became connected with Foundry Church, Washington, and in 1867 joined the Baltimore Conference. He was sent to Harper's Ferry, and beheld everywhere signs of the ravages of the war. A rougher reception awaited him by reason of the animosity felt toward the "Yankee preacher," yet he scoured the surrounding country, holding meetings, and one hundred and fifty were received into the Church as the result of blessed revivals. He received at one time an anonymous communication warning him to leave the community or forfeit his life. He pocketed the letter and said nothing. Passing through a village where the feeling against him was hottest, a bystander said, "So you received a letter ordering you to leave." "Who told you?" was the response. "O, I heard it." "Yes, and you wrote it," said the plucky preacher; and the agitator was compelled to leave the community, while the circuit rider held the ground. By his affable manners he soon won the hearts of the people. His subsequent appointments were: Rockville, Hamline, Washington, Cumberland, Madison Square, Baltimore; Union Square, Baltimore; South Baltimore, East Baltimore, Presiding Elder of Frederick District, West Baltimore, and Union Square, Baltimore, March, 1893, to January, 1894, where he died. For years he had been the genial secretary of his Conference. During this period, rarely interrupted by ill health, his success as a revivalist was in a great measure due to a gracious baptism of the Holy Spirit which he received at a camp meeting held at Manheim. He frequently referred to this event as marking the beginning of a new epoch in his religious history. In his preparation for the pulpit he had but one aim—to interpret aright the mind of the Spirit. In the delivery of the sermon he was animated by one purpose—the spiritual upbuilding of the people. He was never so happy as when in the blaze of revival fire. Indeed, he did not consider his work completed if the year did not chronicle a revival. Nature had endowed him with musical talent. Loving music himself, he endeavored to instill the same love in others, and who can tell what an educative force his life must have been as from one charge to another he drilled our young people in this potent factor of religious service? His sunny face was but an indication of the sunny soul within. He loved brightness. If he carried a burden few, if any, knew it. In the changes attendant upon the life of an itinerant he was not exempt from disappointments, and must at times have known trouble and sorrow; but his philosophy was of that sturdy, homely type that always made the best of everything. And so the glad heart made a cheerful countenance that carried sunshine wherever he went. But if his face shone it was because he had been in the mount and talked with God. As presiding elder he was conscientious in the performance of the delicate duties of his office, and he constantly sought the best interests of the preachers of his district. The closing weeks of his life witnessed a struggle with the grim monster marked by heroic bravery, but hopeless from the beginning. He had no suspicion that death was so near. With him all was hope and confidence. When told that he must die he exclaimed, "Impossible, impossible, I have work yet to do!" And has he not work yet to do? Out in God's boundless fields of tireless activity, in higher realms, he still has something to do for Christ his King.

Kansas Conference.

W. R. Davis, D.D., was born in Ohio April 1, 1815. His mother was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church; his father, of the Presbyterian Church. He was happily converted at the age of fifteen, and was sent to Kenyon College, where he remained but a short time, leaving on account of persecutions touching his membership in the Methodist Church. He nevertheless pursued his studies, and at the age of nineteen was admitted to the Cincinnati Conference. He spent some of his early ministerial life in western Virginia, where he was for a short time imprisoned on account of his antislavery opinions. He was transferred to the Missouri Conference before the division of the Church in 1844. While pastor of Ebenezer Church, St. Louis, he was elected professor of natural science in McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., at the same time being appointed pastor of Lebanon Charge. In 1858 he was elected first president of Baker University, Baldwin, Kan., with authority to organize his own faculty. He accepted this important charge, and was transferred to the Kansas and Nebraska Conference. He organized the first classes of the first institution of college grade in Kansas, and lived to see Baker University, the idol of his heart, take her rightfully earned place among the institutions of the State. He was chaplain of the Wyandotte Constitutional Convention, and a member of the first session of the Kansas State Legislature. He served as Superintendent of Public Education for Douglass County. For fourteen years he was a presiding elder in the Kansas Conference. During the war he was chaplain and afterward colonel of a Union regiment, and for some time commandant at Fort Leavenworth. He was three times a member of the General Conference, was a delegate to the First Ecumenical Conference, held in London, and a delegate to the Centennial Conference of American Methodism held at Baltimore. He received the degree of M.D. from the Ohio Medical College, and that of D.D. from the Indiana Asbury—now De Pauw—University. His labors on earth were peacefully ended June 21, 1893. To a naturally amiable disposition there were joined the refining influences of grace and the fruits of cultivation of pure associations. His Christian work and experience were his joy and delight. In his long life in the ministry he was most thoroughly evangelical and Methodistic. He held very tenaciously to the Discipline and polity of the Church of the fathers, whose memory he cherished. In the latter part of his life he grew rapidly in a deep personal experience of the divine life and its power to overcome sin and to give perfect peace. His desire was to end his lifework in the effective ministry, and this was granted him.

Moses Spencer was born in Wilmington, Vt., in 1820, and died after much suffering at Holton, Kan., August 1, 1893. His early life was spent in rural pursuits, and after his conversion he received license to preach, probably in 1837 or 1838. Soon after he went to Newbury Seminary, where he made rapid progress in his studies. After teaching for a time he joined the Vermont Conference. About this time (1840) he married Maria Bissell, who, after more than fifty years, survives him. He received appointments in the Vermont Conference for thirty years, and in 1870 came to Kansas and settled at Waterville. After nearly nine years he removed to Holton. In 1871 he was transferred to the Kansas Conference. For a time he served the charge at Waterville, and then Irving, Blue Rapids, Sabetha. In addition he was Conference missionary and tract agent. His intellectual powers were far above the average; his insight into the truth was deep, and his power of analysis was discriminating. His great heart was full of love and sympathy. His was a very vigorous constitution. He had a good voice, well modulated, and was an excellent singer. At Annual Conferences, camp meetings, district conferences, and preachers' associations he was the center of influence for good. Many of his sermons will never be forgotten, especially the one on the parable of the pounds.

Lewis A. Markham was born in Carroll County, O., March 1, 1832, and died in Baldwin, Kan., August 27, 1893. He was educated at Salem Institute and in Mount Union College, O. After attending the medical college in Cincinnati he began the practice of medicine in Akron, O., in 1857. In the spring of 1858 he was converted and joined the Church. On September 18 of the same year he married Miss Sarah Wirt. He was made an exhorter April 26, 1862, and licensed to preach February 7, 1863. He was received on trial in the North Ohio Conference in 1863; was admitted into full connection and ordained deacon by Bishop O. C. Baker in 1863, and was ordained elder by Bishop D. W. Clark in 1867. After twenty-three years of efficient service in the Conference he was transferred to the Saint Louis Conference in 1886, and was again transferred in 1888 to the Kansas Conference, of which he remained a member in active service until death. During his ministry he received over 3,000 members into the Church, preached 3,823 sermons, made 9,337 pastoral visits, and traveled 65,901 miles. He was a good preacher, sound in doctrine, sympathetic in spirit, and more than ordinarily successful. "His works do follow him."

Florida Conference.

Joseph George Howard was born March 3, 1820, in Charleston, S. C., where he spent his earlier life. At eighteen he experienced a change of heart and joined the Church. He was a class leader and an exhorter for several years. In 1861 he married Mrs. Emma B. Cohen, of Charleston. In 1868 he moved to Jacksonville, Fla. He was licensed to preach in 1869, and became a member of the Florida Conference in 1870. Until his relation was changed to superannuated he served the following charges: Saint Augustine, Ferandina, Ebenezer, Jacksonville. Returning from an appointment across the Saint John's River he took his bed with a malignant fever. During the twelve days of his illness he was an intense sufferer. For the most of the time he was unconscious, but when aroused the old hero would say, "Praise the Lord, all is well." On September 28, at nine o'clock in the evening, the chariot came, and he ascended to be forever with the Lord.

Missouri Conference.

John Thomas Boyle was born in Phillipsburg, Center County, Pa., May 1, 1825, and died in Trenton, Mo., June 30, 1893. In 1826 his father moved his family to Clarion County, Pa., where he grew to manhood. His parents were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Dedicated to God by baptism in infancy, he grew up under the influence of an earnest piety, in an atmosphere of spiritual life. He was converted when nineteen and united with the Church. When about eighteen years of age he began teaching in the public schools of the county, and continued in this employment until his twenty-first year, when he was employed at Beaver Furnace as bookkeeper. While here, believing he was called of God to the ministry, he began to hold meetings for prayer and testimony, which were greatly blessed in the conversion of souls. License was given him to exhort by his pastor in 1848, and he was licensed to preach in 1849. He sought by diligent study to prepare for his life work. He entered Washington and Jefferson College; after one year there he went to Allegheny College, but did not quite complete the classical course. In 1851 he was received on trial in the Erie Conference. He was ordained a deacon by Bishop Baker in 1853, and an elder by Bishop Morris in 1855. When the work of reconstruction throughout the territory ravaged by the civil war demanded heroic and self-denying men he heeded the cry from the South, "Come over and help us," and transferred in March, 1865, to the Missouri and Arkansas Conference, and was appointed to First Church, Saint Joseph. Afterward his appointments were: Savannah, Saint Joseph District, Maryville, Macon City, Princeton District, which he served the full term (while in charge of this district its name was changed to Trenton District), Kirksville, Twelfth Street, Saint Joseph, and Edinburg. Failing health admonished him that he must rest, and the Conference granted him the relation of a superannuate, which he held with honor and in sweetness of spirit till his death. During his life he was honored with important trusts, which he discharged with ability and fidelity. In 1864 he was sent out by the Christian Commission, and was a number of months on duty with the Army of Virginia. In 1880 he was chosen first of the three delegates to represent the Missouri Conference in the General Conference at its session in Cincinnati. In 1881 he established his home in Trenton, Mo., and the following year he was appointed postmaster, a position which he filled for four years to the entire satisfaction of the community. He married Miss Sarah A. Laughlin, January 1, 1850, in Clarion County, Pa. To them were born five children; three of these live to be a comfort to their mother, who survives to experience the loneliness of an itinerant's widow. For a number of years Mr. Boyle had been in failing health, a constant sufferer from dyspepsia. He was also afflicted with bronchitis, and his lungs becoming involved, last fall he had a severe hemorrhage, from which time he gradually went down with a slow consumption. Ever patient and cheerful he expected death for weeks before his release came. He said, in substance, to the writer, "I have been successful, as men count success, in my ministry, having served the Church as faithfully as I knew. Many souls have been converted and added to the Church. In all this I rejoice; but I cannot trust in this. Nothing avails me now but the blood shed for me. I am on the Rock of Ages, the solid rock. I am ready at any time." And thus he entered into rest. Our brother had a happy combination of natural and acquired abilities that made him a highly prized companion in all the relations of life. He was patient, but decisive; gentle, but firm of purpose; tender and sympathetic, but with courage undaunted amid all perils. His exalted purity and unflinching integrity were joined with the rare possession of sanctified common sense. A citizen voiced the universal estimate, "He was a good man."

Wyoming Conference.

William Burnside was born in Otsego County, Md., December 20, 1817, and died May 25, 1893, at Sidney, N. Y. He could not remember the time when he was not the subject of serious impressions. At nineteen, during protracted meetings, he was deeply convinced that he should engage in the service of God. He says, "I resolved to gain the Saviour's love or perish trying. I sought for several days, weeping. The evening of January 4, 1837, God forgave my sins, and for Christ's sake set my soul at liberty." He was received on probation in the Oneida Conference in 1842, and labored in New Berlin, Butternuts, Richmondville, Otsego, Verona, and many other charges. As circuit preacher, in his earlier ministry, he was obliged to travel many miles on horseback or with carriage over poor roads, and was often obliged to walk long distances. He gave calm and unprejudiced attention to all questions of moral reform. His religion was as broad as the Bible; a "thus saith the Lord" decided everything. It can be truthfully said he was the greatest soul-winner of the sections wherein he labored. He was beloved by all. In his illness preceding his death he said, "I would be glad to go and be with Jesus, nevertheless 'his will, not mine, be done.'" His mind was clear; divine light, as human strength failed, shone through every lineament.

Samuel W. Spencer was born in Wautage, N. J., and educated in New York city. His father was a Baptist minister of prominence, but the son chose to make his home in the Methodist Episcopal Church, to whose doctrines and usages he gave unswerving loyalty. Early in the war for the Union he enlisted in the Sixty-seventh Ohio Infantry and served for four years and a half. In 1869 he was married to Miss Florence A. Sanders, of Litchfield, Pa. In 1873 he united with the Wyoming Conference, and did faithful service until failing health compelled retirement from the work. He served the following charges: Broome, Lanesboro, Hawleyton, Snfaord, Rileyville, Canaan, Narrowsburg. He then took a superannuated relation, in which he continued until called to his reward On most of his charges revival fires were kindled, notably at Sanford, where two hundred and fifty were converted. After his retirement from the effective ranks he still labored patiently on as strength permitted, and was cheered by seeing sinners led to Christ. His fatal malady was heart disease, from which he was a great sufferer, and on June 5, 1893, at the age of fifty-six, he was suddenly called from his home in Mount Pleasant, Mich., to his home in heaven.

Alexander E. Daniels was born in Morris, Otsego County, N. Y., May 12, 1804, and died on September 30, 1893. His educational advantages were only such as the district school afforded, and this he attended but a portion of the time for eight or nine years. Yet he was a close student all his life, and especially from his conversion. In July, 1824, he was gloriously saved. Like Saul of Tarsus, Christ met him on the highway and saved him. There was certainly a Pauline spirit in the grand old hero. Within a few weeks he became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. A sense of deep unworthiness and conscious lack of mental training led him for a time to disregard the divine call to the ministry. At length, as he was one day crossing a field, God distinctly spoke to him, and he was "not disobedient to the heavenly vision." In 1834 he joined the Oneida Conference and was appointed to the Otego Circuit. During the thirty-four years of his effective ministry he served the following charges: Otego, Chenango, Westford, Otego again, Exeter, Frey's Bush, Springfield, Middlefield, Westford again, Decatur, Otego again, Schenevus, Morris, and South New Berlin. In 1868 he took a superannuated relation and retired to his home in Morris, where, a constant benediction to the Church and community, he waited the Father's summons to come up and receive his crown. He was a man of superior natural ability, a clear thinker, a strong, logical reasoner, and a preacher and theologian of unusual power. He stood in the forefront of giants of earlier days. He was universally acknowledged the ablest champion of the distinctive doctrines of the Church of his choice in all the extended region of his ministerial labor. Always sandaled and girded and panoplied he could not be surprised or vanquished. He was mighty in prayer. He was known to remain on his knees more than three hours without once rising, until victory came, and then a Pentecost that can never be forgotten. With a face beaming in a glory that seldom falls on human faces below the stars, and with hallelujahs that echo down through thirty intervening years, he shouted the praises of God and waved the trophies of victory. At ninety years of age he showed no signs of intellectual infirmity. His brain seemed to be as vigorous, his mind as clear as in middle life. Like Moses, he closed up his earthly pilgrimage with his natural force unabated. He was not called up into the mountains to die. God met him in the valley and kissed him into peaceful slumber.

Philadelphia Conference.

William H. Elliott, D.D., was born on Kent Island, Md., October 17, 1815, and died in Lebanon, Pa., December 11, 1893. His mother was devoutly pious, and when he was a child often prayed with him; this was one of the factors in his conversion, which took place in early manhood. In 1839 he was received into the Philadelphia Conference. His appointments were as follows: Pottsville, Mauch Chunk, Bethesda (while stationed here that strong church, Wharton Street, was organized, and the church building erected and dedicated), Asbury, Columbia, Port Deposit, Elkton, First Church, Pottsville; Ebenezer, Reading; Twelfth Street, Saint John's, Saint Stephen's, Germantown; First Church, Lancaster; Elkton again, Odessa; supernumerary one year, Hedding, Chestnut Hill, Lebanon; Presiding Elder of Central District one year and of North Philadelphia District three years; Paul Street, Frankford; Stroudsburg, Lebanon, and Milestown. In 1887 he took a supernumerary relation, and in 1888 was made superannuate. He was a scriptural teacher. He studied the Bible. He also studied the mind of the Holy Spirit to obtain spiritual discernment. No one could accuse him of mocking the flock of God by offering them the dry husks of human speculation. He had the courage of his convictions. His combats with the adherents of the Sunday market, while pastor of Wharton Street Church, are samples of his moral heroism. He was successful in paying debts and beautifying churches. He brought many souls to Christ. The brethren of his Conference honored him by electing him a delegate to the General Conference. He was also honored by being appointed a fraternal messenger from the Methodist Episcopal Church to the Wesleyan Conference held on Prince Edward Island. He was frequently called to pass through deep waters of affliction. He died from weakness and exhaustion, due to a severe attack of the grippe. To one who expressed hope for his recovery he replied: "I have gone too far now to come back. I am within sight of the city and shall soon step out on the golden shore." His eloquent lips are closed, his life work done, and his soul with the spirits of the just made perfect.

Gasaway Oram was born in Baltimore, December 8, 1806, and passed to his heavenly home December 16, 1893. When a youth of sixteen he came to Philadelphia, and, after serving the usual apprenticeship, engaged in the shoe business until called into the ministry. In his seventeenth year he was converted in the old Conference room of Saint George's Church, and at once united with that church. He soon attracted attention as a young man of more than ordinary promise. In his nineteenth year he was appointed class leader. He was honored with an exhorter's license, and soon after was promoted to the rank of a local preacher, in which office he served the Church with great acceptability and usefulness. In 1838 the Philadelphia Conference received him on trial with seven others, all of whom preceded him to the better land. His first circuit was Chester, as junior preacher. He was returned the second year, and appointed as follows: Strasburg Circuit, Soudersburg Circuit, Cecil Circuit; Wharton Street, Philadelphia; Ebenezer, Reading; Haines Street, Germantown; Lebanon, Tamaqua; Milestown, Philadelphia; Asbury, Wilmington; Ebenezer, Manayunk; Summerfield, Philadelphia; Port Deposit, Md.; Oak Street, Norristown; Emory, Philadelphia; Hancock Street, Philadelphia; Saint Clair, Pa.; Tamaqua again, Catasauqua, Lehighton, Mahanoy City. This was his last charge. His health had become so much impaired that he took a supernumerary relation in 1882 and moved his family to Tamaqua, where he had been twice stationed. His health continued to fail, and in 1889 he was granted a superannuated relation, and moved his family to a comfortable home in Philadelphia, where he died. He was distinguished for his gentleness, kindness, unbounded sympathy, and consecration to God. As a pastor he was much beloved by his people. In all his charges he left behind him the most pleasant recollections and the most salutary influences. As a preacher he was clear, practical, and deeply spiritual. He was well read in theology and Church history, and was a thorough Methodist of the old school. His last years were marked by much suffering, but were years of deep communion with God. His conversation was in heaven. "He was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people was added unto the Lord."

William Thomas Roberts was born near Hancock, Mich., November 16, 1868, and died at Hummelstown, Pa., February 19, 1894. His childhood and youth were passed partly in Pottstown and partly in Michigan, until September 15, 1882, when his family made Pottstown their permanent home. Here he entered the high school, from which he graduated in 1885. In 1888 he entered Dickinson College and graduated with honor in 1892. He was converted in December, 1883, was received into full membership July 29, 1884, and became a teacher in the Sunday school. Convinced of his call to preach he was licensed in 1887. In September, 1891, at the beginning of his senior year, he was appointed to supply Riverside Chapel, connected with Middletown Charge. In March, 1892, he was admitted into the Philadelphia Conference, ordained a deacon and sent to Hummelstown, where he early won the love of his church and the respect of the entire community. Soon after his first year's work his health gave way, and he went to Colorado in the hope of betterment. Thinking himself improved he returned in the early autumn, and continued his work until December 17, 1893, when he was compelled to stop in the middle of his sermon, cancel his evening appointment, and leave his pulpit never to enter it again. His strong ambition to live, to accomplish a greater work for his Master, kept back the shadows of the end until the last morning of his life. He had planned to build a new church at Hummelstown upon one of the finest locations in the town; had resolved to contribute largely of his own private means to that end; had drawings already prepared, and believed that he would live to see this beautiful dream an accomplished fact. But contrary to all his prayers and hopes the last morning came with premonitions that even he could not fail to observe. It was a bitter disappointment. Thoroughly equipped for work, after great labor and sacrifice, only twenty-five years old, with great promise before him and the fires of a lofty but holy ambition blazing within him, it was a staggering blow to suddenly end, without finishing, his life work. But he was too good a man not to accept the situation as the will of God. To the writer, who was with him at the end, he said on entering his room, "The crisis is come; all is well!" At his request the communion was administered, he repeating or affirming by a nod the precious promises suggested by the service. A few hours more—"not of pain," he said, "but of discomfort due to physical conditions"—and the day and he went out peacefully together. He was a careful, methodical, thorough worker. As a preacher he was forceful, with powers of illustration at once original and beautiful. He had faith in God and faith in himself as a son of God. At his funeral Middletown and Hummelstown vied with each other in loving tributes to his worth by committees, resolutions, flowers, and tears, while Pottstown, the home of his youth, conversion, and call to the ministry, and Dickinson, his college home, did all possible honor to one of whom a friend truthfully said: "No one ever had anything to say of him in adverse criticism though he was a positive character."

Samuel Pancoast was born near Beatty's Mills, Pa., May 30, 1819, and died in Chester, a few miles from the place of his birth, August 12, 1893. The religious affiliations of his family were with the Friends; but his father became a Methodist when young. His mother, who died when he was two years of age, was a member of Saint George's Church, Philadelphia, and her infant babe was there baptized. Upon the death of his mother he went to live with his grandfather, in Marple Township, where he remained until he was fourteen. During this period he was taken occasionally by his father to Methodist services, but usually attended the religious gatherings of the Friends. He was married on February 16, 1847, to Sarah Louisa Cook. In August, 1838, at a camp meeting near Coatesville, he was induced to give himself to the Lord. After a struggle of several days he obtained a sense of peace with God. Doubts, however, troubled him; but two years later, at a camp meeting near Hopewell, he received the clear witness of his childship. On the Sunday after his conversion he was received on probation in Marshallton Church. In 1839 a society was formed at Unionville, to which he removed his membership. In the winter of 1842–43 he was licensed to preach, and in 1844 was admitted on trial in the Philadelphia Conference with a class of fourteen. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Waugh, and elder by Bishop Janes. His appointments were: Susquehanna Mission, Springfield, Germantown, Cohocksink, Georgetown, Salisbury, Seaford, Saint George's, Del. In the fall of 1856 he was transferred to the Upper Iowa Conference and stationed at the Second Church, Davenport. In 1857–60 he was Presiding Elder of Iowa City District, and then appointed to Maquoketa, Tipton, and McGregor. In the spring of 1867 he was re-transferred to the Philadelphia Conference and appointed to Cochranville. His subsequent appointments were: Ebenezer, Manayunk, Trinity, Chester; Eleventh Street, Philadelphia; Saint George's, Philadelphia; Milestown, Conshohocken, Eleventh Street, Philadelphia; Safe Harbor, Messiah, Philadelphia; Avondale, and Chatham. He took the supernumerary relation in 1890, and was connected with Trinity, Chester, until a short time before the Conference in 1893, when he was appointed to Trainer, of which he was in charge at the time of his death. He was a true friend, a guileless man, a loving husband and father, a diligent student, a faithful pastor, a wise administrator, an earnest preacher, a successful soul-winner. He gave a devoted heart to Christ and a consecrated life to the Church. His death was caused by a complication of diseases, following an accident. The last day of his life those who were permitted to be present beheld a scene that will never be forgotten. "Do you feel safe in Jesus?" "Yes." "Are the waters cold?" "No." "Is the Gospel you preached to others all that you declared it to be?" "Yes." At one time, after waving his hands, he put them on his head, clearly indicating that he expected to wear the saint's crown through the ages. Again he clapped his hands in joy. His face was illuminated with the light of the divine presence. It was the march of the conquering veteran through the gates of pearl to receive his eternal reward. About eight o'clock in answer to the question, "Is Jesus with you?" he replied with a decided nod of the head, "Yes." Twenty-five minutes before midnight he had joined the bloodwashed hosts in heaven to be "forever with the Lord."

WILLIAM MULLIN was born near Norristown, Pa., May 10, 1817, and died in Philadelphia, May 25, 1893. He was the son of Lutheran parents, who were noted for their rugged morality and fidelity to church duties. The influence of their example and teaching followed their son as he went out from home, and contributed toward the direction of his course through life. In Germantown, in 1838, he was awakened to a need of pardon, and immediately sought and found the "rest of faith." His gifts soon attracted the attention of the Church, and for four years he was almost constantly engaged on the Sabbath in assisting pastors, for which the circuit system of that day furnished many opportunities. In 1842 he was received into the Philadelphia Conference. His first appointment was Snowhill Circuit, where, with his colleague, he shared in the triumph of a gracious revival. His subsequent appointments were: Indiantown, Annamasson, Georgetown; Accomac Circuit, Mount Salem, Chester, Tamaqua, New Hope, Hedding, Philadelphia; Eleventh Street, Philadelphia; Mariner's Bethel, Philadelphia; De Kalb Street, Norristown; Mauch Chunk, Port Richmond, Cohocksink, Emory, Milestown, Philadelphia; Cheltenham, and Saint Clair. In 1889, at his own request, he was granted a supernumerary relation. Though modest and retiring, almost to a fault, he was positive in his convictions and fearlessly conscientious in expressing them. He was a singularly pure man, of clean lips, clean life, and has left a clean record. He was a stanch friend, and blessed were they who enjoyed his friendship. He was a close student and a strong preacher. God favored him with many extensive revivals, and, through his wise leadership old debts were cancelled and new churches and parsonages built. On October 5, 1848, he married Miss Margaret E. Truitt, of Georgetown, Del., niece of Governor Truitt. The death of a dearly loved daughter, of rare accomplishments, beautiful in person and character, was a peculiarly severe stroke. He never fully recovered from it, and often mourned in silence her early death. He came to his end in peace. Calmly he made every arrangement for his funeral, spoke of the wonderful grace of Jesus Christ, told of his confident expectation of heaven through the merits of the Redeemer, and wept only when he came to speak of the dear ones in the home. He was one of the truest and best of men.

South Kansas Conference.

M. C. CULLER was born May 26, 1849, and died January 10, 1894, in Elk City, Kan., after an illness of about three months. He was raised in the Lutheran Church, but was not converted until January, 1889, in a Methodist revival at Green Springs, O. Shortly after he was given a license as local preacher. Feeling called to the itinerancy he came to Kansas and began his work at Toronto, South Kansas Conference, as a supply. He was admitted on trial in the Conference, and served the Toronto and Plymouth circuits one year each thereafter. Last March he was ordained deacon and appointed to Elk City Circuit. He sought and found the blessing of perfect love in the winter of 1892, and was earnest and faithful in pressing his people to a closer walk with God. He began his ministry at Elk City auspiciously, but almost from the first his health began failing. He suffered greatly, yet battled bravely to live, that he might preach. His testimony to Christ's saving power was clear to the last. Frequently he said, "It is all right." An unconverted attendant said, "I have watched with a good many men through sickness, and seen a good many men die, but never saw anyone who prayed all the time, as he has. He married August 31, 1871, Mary L. Mowers, who, with brothers and sisters, survives him. His interment occurred at Tipton, Mo., beside his mother.

Saint Louis Conference.

ANDERSON J. GAITHER was born in Count Lime, N. C., in 1808, and died in Kansas City, Mo., January 10, 1894. He was converted and received into the Church in 1821. He at once became active, and filled the positions of class leader, steward, trustee, exhorter, local preacher, and supply before entering the ministry. Having a conviction that there was a larger field of usefulness for him in the West he came to Kansas, where, it is believed, he served as a supply, and then came to Missouri and entered the regular work in 1855. In 1857 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames, and elder by Bishop Scott in 1859. He served Gasconade, Mt. Vernon, Independence, Steelville, De Soto, Columbus, Princeton, Maysville, Greenville, Bloomfield, Patterson, and Richland. He went to his work on horseback, with saddlebags, and threaded the narrow roads and bridle paths where many would never have gone. No other man ever stood more loyally to Methodist doctrine. He laid the foundations upon which scores of brethren are now building, little thinking what Herculean labors and deep privations he passed through. During the troubled days of the '60's he was true to his convictions and country. These hardships during and after the war helped to break his vigorous health, and he was forced in 1877 to take a supernumerary, and in 1878 a superannuated relation. He leaves only one member of the Conference that was in it when he joined. The last six months found him unable to leave his bed. His end was peaceful.

Liberia Conference.

D. E. WALRATH was born in Illinois between the years 1860 and 1865, and died at Vivi, Congo, Africa, on May 22, 1893. His early life was spent at or near Evanston, Ill., and from there he removed to Indianapolis, Ind. He was converted in early life. Called to the mission field, he was accepted by Bishop Taylor. He sailed from New York in July, 1891, and was appointed in charge of the Vivi Mission Station. He was also receiving and transport agent for the Congo District. He was received on probation in the Liberia Conference in 1893, and did a good work on his charge. In the month of May he was taken sick with the African fever, and on May 22 departed this life to live in glory forever. Not only is Bishop Taylor's Mission bereaved, for by one who knew him well has it truly been said, "All missions and missionaries respected him. He was loved by all." Sister Walrath has our earnest prayers that God will give her grace to overcome the great bereavement of her dear husband. He has promised that he will never forsake those that put their trust in him.

HARRY GARWOOD was born in England about the year 1863, and was drowned in the Cavalla River on February 24, 1893. In early manhood he left England for America, and made his home in Ontario, Canada, where he was converted and joined the Methodist Church. He sailed from New York in the latter part of September, 1887, in company with the first party of self-supporting missionaries to Liberia, and landed in Cape Palmas November 5. He was appointed to Wissika Station, on the Cavalla River, where he went earnestly to work in planting coffee, and all kinds of fruit trees, and preaching the Gospel to the natives. In the year 1889 he was sent to take charge of Beaboo Station, where he labored for God until 1891, when he had leave of absence to go to America to get married, after which, in company with his beloved wife, he resumed his labors on the Beaboo Station, where God blessed their labors. He joined the Conference on probation in 1892. On February 24, 1893, he went to the river to bathe, ventured in past his depth, and not being able to swim, was drowned. The work meets with a heavy loss in the death of our dear brother. He left a kind, loving wife, who stood the trial as only a true Christian could. Sister Garwood is still laboring for the salvation of souls on the same field where her husband fell. May the Lord bless, sustain, and keep her!

William D. Nichols was born in Indiana in 1834, and died on the German steamer Lulu Bohlin, near Sierra Leone, on his way to the Canary Islands for the good of his health, in the fifty-ninth year of his age. When he was in his teens he moved with his parents to the State of Oregon, and settled in the Willamette Valley. He was converted at an early age. His early life was spent as a public school teacher. When he was about twenty-four years of age he felt the call to the Christian ministry. He was received into the Oregon Conference in 1860, giving over thirty-two years to the work. He spent thirty years in the Oregon Conference, twelve of them in the educational work and the remainder in the public ministry. He arrived in Africa in January, 1891, and was appointed by Bishop Taylor to take charge of the Cape Palmas Seminary. He was appointed Presiding Elder of Cape Palmas District in 1892. He was stricken with African fever on January 22, 1893, suffering greatly until the night of February 4, when the soul of our brother returned to God that gave it. He leaves a wife and a little boy six years of age, in whose bereavement we greatly sympathize.

J. M. Thompson. [Obituary not received.]

Southwest Kansas Conference.

Lewis J. Van Landingham was born near Palmyra, Mo., December 18, 1839, and died in Wichita, Kan., December 19, 1893. In early manhood he removed to eastern Indiana, and in 1862 enlisted in the Sixty-eighth Regiment, Indiana Volunteers. After fifteen months he was discharged from the hospital at Nashville, with health completely broken. While in the army he covenanted with God that should his life be spared he would devote himself wholly to his work. He entered the Brookville College to prepare himself for this work, and graduated therefrom with honor. He married his now bereaved wife in 1867. He entered the ministry in the South Kansas Conference in 1879. In the division of this Conference he fell into the Southwest Kansas Conference, of which he remained a member until his decease. His first appointment was Leon, where he remained three years. He was next appointed to Harper. During his third year in this charge failing health compelled him to give up the work. After a few years' rest he partially recovered and supplied the Hester Charge and then the Leon Charge. Thence he removed to Wichita, where, after years of suffering, he passed to his home above. He was a man of sterling worth, retiring in his manner, and gentle in his disposition. He was a joyous Christian, a good preacher, and a beloved pastor. His last months were ones of great suffering, but "he endured as seeing Him who is invisible." His last words were, "Happy, happy, O, so happy!"

New York East Conference.

David Osborn was born at Hull's Farms, Conn., February 11, 1814. He was dedicated to God by baptism in his infancy. At a camp meeting held at Compo, Conn., when between eleven and twelve he obtained the clear witness of the Spirit that he was born of God. Immediately on returning home he joined his father's class. He was given an exhorter's license at Green Farms in 1832, was licensed to preach December 4, 1833, at Georgetown, Redding Circuit, and traveled Colebrook Circuit. He was received in 1834 into the New York Conference, was ordained deacon June 26, 1836, by Bishop Hedding, was ordained elder May 20, 1838, by Bishop James Osgood Andrew; was appointed to Granby, Westbrook, Bloomfield, Goshen, Riverhead, Patchogue, Flushing, Franklin Avenue, Jamaica, Seymour, Summerfield Church, Rye, East Brooklyn, Bethel, Nichols, Southport, Bethlehem, Middlebury, Watertown, South Britain, Stepney, East Village, Southbury and Riverside, North Main Street, Bridgeport; Saugatuck. He married Miss Amanda Whitehead at Green Farms, May 26, 1836, whose health after 1875 forbade the fatigue of moving. In 1883, after forty-eight years of unbroken itinerant service, he took a superannuated relation, but for two years supplied Upper New Rochelle, and then Litchfield. His call to the ministry was unmistakable. The pulpit was his home and his throne. He never seemed so much himself as when occupying it. He possessed a clear, strong, penetrating voice. His mind was metaphysical. He was always thinking. He kept something on the anvil all the time—a passage of Scripture or some formula of an eternal verity. His conversation was enriched with his questionings. He had the poetic gift that sees the vital principle in all subjects, and by its disclosure startles, delights, and instructs the listener. It was his life to be in revival work. In it he never spared himself. God favored him with many gracious revivals. In all his charges most cordial memories are entertained of his ministry. About the last of January, 1893, without any disease, his vital energies began to fail, but mind and heart and voice lost none of their vigor. For ten weeks or more his debility increased, confining him most of the time to his bed. But through it all he surprised and delighted his watchers with outbursts that showed his soul to be moving in the highest realms of divine truth. Once, after many hours of suffering, he said, "We are to die but once," plainly meaning that he was passing through the experience by which he should consciously understand what it is to die. When thought to be unconscious he often dispelled the mistake by comforting and triumphant ejaculations. He fell asleep May 3, 1893.

Rufus King Reynolds died at New Britain, Conn., June 1, 1893. He was born in Woodstock, N. Y., April 19, 1818. Here he was converted in 1838, and baptized and received into the Church the following year. The next year he was licensed to preach, and was received on trial in the New York Conference in 1840. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Waugh in 1842, and elder by Bishop Hamline in 1844. His successive appointments were: New Paltz Circuit, Sullivan, New Britain, Granby, Cornwall, Bakersville, Goshen, Windsor, Farmingdale, Seymour, Clinton, Southold, Newtown Circuit, Middlefield, Cromwell. In 1865 he retired to New Britain, Conn., where he spent nearly thirty years in his quiet home, enjoying the respect of all. He married, February 19, 1843, Miss Loretta Stannard, of New Britain, Conn., who died, after a long and painful illness, just two months before their fiftieth wedding anniversary. In his sore bereavement he clung to Christ as his solace. His mind was unclouded to the last. A paralysis of the limbs left him quite helpless for two weeks; then death released him, and he went to his rest in the bosom of God.

Aaron Sandford Hill was born in Redding, Conn., two months and twenty-three days after the dawn of the present century. His father was an active worker in the Church and a liberal supporter, whose home was the hospitable and much-frequented stopping place of such early itinerants as William Jewett, Laban Clark, and Heman Bangs. At the old-time quarterly meetings a half score or more of warm-hearted Methodists from neighboring towns would be royally entertained in his home. His wife, the mother of the subject of this sketch, was a daughter of Mr. Aaron Sandford, of Redding, who was the first male member of our Church and its first local preacher in New England, and many of whose descendants entered the ministry. The eldest son, Aaron Sandford Hill, was baptized in infancy by Rev. Jesse Lee, and was educated in the common school and in Greenfield Academy. At fifteen he was awakened to his need of pardon while listening to the experience of a young friend, and soon after, at a cottage prayer meeting, was clearly converted. He married, in 1822, Miss Phebe Hunt, daughter of Rev. Aaron Hunt, of the New York Conference. At twenty-three, in another prayer meeting in a private house, he was deeply stirred, feeling that God called him to the ministry, but resisted for three years before yielding to the call. In 1826 he joined the New York Conference, and when from its territory the New York East Conference was organized he became a member of the latter. He acceptably served the following charges: Dutchess Circuit, Amenia, Milan, Goshen, Woodbury, Stamford, Burlington, Farmington, Hamden, Waterbury, Stepney, Durham, Bethany, and Milford. He traveled on horseback in the old fashion, most of his appointments being large circuits. In the course of years his sense of hearing became impaired, and in 1850 he felt compelled to retire from the itinerancy. His pastor said at his funeral: "That it did not affect his faith and confidence in God's goodness and love was manifest by the daily walk of the after years. . . . And when he entered the tenth decade of his life, when the lengthened shadows almost touched the farther horizon, with the ear door so tightly closed that he could converse with his friends only by writing, so happy and blessed was his communion with the Saviour that breathings of 'Glory be to God!' 'Bless the Lord, O my soul!' and the like, were often heard from his lips. The Church of his early choice and of his ministry he loved and prayed for to the end. When he could not hear a word of the sermon or the singing, and was in great feebleness, he still attended church, and particularly the communion service. He could understand that, for he felt the presence of the communing Saviour. And so he loved, and trusted, and prayed, and rested in his Redeemer while the sun of his earthly life sank lower and lower till the hush of eventime, and all was calm save the soft breeze that was to waft him home." From 1848 till his death he resided in New Haven, Conn. His second wife, the mother of his children, was Miss Abia Ann Judson, of Cornwall, Conn., who died in 1875, since which date it was the joy of his daughter to minister to him and share his counsels of wisdom. This man, whom God satisfied with long life, enjoyed his faculties until the end, died peacefully and without disease in New Haven, July 18, 1893, bore a spotless name, and his memory is blessed.

Cephas Brainard was born in Haddam, Conn., December 3, 1812, and died in Troy, N. Y., February 20, 1894. His education was received in the common schools and at Wilbraham Academy, and was supplemented by private tuition. He was converted at Middletown, Conn., September 22, 1831. Though receiving no encouragement from his relatives he persisted in his religious life, united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Haddam, and was licensed to exhort August 9, 1834. He was licensed to preach March 6, 1835, and united with the New York Conference the following May. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Waugh, May 21, 1837, an elder, also, by Bishop Waugh, May 19, 1839. He received the following appointments: Windsor, Essex, Bloomfield and Windsor, supernumerary, Windsor again, Hartford, supernumerary, Haddam, supernumerary, Essex again, supernumerary, Windsor again, supernumerary, Hartford again, supernumerary, Windsor again, Burlington, Farmington, Woodbury, Berlin, Farmingdale, superannuated. His health was precarious from the first. He possessed an ardent temperament, and often overtaxed his nervous energies to such an extent as to demand rest. He married, June 17, 1841, Tabra S. Spencer, of Saybrook, Conn. With his daughter residing at Troy, N. Y., he had his home during the latter years of his life. In 1887 he united with Hillman's Praying Band, of Troy, of which he was for a time president and chaplain. He did useful service in various churches of Troy and its vicinity, especially delighting in the labor of the Sabbath school. During the last five years he suffered from creeping palsy, lost his hearing, and for three years was helpless. Thus shut out from the world and shut in with Christ, about whom and his great salvation was all his conversation, after weeks of much suffering he received joyfully the summons of the Master and entered into rest. He was buried at Saybrook, Conn.

Central Pennsylvania Conference.

John Wesley Ely was born near Elysburg, Northumberland County, Pa., January 25, 1844, and was born again when but thirteen years of age. He received his training at the Elysburg Academy and Williamsport Dickinson Seminary. While at the latter institution he heard the call of his country. True patriot as he was, he responded by presenting himself at the front. At the close of the war he taught a school at Bloomsburg, Pa., and pursued a course of special study preparatory to entering upon his life work. By the Bloomsburg Quarterly Conference he was licensed to preach, and by the same body, February 23, 1867, was recommended to the Annual Conference. From that time until the end he gave to Christ and the Church of his choice the full measure of service. Though compelled during his whole ministerial life to battle with disease, and though again and again falling by the way, yet he manfully would rise again and heroically enter the list. He served with good success in the following charges: Washingtonville, Shirleysburg, Manor Hill, Milroy, Rainsburg, Freedom, Blaine, Thompsontown, Woodbury, Warrior's Mark. At McVeytown, May 24, 1870, he married Miss Lue S. Dunmire, of that place. He was an efficient minister of the word of God, and was abundantly successful in gathering fruits unto eternal life. His kindly nature was capable of the strongest attachments. He won for himself many personal friends, both among the ministry and laity, and will ever be cherished in gracious memory.

J. H. Slicer Clarke was born in Baltimore County, Md., March 11, 1831, and died in Rossville, Md., September 21, 1893. He was converted eighteen. He was licensed to preach by West J Quarterly Conference, and in 1860 entered the E Baltimore Conference, and was appointed to Castl Fin Circuit. His succeeding fields of labor were: McVeytown, Woodbury, West Falls, Tracy, Canton, Chaplain Bay View Asylum, Duke Street, York; Mercersburg, Gettysburg, McConnellsburg, Bendersville, Granville, supernumerary, Ray's Hill. In 1880 he again took a supernumerary relation, which he sustained during the remaining years of his life. At no time during his ministry was his health good, and yet he did hard work, and did it cheerfully. That he was able to accomplish so much as he did was due to his industrious habits and his fidelity. He was an example of piety, and cheerful without allowing himself to be trifling. He was naturally of mild disposition, and created few antagonisms by self-assertions. His life, instead of being disturbed by disquieting anxieties and unrealized ambitions, was calm and restful, and was an exhibition of the passive virtues of Christianity, such as patience, meekness, forbearance, and forgiveness. An older brother, in speaking of his last hours, says: "My brother died as he lived, an humble and trustful Christian." His final moments were marked by holy peace, and his patient spirit passed from earth as gently as the morning stars die out.

JOHN DONAHUE was born in Baltimore, Md., January 30, 1831. He was converted at Columbia Street Church under the ministry of Dr. W. M. D. Ryan. Not long after it became apparent that he gave promise of usefulness in Christian work, whereupon he was granted license as an exhorter. He was educated at Dickinson College, entering the grammar school and remaining in the college for a period of six years. On July 15, 1858, he was united in marriage with Catharine M. Linton, at New Buffalo. In 1859 he was licensed as a local preacher by the Quarterly Conference of Newport Circuit. In 1865 he traveled Newport Circuit as supply. He was admitted into the East Baltimore Conference in 1866. His subsequent fields of labor were: Mount Holly, Eighth Avenue, Altoona; Second Church, Chambersburg; Waynesboro, Everett, Mulberry Street, Williamsport; Bellefonte, Bloomsburg, Ashland, Hazelton. In 1889 he was appointed Presiding Elder of Danville District, in which position he remained till death. He possessed the "meek and quiet spirit." Everywhere he was affable and kind, manifesting appreciation of the smallest favor. Some of the last words he uttered were, "Thank you," to the doctor attending him. As a preacher he was practical, earnest, and at times eloquent. On Wednesday afternoon, June 1, he took the train at Clarke's Ferry for home. He was evidently taken sick on the cars, as he was seen with a window open in the effort to get fresh air. Reaching Bloomsburg he walked to the corner of the street opposite his home, where he was observed resting against a post. A member of the family was sent to his assistance. Immediately on entering the house he said, "I am sick, help me to the lounge." A physician was called and then a second. A slight hemorrhage followed, and in a few moments life was extinct.

LUTHER F. SMITH was born in Columbia, Lancaster County, Pa., October 26, 1847. He was converted at eighteen, and in his twenty-fifth year began his itinerant ministry as supply on the New Bloomfield Circuit. He was continued on the same charge in 1873 and 1874. He married Miss Emma McLaughlin, December 23, 1874. His subsequent appointments were: Milroy, Thompsontown, Du Boistown, Duncanville, Mount Union, South Hebertown, North Altoona, Hollidaysburg. In 1886 impaired health compelled him to ask for a supernumerary relation, during which year he resided in Altoona. His promising pastorate in Hollidaysburg was suddenly terminated by his translation, January 4, 1894. He was such a thoroughly equipped man that it is difficult to designate any particular in which he excelled. His home life was beautiful, his tender regard for wife and children being very marked. His social qualities were preeminent, and he made friends of all whom he met. As a preacher his sermons were of Christ and him crucified. His chief aim was to save souls. In the pursuit of his high calling no work was too arduous, no sacrifice too exacting. During his pastorate in North Altoona two churches were erected and stand as monuments of his labors. He is gone, but the gold is not turned into ashes; it is only recast in the mold and bears more brightly the superscription of the King.

New York Conference.

HIRAM LAMONT was born in Charlotteville, N. Y., June 28, 1813, and died in Newburg, N. Y., March 6, 1894. At eighteen he was born again by a bright and powerful conversion, and soon felt that he was divinely called to the ministry. Under this conviction he applied for license as a local preacher. After spending one year as a supply he was admitted on trial in the New York Conference in 1839. In preaching he was clear, practical, and earnest. His success was such as any member of the Conference might covet. Revivals generally attended his ministry. He was firmly attached to our doctrines and discipline and the usages of our Church. His appointments were: Richmond, Stockport and Claverack, Saugerties, Spencertown, Woodstock, Middletown, Kortright, Charlotteville, Livingstonville, Hancock, Liberty, Cochecton, Cortland, New Fairfield, Ancram, Monroe, Summit. At his last appointment he was afflicted with a difficulty of the throat, and reluctantly took his place among the superannuated preachers. On his last morning, as the sun was coming up over the eastern hills, he seemed conscious that the end had come. A few moments and all was over, and so peacefully that his watching wife did not know when the change came.

RICHARD DECKER was born at Prattsville, N. Y., March 19, 1826, and died at Margaretville, N. Y., March 29, 1894. He was converted in a Methodist class meeting at La Pierre, N. Y., in 1848. The foundations for a life of usefulness were laid in the common schools and at the Delhi Academy. He began his ministerial work at Margaretville, where he returned to finish his course and receive his crown. In 1852 he was received into the New York Conference, and was stationed at Hancock. His following fields of labor were: Colchester, Beaverkill, Deposit, Walton, Andes and Bovina, supernumerary, Eminence, Walton, Prattsville, Dormansville, Andes and Bovina again, East Jewett, Stamford, supernumerary with work at Asbury, Phillipstown, Pleasant Valley and Washington Hollow, Malden, Wing's Station, superannuated. He was an efficient pastor and an earnest, instructive preacher. For ten years he had been in hourly expectation "to depart and be with Christ," and yet was willing to suffer and to wait. On the morning of March 29, 1894, he passed from the family altar to the yard, where they found him dead; an angel had broken the chains which bound him to earth, and his liberated spirit had risen to be with God.

New Hampshire Conference.

LEWIS HOWARD was born in Bridgewater, Mass., December 4, 1802, and died at West Springfield, N. H., October 6, 1893. His parents moved to Grantham, N. H., when he was an infant. He was consecrated to God in baptism in infancy, and was converted and received into the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1814. From that time his home continued to be in Grantham, where he was a respected and influential citizen. He was married to Miss Polly Stone at Grantham, June 21, 1826. She died in the faith at Contoocookville, October 21, 1877. He was licensed as an exhorter November 20, 1838, and was admitted as a probationer in the New Hampshire Conference in 1839. Two years later he was ordained deacon by Bishop Soule, and in 1843 elder by Bishop Waugh. He labored in the following fields: Deering and Hillsborough, Pembroke, Chichester, Sandown, Bristol, Haverhill; Northfield, steward of the Conference Seminary; East Sanbornton, Claremont, Chestnut Street, Nashua, Dover; Presiding Elder of Concord District four years; Lowell Street, Nashua; Salem, Haverhill, Mass.; Suncook, Lisbon, Plymouth, Antrim, Contoocookville, Warner, Contoocook. He was one of the delegates to the General Conference in 1860. While in Nashua he was elected a member of the House of Representatives and served with credit. In Dover and Lisbon he did good service on the school committees. After his superannuation he resided in West Springfield. By request of the people of this town he soon began to preach in the Union meeting house, and was a sort of pastor at large. A flourishing Sunday school was kept up, and all departments of Christian worship were well sustained. Beginning to feel the burden of years he tendered his resignation in May, 1892, but preached a few times after that. On his ninetieth birthday he preached his last sermon, on Col. iii, 4: "When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory." He was a man of great common sense and much practical knowledge of affairs. He was exceedingly tenacious in his friendships. His sermons were studiously prepared, often written out in full, and delivered in a quiet and yet earnest way which made them profitable to his hearers. He began to fail more rapidly in October, 1892. He spent much time in prayer and repeating Scripture and hymns. In the last few weeks his pains left him, and when he died he only fell asleep in Jesus.

James Crowley was born in Cornish, Me., September 15, 1820, and died at East Wolfeboro, N. H., July 1, 1893. During fifty years of his pilgrimage he "walked with God," and then "he was not, for God took him." He was converted in his native town in 1843. He united with the Free Baptist Church, and by that denomination he was licensed to exhort in 1865. Afterward moving to New Hampshire he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, in 1867, and was licensed to preach in 1868, at Ossipee. Three years later he was received on probation in the New Hampshire Conference. He was ordained deacon in 1873 and elder in 1875. He was married September 24, 1846, at Saco, Me., to Nancy Wiggin. He was a student from 1839 to 1841 at the academy at Limerick, Me. He was a model citizen and an ardent patriot. His country's call for defenders found in him a ready response, and he did excellent service in the army as a non-commissioned officer. He was a choice spirit, a lovely character. He was nature's unpolished, unstilted nobleman. His appointments, which he served with great fidelity, were: Tuftonboro, Milton Mills, Landaff, Jefferson, Groveton, Groveton and Stratford, Rumney, Jefferson again. In 1891 he received the superannuated relation. He supplied Moultonville, and was appointed to supply East Wolfeboro and North Wakefield. Much of the time during his last illness his mind wandered. But even then it instinctively sought the fields of spiritual conflict and triumph. His last rapturous utterance was, "I see glimpses of glory!"

Newark Conference.

Albert Halsey Brown was born in Boston, Mass., April 30, 1829. His parents were noted for piety and love of the Church. He was converted at a camp meeting at the early age of ten, and throughout his young life he was conspicuous for filial piety and devotion to religious duties. Early consecrating himself to the ministry he entered Wesleyan University, and later the Concord Biblical Institute. Ill health prevented the completion of the course, yet throughout his life he was a most diligent student. In 1855 he was admitted on trial into the New Jersey Conference. His first appointment was Clinton Circuit. On 1856 he was sent to Elizabethport. In 1857, on the division of the Conference, he was appointed to Milford, Pa. In 1858 he was sent to Green's Chapel, now Mount Hermon. During his two years here he was married to Miss Julia Crane, of Maryland. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Stanhope and Waterloo, Vienna and James Chapel, Woodbridge, Mechanicsville and Wesley Chapel, Springfield and Millburn, Flemington, Franklin. Owing to ill health in 1873 he took a supernumerary relation. Becoming effective in 1875 he was sent to Watsessing; in 1876 to Paterson Avenue, Paterson; in 1877 Alpine and Closter. In 1878 he took a supernumerary relation and so continued to the close of his life. In 1880 he removed to Roseville Avenue, Newark, where he died. Few grander souls have ascended to the Church triumphant. All his life with a frail body he wrought as if he were a giant with sword and battle-ax. The idea of failure never seemed to enter his soul. Seeing clearly all the evils of the age, his faith in God made him a supreme optimist. Thus he saw flowers where other men saw thorns, and glorious results where others saw only defeat. He was wonderfully generous and unselfish. God seemed to be in all his thoughts. Bishop Vincent, a lifelong friend, not being able to be present at the funeral, sent a letter in which he says: "Albert H. Brown was an incarnation of truth. He had an intense nature. What he believed was to him vision; and what he saw at all he saw with his whole soul. If a moral issue were raised he stopped at no midway point. In abolitionism and in prohibition he was positive and uncompromising. There is something splendid about such natures. Such men look like conquering heroes as they lie in death. On account of his impaired hearing he was cut off from many enjoyments and not a few employments. It was this fact, probably, which led him to establish first a reading room which grew into the present excellent 'God Will Institute.' . . . He arranged his papers, spoke of his funeral, requested that it be informal, that there be no flowers, and requested that his prohibition button (white rose he called it) should be put into the lapel of his coat when laid in his casket. Meanwhile his prayers were wonderful. His whole family felt the melting, molding, refreshing presence of God." His last week was one of extraordinary suffering. Various physicians, including an eminent specialist, could give him no relief. He said that the great "agony" of Jesus in Gethsemane had a new meaning to him. On Saturday morning, October 7, 1893, in great agony, yet conscious and submissive, in glorious triumph he passed away.

Jacob P. Fort died in Newark, N. J., November 23, 1893. He was born at Pemberton, N. J., February 20, 1818. Reared in a Christian home, he was converted in 1834 at the early age of sixteen, under the ministry of Rev. Henry Boehm. His parents gave two sons to the itinerant ministry, and one, George F. Fort, to the State as governor, who filled the executive office with honor for ten years. Our brother, although compelled to labor as a mechanic, was not indifferent to the call ringing constantly in his ears to preach the Gospel. He was licensed as a local preacher in 1842. Two years after he was admitted on trial in the New Jersey Conference, and for forty-five years without a break in his work continued to fill, with remarkable diligence, his appointments in the New Jersey and subsequently the Newark Conference. His fields of labor were as follows: Freehold, Bethel, Vernon (Verona), Union Street, Newark; Dover and Millbrook, Perth Amboy, New Providence, Hackettstown, Woodrow, Harmony, Wantage and Deckertown, Pine Brook, Peapack, Clinton, Suckasunna, Asbury, Franklin, Spring Valley, Campgaw and Saddle River, Stony Point, Buttsville, Lafayette, Baskingridge. In 1889 he was granted a supernumerary relation and removed to Newark. In form he was tall and graceful, he had a commanding presence and with an expressive eye, a deep, melodious voice, a face full of sunshine. He was calm and deliberate in his demeanor, but was clear and incisive in thought. Both the temporal and the spiritual interests of the Church prospered in his hands. The lasting fruits of many gracious revivals survive him. He carefully scanned all the proceedings of the Annual and General Conferences, and was well read in the history of his Church. On the floor of the Annual Conference he was a forceful debater, nothing passed unnoticed his critical ear. During the late rebellion, while surrounded with those who sympathized with the nation's enemies, no threats of diminished support could suppress his patriotic utterances. He was a fearless advocate of the cause of total abstinence and the sworn foe of the rum traffic. In 1847, while stationed in Newark, he became acquainted with Miss Margaret Force, daughter of Hon. Edward Force, of Arcola, whom he married in 1850. In his home he shone as the central light; it was a model Christian home over which, without warning, death cast its shadow on November 23. During the day he had been reclining on his couch reading at intervals. In the evening God called for him; he entered the chariot "and was not, for God took him."

Savannah Conference.

A. C. White was born in Jones County, Ga., April 14, 1845. He was converted at Blackshear, Ga., in 1866, entered the Conference in 1875, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Scott in 1876, and elder by Bishop Simpson in 1881. He served the following charges: Bullock, Montgomery, Apling, Camden, Burke, Jesup, Brunswick Circuit, and Baxley. He was located in 1890, and died November 8, 1893. He did his work well, and went up on high with his sword worn from recent fight.

Central Missouri Conference.

Andrew Ramsey was born near Columbus, Mo., about fifty-five years ago, and died at Manhattan, Kan., April 5, 1893. He joined the Church at Halden, Mo., in 1874, and the same year was licensed to preach. In 1875 he was received on probation. His first appointment was the Wellington Circuit. He afterward served the following charges and circuits: Butler, Rebonan, Smithton, Farmington, Carthage, Slater and Arrow Rock Circuit, Troy, Manhattan and Marengo. At the last appointment he only had time to make one round on his work before the icy hand of death was laid upon him, and in less than three days his illness proved fatal. During his ministry many souls were led to Christ. He was a good preacher, a faithful pastor, and a Christian gentleman.

New England Southern Conf.

Lozien Pierce was born at Peru, Mass., December 11, 1804, and was as truly "born again" in May, 1826. He received a fair education under limited advantages, felt the call to preach early, and was admitted on trial into the New England Conference in 1835, and became a member of the New England Southern Conference at its organization in 1841. His appointments were as follows: Square Pond and Willington, Hebron, Mansfield and Bolton, Bolton and Tolland, Bozrah and Montville, Glastonbury and Wassuc, Mansfield, East Hampton and Portland, South Truro, Marshfield, Windsorville, Lyme and East Lyme. In 1861 he was superannuated and for twenty-five years resided at Moodus, Conn. An ardent lover of Methodist literature, doctrines, and discipline, and faithful to the last. He died April 27, 1893, leaving a widow, Aurelia E. Pierce, to survive him. Possessing a fine physique, a commanding voice, an intense personality, and an unwavering faith in God and the triumph of divine truth, he was a tower of strength wherever his influence reached. Against intemperance, Sabbath desecration, and infidelity he was especially pronounced and aggressive. His end was most fitting the close of so long and glorious a warfare. While confined to the house all winter and growing more feeble as the end approached, yet his commanding figure, softened by age, could be seen in his accustomed chair or at his familiar desk. But on Sunday, April 23, 1893, in no pain or disease, he voluntarily took his bed, lingered through four days of contentment, often approaching rapture, and died on the evening of Thursday. When told that his end was near, and asked if he was prepared, he paused a moment as if to weigh the answer, which was given in his full deep voice, "Perfectly." He was in the royal line of those heroic pioneers who built the massive foundations of our Methodism.

John Livesey was born June 24, 1820, in Bradford, England. He was dedicated to God by baptism in infancy. He was brought to Fall River, Mass., when a child, where he was converted and united with the Church in his sixteenth year. In 1842 he was licensed to preach, and two years later was received as probationer in the Providence Conference. In 1846 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Waugh, and in 1848 was ordained elder by Bishop Hedding. His fields of labor were as follows: New Bedford, Pleasant Street, Nantucket, Fair Street, Danielsonville, Northwest Bridgewater, North Bridgewater, Provincetown, Wesley Chapel, Falmouth, supernumerary, South Somerset, Centerville, Willimantic, Norwich, Sachem Street, New Bedford, Allen Street, Centerville and Maquoketa, Ia.; Warren, Power Street, Providence; Asbury Church, Providence; supernumerary, Washington, supernumerary, Sandwich, Stoughton, Dighton, Campello, Vernon Depot, South Somerset, South Middleboro, Myrickville, supernumerary, Wareham and East Wareham, supernumerary, Westport Point, Millville, Fall River, North Church. Failing health obliged him to ask for a superannuated relation at the last Conference. He hoped that rest would restore his strength, but he returned from Conference only to grow weaker, till, on June 27, 1893, he passed to his reward. He was the first pastor of the Pleasant Street Church, which he organized in 1843. In it his last public utterance was made and his funeral held. Among the prominent traits of his character were courage, intellectual and moral honesty, a transparent purity, a habit of painstaking, loyalty to God, to truth, and to his brethren, and withal a humility and courteousness which marked him as a true Christian. He was for many years a consistent advocate of perfect love, and adorned the profession by his life. He labored faithfully as a preacher to bring forth stores new and old. Having at no time a large salary he yet secured a large library; and though his early advantages were meager he acquired a ready use of language, and was familiar with the best thought of the day. A visit to his sick chamber was always a means of grace to the visitor. When informed that the end was near he said, "I know it, and I am ready." And so he passed away in the full assurance of faith, an Israelite without guile.

Edward H. Hatfield was born in Westchester County, N. Y., August 13, 1821, and died at Tacoma, Wash., October 18, 1893, leaving a widow and daughter to mourn his loss. On both his father's and mother's side his antecedents were devout Methodists. His grandparents were converted under the labors of Benjamin Abbott and his colaborers. From boyhood he was of a serious turn of mind. When about eighteen, during a revival at White Plains, he entered the Christian life. His call to the ministry dawned upon him soon after his conversion. Years of restless struggle ensued, during which time he engaged in business and won the fullest assurance of wealth and social position. So greatly was he exercised, however, on the question of his mission that his life, with all its material possession and promise, became unsatisfactory and at times almost unbearable. On a bed of sickness and near the gates of death he yielded to his convictions and dedicated his life to the ministry. He at once began preparation, entering our institutions of learning, and in 1847 received his first appointment in connection with the Conference. During thirty years he served many of our most influential churches. As a preacher he had but few equals. His public efforts always revealed extensive research, faultless logic, and forcible, eloquent expression. From the first, like his Lord, he was distinctively the reformer. Great as was his struggle in entering the ministry, none but God can know how much greater his suffering when compelled to retire from active service. Those best acquainted with him know something of the "Gethsemane" through which for years he passed. To the last, even in great feebleness, he found his greatest delight in occasional opportunities for preaching. Those who knew him will cherish his memory and draw inspiration from his virtues.

JAMES MATHER was born in Leigh, Lancashire, England, May 12, 1813, and died at Plymouth, Mass., February 6, 1894. He was baptized in 1813 in the Wesleyan Chapel at Bedford; he was converted at Leigh in 1830, and there received into the Church the following year. He was licensed a local preacher at Leigh in 1836, and at once began to preach on the plan of a Wesleyan circuit. He continued for seven years preaching in and around the city of Manchester. On the advice of the Rev. Robert Newton, then Missionary Secretary, who had just returned from the United States, he in 1843 came to this country. At once taking work within the Conference, he continued annually to receive his appointments till 1888, when he took a supernumerary relation; the following year he was made effective and sent to Millville, but in 1890 he was superannuated, which relation he held till his death. He was ordained a deacon in 1844 by Bishop Janes, and an elder in 1848 by Bishop Hedding. The following charges were served by him: North Attleboro, Hebron, Plainfield, West Thompson, Norwich, Sachem Street, Stafford Springs, Warehouse Point, Fourth Street, New Bedford; Pawtucket, Power Street, Providence; Center Church, Taunton; Wellfleet, Hazardville, Putnam, North Manchester, South Harwich, Cochcset, Scituate, Hazardville again, East Greenwich, Presiding Elder of New Bedford District, Presiding Elder of Norwich District, Stoughton, Middletown, Nantasket, Drownville, supernumerary, Millville. From the beginning he took high rank in the Conference; he held the office of presiding elder for six successive years, and was delegate to the General Conference in 1868. After his retirement he resided at Hyde Park, Mass., where he held a high place in the regards of the people. He was to the end a young man in spirit, living in memories of the past far less than present experiences, and in anticipations of a better day. At his last sermon, preached to a small congregation in a schoolhouse, he was made happy in seeing a young man converted. He belonged on his father's side to that distinguished family of Mathers so influential in shaping the religious constitution of New England during the early colonial period. On his mother's side he belonged to a family that produced many noted Wesleyan preachers, his maternal grandmother counting among her descendants no less than nine such, three of these his uncles, two of them his brothers, three of them his cousins, and one of them his son. Coming of such stock he was by instinct a preacher. He was gifted with high intellectual endowments and more than ordinary literary ability. He was well read in a wide and varied field. He exhibited goodness in his face, his word, and his deed. He was of a singularly unselfish nature, and full of brotherliness. He fought a good fight, he kept the faith, he finished his course with great honor, he is crowned with righteousness. We loved him as a brother and a father in our Israel. We are sad that he is no longer seen of us. We rejoice that he hath his reward with the glorified.

NOTE.—No obituaries have been received from the following Conferences: Alabama, Central Alabama, Delaware, East German, East Maine, Lexington, Louisiana, New Jersey, Northern New York, North India, North Indiana, South Carolina, Troy, Upper Mississippi, Vermont, Virginia.

OBITUARIES.

Cincinnati Conference.

David Harrison Sargent was born on a farm near Parkersburg, Va., July 24, 1817, and died at his home near Lebanon, O., August 10, 1894. The country in his youth gave few opportunities for an education. He was fortunate, however, to be able to attend an academy at Parkersburg, where he alternated between the cooper's shop and the school room. During these years at the academy the Quarterly Conference of the church where he worshiped gave him license to preach. He was greatly surprised, but through their kindly entreaties and encouragement, emphasized by an inward conviction of duty, he consented to accept and use his license. In September, 1843, he was received on probation in the Ohio Conference. In 1846 he was ordained a deacon and received into full connection, and in 1848 was ordained an elder. He filled the following appointments: Milton, Tremont, Johnstown, Tarlton, Logan, Mechanicsburg, Jamestown, Deer Creek, Franklin, Franklin and Miamisburg, Camden, Monroe, North Bend; in the Iowa Conference: Madisonville, Georgetown, North Lewisburg, Bowersville, Highland, supernumerary, Merrittstown, superannuated. In 1857 he was transferred to the Iowa Conference, where his wife and mother of his children died. In 1858 he married Mrs. Lizzie Spangenberg, who survives him. Physically he had a large, symmetrical frame, with well-knit muscle, and his presence was distinguished. His religious life impressed itself on those about him; his judgment and statements of his own religious life were humble and grateful. His preaching was logical, his thoughts consecutive and orderly. His final sickness was of ten days' duration. He was attacked suddenly and seriously. He suffered greatly, but expressed himself as ready for any issue. On the evening of August 10, 1894, while his Quarterly Conference was in session in his own home, this aged servant of God went to his rest.

Alfred Uriah Beall, son of Charles and Sarah Beall, was born in Preble County, O., October 13, 1827. At the age of six years he was left, by his father's death, to the sole care of his mother with her four sons and two daughters. Industry, frugality, and piety characterized that home. In his youth he taught school, and by his diligence in study and reading laid the foundation for his choice vocabulary, and prepared his facile pen for future work. He was under pungent conviction for a year, and then (to quote from his journal) "I joined the Church, sought the Lord in the pardon of my sins, and was found of him, September 27, 1848." He was received on trial in the Ohio Conference August 24, 1850, and appointed junior preacher on North Lewisburg Circuit; the next year he served Goshen in the same capacity. On the formation of the Cincinnati Conference in 1852 he was appointed to West Union. He afterward served Batavia, Asbury and New Street, Cincinnati; Milford, Camden, Red Lion and Springboro, Amelia. He then became chaplain of the Ninety-eighth Ohio Volunteer Infantry. His after appointments were North Bend, New Carlisle, Tippecanoe, Miamisburg, Wilmington, North Lewisburg, Monroe, McKendree, Cincinnati; Red Lion and Springboro, Greenfield, Mechanicsburg, Newport (Kentucky Conference), Miamisburg, Asbury, Cincinnati; Cheviot. Here in the third year of his successful pastorate his shattered health necessitated a sojourn in Florida, but the fountain of youth was not in the land of flowers, and he returned to his parsonage home to pass away to the home of the glorified. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes in 1852, and elder by Bishop Scott in 1854. He married Melissa E. Cavin, July 31, 1856, who is now left with a son and two daughters. Fragile in constitution, for over forty-three years, with but one intermission of less than two years, he did well the work of an itinerant Methodist minister. Revivals were frequent under his ministry, and the material prosperity of the churches were advanced. He was a judicious reader of the best literature and a discriminating and original thinker. His analytical power was extraordinary and his vocabulary extensive. In his extemporaneous utterances and in his carefully prepared papers for Conferences, ministerial associations, or the press, to which he frequently contributed by editorial invitation, he clearly perceived and deftly presented the points at issue. In the pulpit, with fervid utterance, easy gesture, and copious diction, he left no hearer in doubt as to the sincerity of his faith in the efficacy of the Gospel which he preached. In his last illness he suggested that the word "communion" instead of "prayer" be used as indicating "communion" with the Holy Trinity. Once when lying quiet he said, "Isn't it pretty?" "What?" He answered, "A crown." "Who is holding it?" "I see no hand, only a crown." He died May 19, 1894. His body rests in the cemetery at Piqua, O.

Saint Louis German Conference.

J. C. Baumgarten was born September 17, 1833, at Burkow, Neustadt, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Germany. He came to America in 1855, was converted at Columbus, Wis., under Rev. J. Haas, was married to Mina Kallenbach, joined the Illinois Conference in 1860, served thirty-four years at different places, and died April 28, 1894.

C. G. Becker was born February 27, 1837, at Poppendorf, Sachsen-Weimar, Germany. He was confirmed in the Lutheran Church, and emigrated with his parents and brothers when fifteen years old to North America. He was converted in 1856, joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and in September, 1859, he was licensed as a local preacher in Blue Island, Wis. In the fall of 1860 he joined the Rock River Conference on probation. In 1863 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Scott, and 1865 elder by Bishop Baker. He served the Church for twenty-four years as an effective preacher, and died February 3, 1894, at Denver, Colo.

Christian Peisch was born August 2, 1837, at Mittelgruende, Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, of Christian parents, came to America in 1849, and settled at Schullsburg, Pa. He was converted at a camp meeting near Iowa City, Ia., June 17, 1861. He served eighteen years at different places. He died on Easter Sunday in 1894, in living faith on the Lord Jesus Christ.

Philip Skaer was born on September 14, 1850, in Marrheim, Rhine Province, Germany. He was trained in a Christian home. At the age of nineteen years he came to this country, making his home with an uncle at Summerfield, Ill., where he joined our Church. Thence he went to our Central Wesleyan College to study the English language, and there was converted. He now felt that God had called him to the ministry, and in 1871 joined the Saint Louis German Conference, where he served in the active work twenty years. He was an able preacher and a successful pastor. He died February 3, 1894, near Nokomis, Ill., in hope of eternal life.

Philip Barth was born October 22, 1818, in Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany. He emigrated with his parents to America in 1831, and settled in Cincinnati, O. He was a very moral and self-righteous young man, but after the conversion of his two brothers he was convicted of his sins, and after seeking the Lord for a long time was finally soundly converted August 8, 1842. Shortly after he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Louisville, Ky. Not long after he received a call from the American Tract Society to sell and distribute religious literature in St. Louis and the State of Missouri. Though his annual salary was but one hundred dollars he gladly followed his call that he might bring souls to Christ. In 1844 he was licensed to preach and received into the Conference. His first appointment was Quincy, Ill., where he built a church and laid the foundation for German Methodism. He afterward filled the following appointments: Chicago, Milwaukee, Quincy, Watertown, Chicago, Terre Haute, Nashville, Pilot Knob, New Orleans, Waco, Iowa City, Rock Island, Harper, Arenzville, Emden, Springfield, and Hannibal. He built churches in Quincy, Chicago, Nashville, New Orleans, Iowa City, and Springfield. As a preacher he was somewhat quiet, but at the same time very earnest. As a revivalist he labored with good success, often, while preaching, his hearers being convicted of their sins and converted. In 1844 he married Wilhelmine Katherine Maas, who preceded him in death five years ago. Five children survive, of whom Rev. J. L. J. Barth, of the Saint Louis German Conference, is the oldest. In February, 1894, he had a stroke of paralysis, and on March 6 of the same year a second, when his life peacefully ended after a pilgrimage of seventy-five years, four months, and thirteen days.

Pittsburg Conference.

John Huston was born May 20, 1811, in Ireland, and died March 12, 1894, in East Liverpool, O. On June 10, 1828, he was happily converted, and straightway began to prepare himself for his life work. By great diligence he became a good scholar, and in the Wesleyan Church of his native land began to teach and preach. While yet a young man he came to Ohio, and for some time preached as he found an open door with great acceptability. He was admitted on trial in the Pittsburg Conference in 1843, and appointed to Sewickley Circuit. His following appointments were: Columbiana, Hanover, Lima, Petersburg, East Liverpool, Leesburg, Washington and Cambridge, Uhrichsville, Adamsville, Smithfield, Springfield, Wintersville, Salineville, Elkton, Bentleysville, Carmichaelsville, Penn Station, Elderton, Stahlstown. In 1885 a superannuated relation was granted him, which he held to the close of his life. In 1847 he married Jane McCready, who, with five children, survives him. One who knew him well has said: "His sterling worth, his manliness, his unswerving fidelity to his vows as a minister of the Gospel, the simplicity, sincerity, and modesty of his nature were above all human praise. His ministry was largely successful; hundreds are now in the Church whom he brought to Christ. Irreproachable in life, uncomplaining and heroic in his work, he has gone to be with Christ, which is far better."

W. W. Roup died in Wilkinsburg, Pa., August 28, 1894. He was admitted to the Pittsburg Conference in 1849, and served the following charges: Hanover, Clarington, Stafford, Senecaville, Morgan, Black Lick, Ligonier, Latrobe, West Newton, Tarentum, Wilkinsburg, Sandy Creek, Penn Station, Greensburg, Port Perry, St. Paul, Pittsburg; Squirrel Hill, and Carpenter's. In 1880 he received a superannuated relation, after this time being occasionally employed as a supply. He was a good thinker, a genial companion, a man of strong convictions and courage. He was a great reader and kept in touch with the advance movements of the times. He died in the assurance of his acceptance with the Lord.

William F. Lauck was born in Brooke County, W. Va., August 30, 1816, and died January 31, 1894, in Beaver, Pa. His father, the Rev. Simon Lauck, joined the Baltimore Conference in 1808, when Asbury and McKendree were the only bishops in the Church. While yet a youth he was converted and united with the Church. In 1838 he was admitted into the Pittsburg Conference as one of a class of fifteen, of whom but two survive. At his death his name was the longest on the roll of the Pittsburg Conference, with one exception. On December 9, 1844, he was married to Miss Sarah J. Benney, of Pittsburg, who, with six daughters, survives. In his prime he was a man of impressive physique. In the pulpit his words were so plain that the most ignorant could understand, but were always dignified. He was indefatigable in pastoral work, and was eminently successful in strengthening the churches he served. Almost from the beginning his ability and devotion were recognized, and he was appointed to such prominent charges as Blairsville, Johnstown, East Liberty, and Smithfield Street, Pittsburg. At the close of his first year in Johnstown he was elected a delegate to the General Conference of 1856. He was effective for forty-five years, supernumerary for two years, and superannuated since 1884. Thenceforth he steadily declined in health, but even to his last sickness of but three days, when the power of communication with his friends was gone, his faith in Christ and devotion to his cause remained unshaken. In his death the work of a godly minister is ended.

William Johnson was born in Harrison County, O., November 30, 1827. When fourteen he was happily converted at a camp meeting held in his native county, and immediately connected himself with the Church. In 1853 he was admitted to the Pittsburg Conference, remaining on the effective list till death called him to the larger brotherhood of the skies. In 1856 he married Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, who, with an only daughter, still survives. He had a logical mind and possessed controversial powers of a high order. He delighted in preaching the great doctrines of the Gospel and to meet in debate the opposers of the faith. Invariably he came out of these encounters with credit to himself and the cause he represented. During his ministry he served the following charges: Deersville, Liberty, Georgeville, Brownsville, Hanover, Sandyville, Bloomfield, Allegheny City, Unionville, Redstone, California and Greenfield, Mechanicsburg, Port Perry and Carpenter's, Sardis, Pleasant Valley, Noblestown and Midway, Simpson's Chapel, Allegheny, Natron, and Brushton. Shortly after his appointment to Brushton his health, already shattered, began to be seriously impaired. On Easter Sunday, March 25, 1894, under a complication of diseases, he died. He was not aware of the near approach of death till the morning of that day, when his wife broke to him the intelligence. "I am not afraid to die," he said; "it is all right." A little later he said to his daughter, "This is the most melancholy day you have ever had; to me it is the most triumphant. For to me to live is Christ, to die is gain. O, glorious gain!" So this veteran minister of Christ surrendered his spirit and went to receive his crown.

Wisconsin Conference.

GEORGE W. DE LA MATYR'S nativity was March 2, 1829, in Chenango County, N. Y., his demise at Bishop, Cal., November 5, 1893. He was the fourth of six brothers, four of whom entered the Methodist ministry. His father also was a local preacher. While a boy the family settled in Western New York, where at sixteen years of age he united with the Church. He afterward attended Genesee Wesleyan Seminary. He was married in 1853 and moved to Wisconsin. Here, after teaching a short time, he united with the Wisconsin Conference, and continued in this relation till he removed to Nebraska in 1871. Sun Prairie, Burnett, Evansville, and Delavan profited by his ministry. The churches in Burnett and Evansville were erected during his pastorate. After a period of rest in Nebraska he was stationed in Omaha and Fremont and on Omaha District. His ill health induced his removal to Nevada, where he served as pastor, and was then made superintendent of the mission. For five years he traveled over the mountains of Nevada and eastern California, not receiving enough to pay his expenses, and putting hundreds of dollars of his own into the work. He was long president of the board of trustees of Inyo Academy, at Bishop, Cal., and for his last four years its financial agent. A local paper said, "If ever a man equaled all that nature's nobleman implies, that man was George W. De La Matyr." A self-sacrificing, noble Christian, a successful workman, an excellent preacher, he has gone to hear the Master say, "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

SAMUEL C. THOMAS was born in Niagara County, N. Y., March 7, 1810, and died in Starke, Fla., June 5, 1894. On September 10, 1829, he married Miss Isabella B. Dunlap, in Belfontain, Pa., who survives him. About 1833 he moved to Meadville, where he was converted and joined the Church. In 1841 he was received on trial in the Erie Conference, in which he continued for ten years, three of which were devoted to the agency of Allegheny College. In 1851 he was transferred to Wisconsin Conference, and stationed at Spring Street (now Grand Avenue), Milwaukee. His subsequent appointments were: Plattville District, Summerfield Church, Milwaukee; Financial Agent of Lawrence University, Summerfield again, Endowment Agent of Lawrence University, Presiding Elder on Milwaukee and Janesville Districts, Fort Atkinson, Lyons and Spring Prairie, Elkhorn, Sharon, and East Troy. In 1880 he was a supernumerary, and from 1882 a superannuate. He was a man of warm sympathies and commanded universal respect. He was nine years an agent of colleges, ten a presiding elder, and a representative in the General Conferences of 1860, 1864, and 1868. Hoping to lessen the severity of chronic complaints, he spent several years in Florida. To a brother who visited him a few months before his departure, he expressed strong assurance of present salvation. His aged and feeble wife testifies that this triumph continued to the last.

Rock River Conference.

HENRY LEA was born in Calne, Wiltshire, England, December 26, 1853. In 1870 he came to America with his parents and settled in Elgin, Ill., where he resided until 1881. In August, 1877, he married Jessie E. Whitford, of Elgin, who, with her three little children, mourns his untimely departure. He was converted at the age of fourteen, and was ever a zealous worker for Christ. He was licensed a local preacher in 1879. He was appointed to Dundee under the presiding elder in 1881, and the next year united with the Rock River Conference. In 1883 he was ordained local deacon by Bishop Foss. In 1884 he was admitted into full connection, and in 1886 was ordained elder by Bishop Merrill. After joining the Conference he served two more years at Dundee. In 1884 he was appointed to Palatine; in 1887 to Woodstock, in 1889 to Winnebago Street, Rockford, and in 1891 he received his last appointment to Plano. All the material interests of the churches he had served received his thoughtful attention. In Dundee he built a church, at Palatine a parsonage; in Woodstock he remodeled the church. He was wonderfully alert to seize and use every agency by which the public could be reached, and was full of resources to hold the interest of his congregation. He was a simple-hearted, clean-souled, Christian gentleman. No charge that he served failed to feel the impulse of his enthusiasm and revival spirit. Gifted in music and passionately fond of Christian song, he sung his way into the hearts of thousands in churches, camp meetings, and religious gatherings. He never entered upon a year with larger hopes than the last year of his life, and was never more unsparing of self, even against the remonstrance of his physician, until, at his last service, he was helped, exhausted and fainting, from the church. His disease assumed great severity from the first. He desired to live, but was more desirous that the will of God should be done. The old habit of his life was strong upon him in those last days, and he liked nothing better than the voice of song at his bed. Amid the scenes of his lastest labors, in the presence of many whom he had led to Christ, the farewells were spoken, and he went home.

ORA A. WALKER, familiarly known throughout Bureau County, Ill., where he had lived for thirty-five years, as "Elder Walker," died in Princeton, Ill., Sunday morning, July 29, 1894, after an illness of about two weeks. Although eighty-seven years old he was hale and hearty until within a few days of his death. He was born in South Adams, Mass., June 13, 1807. At the age of seventeen he came West, locating at Saybrook, O. He was hopefully converted to God when twenty-six. On June 18, 1836, he was licensed as an exhorter. In 1837 he came to Illinois, and was again granted exhorter's license, August 19, 1837. On August 31, 1838, he was made a local preacher. In 1839 he joined the Illinois Conference and was appointed preacher in charge of Crystal Lake Circuit. In 1840 the Illinois Conference was divided, and the Rock River Conference was formed out of the northern part of its territory, and in the division he fell into Rock River Conference. In 1841 he was admitted into full connection. In 1841 and 1842 he served the Wheeling Circuit. At the Conference of 1843 he was ordained an elder. His remaining appointments were: Naperville, Joliet, Princeton, Mount Morris, Presiding Elder of Joliet District, Plainfield, Presiding Elder of Ottawa District. In 1859 he was appointed pastor at Dover, and supplied that point one year, with his home at Princeton, where he had resided during his last term as presiding elder. In 1860 he was given a superannuated relation. On August 20, 1829, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary A. Staples, who for sixty-five years has bravely shared with him his varied history, and is now left to complete the journey alone. Five children are still living.

Indiana Conference.

CALVIN LEE was born near Salem, Ind., March, 1821, and died on his way home from church in Terre Haute, Ind., Sunday, October 15, 1893. He was admitted to the Indiana Conference on trial at Evansville, Ind., in October, 1853, with four others, James B. Admire, Thomas A. Whitted, John Laverty, and Ransford B. Spencer, Bishop Ames presiding. Brother Lee was a good preacher, and looked well to all the interests of the churches on the charges which he served. He was given a superannuated relation in 1884. In taking this relation he lost none of his zeal for the Master's work. Being located in Terre Haute, Ind., he took great interest in the Methodism of that city, especially the mission work of First Methodist Episcopal Church (Asbury). He had held services at the mission on the Sunday evening of his death. His last work was to preach the unsearchable riches of the Gospel and invite sinners to come to Christ. He was married twice; both his companions preceded him to the other land. He leaves no children. He lived in Terre Haute thirty years. He owned a beautiful little cottage home, well furnished, and lived alone by preference during his last days. He was a man of many friends. Pure and true and brave was our departed brother.

Daniel M. Smith was born March 28, 1811. In 1856 at a camp meeting held near Natchez, Ind., he was "born of the Spirit," and realized his acceptance with God; from that time until death he "kept the faith." He was a good man, "full of faith" and good works. He was licensed to preach by the late Rev. Hayden Hays in 1856. In 1857 he was admitted on trial in the Indiana Conference. He was appointed to the following fields of labor: Natchez, Fairfax, Solsberry, Otwell, Leavenworth, Loogootee, Bloomington Circuit, Waverly, Quincy, Newark, Simpson Church, Evansville; Campbellsburg. He had much fruit of his labor in the ministry. His soul yearned after the blessing of the higher life, and while on his way to an appointment in 1866 he received the blessing of perfect love and enjoyed it to the end of life. Brother Smith was highly esteemed and dearly loved by his brethren and others in the community where he lived and died. For many years he sustained a superannuated relation to his Conference, enjoying the confidence of all his fellow-ministers. August 30, 1859, he was married to Miss Sarah Averill, who still survives. January 17, 1894, in the town of Shoals, Ind., after a pilgrimage of nearly eighty-three years, he was called to walk through the "valley of death" without a "shadow" to fall upon his pathway. Another good and holy man has entered into rest.

Alexander Martin, the son of James and Janet Urquhart Martin, was born in Nairn, Scotland, January 24, 1822. While a youth he came with his parents to America, settling in Jefferson County, O. He entered Allegheny College and graduated with the highest honors of his class in 1847. He was at once admitted on trial in the Pittsburg Annual Conference and appointed instructor in the Northwestern Virginia Academy, the first probationer, as Bishop Morris stated, to be appointed in an educational institution. In 1849–1851 he was stationed at Charleston, W. Va., and in 1864–1867 he had charge of Fourth Street Church, Wheeling. While there he served as president of the West Virginia Branch of the Christian Commission, and was captured and about to be hanged by Mosby's guerrillas, but was released with their thanks when they learned of his well-known kindness to the Confederate wounded. His next appointment was Parkersburg, but he had scarcely entered on service when he was elected president of the West Virginia University, then to be organized. In this important field he served with recognized distinction for eight years. Brother Martin was eminently successful as a pastor. While pastor of the Moundsville Charge in 1854 he was elected professor of Greek in Allegheny College, and remained in office ten years. Before this he had been elected principal of the academy where he had previously served as instructor. In 1875 he was elected president of Indiana Asbury (now De Pauw) University. During his management the institution was wonderfully developed, so that when he resigned the presidency in 1889 the school had attained a national reputation and offered the means of education for more than a thousand students. After most assiduous labors he asked to be relieved from the exhausting task of supervision to devote his remaining days to the professorship of philosophy. During these last four years unusual domestic afflictions befell him, but in them all his Christian character shone forth with marvelous beauty. Called several times to mourn the death or severe suffering of beloved relatives, he yet remained faithful to his duties as an instructor, and when his last illness seized him he missed only two or three class room exercises, and the always busy and ever kind toiler was translated December 16, 1893. He was for several years secretary of the West Virginia Annual Conference. By that Conference he was elected a delegate to the General Conferences of 1868 and 1872, and by the Indiana Conference, to which he was transferred in 1875, he was sent as a delegate in 1884 and 1888. In the General Conference of 1868 he was chairman of the Committee on Correspondence, and in those of 1872 and 1884 he was chairman of the Committee on Education. In that of 1888 he was one of the Fraternal Commission to meet the Presbyterian General Assembly then convened. In 1872 he received a very large vote for editor of the Western Christian Advocate. He was a member of the Ecumenical Conference that met in London and of the Centennial Conference in Baltimore. He received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Ohio Wesleyan University, and that of Doctor of Laws from Allegheny College. He was enthusiastically devoted to his Annual Conference and all its interests, and the brethren of his Conference could count on him as being true to them and their cause. He married Miss Caroline C. Hursey, of Clarksburg, W. Va., in 1853. He leaves a widow and three sons, who fitly enjoy the highest esteem of the whole community.

Central Illinois Conference.

Edward P. Hall was born in the State of Delaware, August 21, 1824. While he was young his parents moved to Ohio, where he was converted and joined the Church in his youth. In 1849 he entered the Ohio Conference, where he spent sixteen years, when he obtained a transfer to the Central Illinois Conference. He subsequently filled the following appointments: Eureka, El Paso, Lexington, Onarga, Presiding Elder of the Normal District, Pontiac, Dwight, Minonk, Lewistown, Elmwood. In 1883 he took a superannuated relation and moved his family to the Normal District camp ground, near Eureka. He subsequently filled the following appointments as supply: Roanoke, Groveland and Morton, Deer Creek. Thus he worked for the Master while he could, though partially blind and burdened with other bodily infirmities. He resided on the Eureka camp ground from 1883 to 1893, when his wife died, and he went to Plaquemine, La., to live with his married daughter. There, with his children, he ended his days, closing a long and useful life on September 6, 1894. He was sanguine in temperament, genial and kind. He was well educated, thought for himself, and preached his own sermons. He had a well-selected library of sufficient scope to give him broad views of the needs of the world. He was faithful in his pastoral work, loyal to the Discipline of his Church, and well versed in the Scriptures. He was highly beloved by his brethren. His experience was clear and positive. He passed peacefully from earth to join the beloved ones on the eternal shores.

Abel C. Price was born in Washington County, Pa., November 4, 1828, and died in Pittsburg, Pa., February 14, 1894. His parents were Friends, but the children were given perfect liberty to choose their Church relations. While attending college at Meadville, Pa., he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. On June 3, 1852, he married Miss Margaret Jameson, who, after nearly forty years, passed from his side to the eternal world. In 1856 he moved to Putnam County, Ill., where he for a time successfully engaged in teaching. He was received on trial in the Peoria (now Central Illinois) Conference in 1856. He was ordained a deacon by Bishop Ames in 1858, and an elder by Bishop Baker in 1860. For twenty-three years he did efficient work in the Conference on the following charges: Mackinaw, Marshall, Hennepin, Monmouth, Toulon, La Prairie Center, Chillicothe, Gardner, Vermont, Bushnell, Metamora, Eureka, Minonk, and Lacon. During his first year at Lacon he was prostrated with inflammatory rheumatism, and in the fall of 1878 he was granted a superannuated relation. For several years afterward he represented the Bible Society in Marshall County, and personally conducted a house-to-house visitation of the entire county. He also did supply work for two or three years where the labor was light. He was a model workman. He planned like a general, and everything he did bore the mark of the most careful study. His preaching was practical and impressive. While not what would be called a revival preacher, God honored his ministry in the salvation of many souls. This was especially so at Phelp's Chapel, where the whole community was swept by the waves of salvation. In the department of Sunday school work he was a master. He was three times honored in being elected a delegate to national Sunday school conventions, and was also a delegate to the Robert Raikes World's International Sunday School Convention in London. He also took great interest in the Chautauqua Scientific and Literary Circle movement, and led many young people by this means to a higher intellectual and spiritual life. In January, 1892, he suffered an attack of la grippe, from which he never fully recovered. Leaving his home in Lacon he went to live with his daughter in Pittsburg, thinking the change might be beneficial, but his physical forces gradually gave way. His daughter, watching by his side, asked, "How does the future look?" His face lit up with triumph and he exclaimed, "O, glorious!" On February 14, 1894, his redeemed spirit was crowned with glory, immortality, and eternal life.

East Tennessee Conference.

Aaron Martin was born in Troup County, Ga., in 1860. He professed religion in his fourteenth year, and soon after joined the Church and was licensed to exhort. In his eighteenth year he was licensed as a local preacher and supplied one or two charges under the presiding elder. In the spring of 1888 he came to Chattanooga, Tenn., and soon after joined the Wiley Memorial Church. In the summer of 1888 he took charge of the Soddy Circuit, where he did earnest work. At the Conference of 1888 he was received on trial, ordained a deacon, and sent to Hill City. The next year he was returned to the same work. In 1890 he was received into full connection in the Conference and sent to Knoxville Circuit; in 1891 he was returned to the same work. In 1892 he was ordained elder and sent on the Athens and Sweetwater Circuit, but was afterward moved to Churchville, where he did his last work in the ministry. He suffered much, but bore his pain with patience. He had a great desire to see his brother ministers, and said, "Tell them to preach a pure gospel: tell them I am purified by the blood of Jesus Christ." He died on December 10, 1893.

Oregon Conference.

Hiram Paulding Satchwell was born in Barker, N. Y., July 15, 1830, and died in Newburg, Ore., February 1, 1894. Like many other leaders of society he was born of humble parentage, and was one of a numerous family. He lost his mother, whose memory he reverently cherished, at the early age of twelve. In the double attempt to provide sustenance and education he left the parental roof at seventeen. At first he attended the public school. He then taught, and was soon afterward an assistant in an academy. By these agencies and by earnest study, having prepared for college, he entered Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., and graduated therefrom in 1857. Through this protracted course of study every dollar of expenses he earned himself. He was always a diligent student and held an honorable place in all his classes. He was drawn toward Christ at ten, was converted at twelve, and made public profession of religion at fifteen. He entered the Biblical Institute at Concord, N. H., in 1857, and completed its three years' course in two years. He joined the New England Conference in April, 1859, having previously married Miss Mary E. Jewett, of Bryantville, Mass., who, with three sons and one daughter, survives. He was ordained deacon April 7, 1861, by Bishop Baker, and elder by Bishop Scott, April 5, 1863. He was for nine years connected with the New England Conference, his appointments being: Shrewsbury, Warren, East Templeton, Monson, and Wilbraham. At this last place he laid the foundation of the beautiful Memorial Church. During the war he devoted six weeks' service in the Christian Commission in Frederick City, Md. Considerations of health led to his transfer to the Kansas Conference in 1867. He was stationed at Ottawa, where a gracious revival crowned his work. At the close of this year he became professor of mathematics in Baker University, Baldwin, Kan. He remained here but one year, serving as president part of the time. His next stations were Oskaloosa and Pleasanton. His health again compelling his removal northward, he was transferred to the Minnesota Conference in 1871. Here his appointments were: Lake Crystal, Saint Paul, Rochester, Zumbrota, Marshall, and Granite Falls. At Lake Crystal, a circuit of six appointments, a gracious revival was enjoyed at each place during the winter. At a point connected with the Zumbrota Charge a revival of special power was enjoyed. At Saint Paul the Grace Church building enterprise was inaugurated. Failing to find improved health, he then located for three years, the only gap in an active ministry of thirty-five years. He then went to the Pacific Coast in September, 1886, and took work under the presiding elder. In August, 1887, he joined the Oregon Conference, where he served McMinnville, Ashland, Corvallis, Roseburg, and Halsey. During his year at Halsey his health failed, and at the next Conference he took a superannuated relation and repaired with his family to Newburg, Ore. His decline covered a period of fifteen months, but was borne with remarkable fortitude. When it became apparent that his departure was near there was no surprise or dread. He was not demonstrative in his active ministry, but was now permitted to live in the spirit and expression of exultant praise. "The Christian's hope is no dream," he said; "I have peace and glory." Later he said, "Earth is gone; I am going up—I am almost there." Soon after his release came. He was a man of high character. A lofty ideal was ever before him. To be consistent, diligent, faithful, was the whole aim of his life. He was quiet in his methods, modest and retiring, and everywhere commanded the fullest confidence of those who knew him best. He sought great themes which contain the marrow of the Gospel. His style was argumentative and philosophical rather than hortatory. Few have lived a nobler, purer life, or devoted more conscientiously all their powers to the ministry of the word.

Michigan Conference.

E. H. Day was born at Springwaite, N. Y., June 15, 1818. He was converted while young, and joined the Church. He was married at Austinburg, O., September 19, 1842, to Miss Harriet Brockway, who died July 23, 1890. He joined the Michigan Conference in 1845, and was appointed a missionary among the Indians at Fond Du Lac, Minn., almost a thousand miles away, not far from the present cities of Duluth and Superior. Here he remained three years, during which he passed through incidents both thrilling and pathetic. He was next sent to organize the work at the Cliff copper mine, on the upper peninsula of Michigan, where he remained two years. He was next sent seventy-five miles further west, to Ontonagon, where he remained another two years. The incidents illustrative of his devotion, exposure, and successes among the mines and miners of the upper peninsula are stirring. In the midst of winter rigors and with snowshoes, hatchet and gun, hymn book and Bible, he would start upon a trail in the woods to reach an appointment eighteen miles away for Christ's sake. He was next sent to the lower peninsula to the Indians of Allegan and adjoining counties. Then for nearly forty years more he served charges in almost every part of the Michigan Conference. His last charge was Lawton, on the Niles District. He was over seventy when appointed to this work, but had not yet reached the "dead line." He continued in this charge for five years, when he asked for and received a superannuated relation. He suffered much during the six days of his last illness, and just before dying said, "I expect to send up a shout as soon as I get over the river." His culture was above the average of the preachers of his time. He had a lively imagination and excelled in descriptive power. His preaching was not so much doctrinal as evangelistic, and great revivals came out of his ministry. Thousands of souls were brought into the kingdom of our Lord through his ministrations. He died at Cadillac, Mich., March 31, 1894. In his decease the Michigan Conference lost one of its oldest and most heroic men.

Francis Glass was born in Crieve, Ireland, April 5, 1812, and died in Grand Rapids, Mich., December 11, 1893. He was early converted, and was licensed to preach in the Wesleyan Methodist Church while yet in his teens. He was two years a missionary in Australia, and was under appointment to missionary work among the Fiji Islanders, but Providence ordered otherwise. He came to Michigan in 1845, took work under the elder, and joined the Conference the following year. Among his appointments were: Port Huron, Allegan, Buchanan, Schoolcraft, Rockford, Greenville, Hastings, Lowell, Charlotte, Portland, Mason, Eaton Rapids, Holland, and Saranac. At the last place a throat difficulty compelled him to superannuate. He was a master theologian, a deeply spiritual man, a loyal Methodist, an able preacher. In 1852 he married Mrs. Mary L. Darling, of Paris, Mich., who, with her daughter, survives.

Elisha Marble was born in Adams, N. Y., May 25, 1822, and died in Harbor Springs, Mich., March 29, 1894. His father dying when he was four, he was committed to the care of grandparents and uncles, who brought him to Michigan in 1834, where he spent the remainder of his life. In March, 1839, he was converted and joined the Church. On April 24, 1845, he married Miss Olivia Ann Kroah, who, with their two children, survives. In 1850 he was licensed to preach, and for eight years did efficient work as a local preacher. He joined the Michigan Conference in 1858, and was appointed to the Penfield Circuit, where he served one year. His subsequent appointments were: Woodland, Otisco, Lowell, Middleville, Allegan, Richland, Schoolcraft, Leroy, Burlington, Litchfield, Moscow, Allen, Concord, Kinderhook, and Harbor Springs, where he finished his labor in the effective ranks. After his superannuation, in 1884, he was still active, serving as preacher in charge at Kalkaska eight months and at Mackinaw City eighteen months. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson in 1860, and elder by Bishop Scott in 1862. He was a strong preacher, a painstaking pastor, a fine musician, a devoted minister, spotless in character and triumphant in faith.

Ashel C. Beach was born in Hamilton, N. Y., May 1, 1822, and died at Belding, Mich., December 25, 1893. In 1838 he moved with his parents to Michigan and settled in Monroe County. He was converted at thirty-two. In 1854 he united with the Church, and the same year entered the Michigan Conference on trial in a class of twenty-six. His appointments were: New Buffalo, Decatur, Oshtemo, Wayland, Flat River, Kelloggsville, superannuated, Leonidas, Leonidas again, superannuated again, Waverly, Hersey, Mount Pleasant, Pierson and Sand Lake, Pierson, superannuated again. He was ordained deacon in 1857 and elder in 1861. He was a faithful, pure-hearted, loyal minister. He enjoyed the fullest esteem of his brethren and the people he served. His sickness was long and severe, but he died in the triumphs of Christian faith.

Stephen M. Merritt entered into rest November 20, 1893, in Coldwater, Mich. He was born in the State of New York May 6, 1826. He was converted at sixteen, and at nineteen was licensed as an exhorter. In 1854 he entered the East Genesee Conference as a probationer. In 1877 he was transferred to the Michigan Conference and spent eight years in active work, filling appointments at Hanover, Moscow, Concord, Tekonsha, Springport, and Allen. At this period, on account of ill health, he took a supernumerary relation and became a resident of Coldwater, where his usefulness continued in local work. He was twice married. He was a consistent and sweet-spirited Christian. For a number of years he enjoyed the higher blessing of Christian love. While his sufferings were intense he never for a moment complained, but through the weary months was loyal to his profession and longed for the time to be called home.

Oresta S. Paddock was born in Oswego County, N. Y., August 31, 1849, and died May 28, 1894. He was converted at nineteen. Four years later he married Elizabeth Hayner, who survives him. After his marriage he spent two years at Ives Seminary, and then labored four years as an evangelist in New York State. He entered the Michigan Conference in 1878. His appointments were: Sherwood and Athens, Butler, Burlington, Burr Oak, Allen, Bloomingdale, Litchfield, Bellevue, Hanover, and Moscow. In all these charges his ministry was attended with revivals. Hanover, in some respects, was the field of his greatest triumph, as well as the place of his death. During his last six years there were gathered into the Church through his agency about eight hundred souls. He belonged to a family of ministers. His father was in the Genesee Conference. William Paddock, of the Michigan Conference, is his brother. Three of his uncles were in the New York Conference. His sickness lasted about ten days. The news of his approaching death came to him without surprise. He said, "If I am to go it is all right; my Father knows best." On his casket was the inscription, "Rest." Fit emblem. He worked hard, and so God let him rest soon.

M. W. F. Smith was born in Magnolia, Ill., June 22, 1847, and died at Potterville, Mich., September 17, 1893. He was the son of a preacher of the Iowa Conference, and was converted at ten. He received his education at Wesleyan University, Iowa, and was admitted as a probationer in the Iowa Conference at twenty-one. He was transferred to the Saint Louis Conference in 1870, and was married in 1871. He was transferred to the Michigan Conference in 1879 and was stationed at Bear Lake. Two years later he was sent to Grand Ledge. He then served Saint Louis, Evart, Mosherville, Tekonsha, and Potterville. His active ministry continued twenty-five years. He was superannuated because of broken health, and died soon after the Conference session of 1893. Four sons remain to support their widowed mother. He walked with God. His Christian experience grew richer as he neared the end. In his dying hours he steadfastly praised the Lord and, smiling, said, "It is well with my soul."

Abram H. Yokom was born in Canada, of Methodist parents, in 1848, and joined the Methodist Church at sixteen. He came to the United States when a young man, and for some years engaged in business. He was received by the West Wisconsin Conference in 1884. In 1889 he was transferred to the Michigan Conference, where he served three charges, all on the Grand Rapids District, namely, Grandville, Casnovia, and Byron and Dorr. Early in the winter he held a special meeting in Dorr, and after exhausting labors would insist upon driving to his home some miles distant. This involved an exposure which resulted in exhaustion, typhoid pneumonia, and tuberculosis. His last illness, extending through weeks, was used of God to impress the community with the power of the Gospel. In weakness and much suffering he preached from his bed to his many visitors, and gave a constant illustration of the possibilities of grace. By his presiding elder he sent this message to the Conference: "Tell the brethren that I leave this world in joyful hope, sustained by the constant presence of the Lord Jesus." On February 18, 1894, he died at Byron Center. His piety was ever apparent, his devotion to the Church supreme, and his life beautiful and stainless.

Genesee Conference.

John Bee Wright was born at Alderby, Norfolk, England, April 10, 1828, and entered into rest at Hamburg, N. Y., June 16, 1894. In young life he was left without parental guidance. Under the influence of a godly woman he early gave his heart to God. At ten he began to speak and pray in public, and at seventeen to call sinners to repentance. Henceforth soul-saving became his ruling passion. Few were his facilities for intellectual culture, as he spent but five months in school. Yet he had a keen hunger for knowledge. Being appointed school librarian, he devoured every volume he handled. In later years he visited the bookstalls of London, gathering a rare collection of volumes, many of which he gave to the Syracuse University. After traveling the Alford Circuit for several years he became Secretary of the Lord's Day Observance Association in London. His duties required him to prosecute whisky sellers and other Sabbath-breakers. A conclave of these swore never to rest until he should be silenced. Day and night he was tracked, and fled to America in July, 1871. He was received on his credentials in the Genesee Conference and appointed to Clarence. Soon after the parsonage and church were reduced to ashes. At once he set about rebuilding, lecturing and soliciting funds amid great deprivation. The present beautiful Clarence Church stands a monument of his persistent toil. His appointments were: Clarence, Williamsville, Hamburg, Elma, Woodside, Pekin. Near the close of his fifth year at Pekin he was smitten with paralysis, and after lingering for several months passed away in great peace. He was an industrious worker. His sermons at camp meetings and other places were replete with original thought, and were presented in that quaint dress in which he clothed his discourses. The poor loved him, for he was their friend. His benevolence was systematic, a tenth being the minimum of his giving. His humility was such that the lowest place was never too mean if only he might serve his Lord. His faith was beautiful in its simplicity. When asked what he would do in reference to certain painful experiences he quietly replied, "I have taken it to the Lord." Because of this childlike trust he was always unruffled in mind and spirit. His memory is embalmed in the hearts of his bereaved wife and children, who walk in communion with the Church he loved so well.

Jonathan O. Willsea was born in New York State in 1815, and died in Denver, Colo., during the year 1894. He joined the Genesee Conference in 1862, and occupied the following appointments: Hartland, Alabama, Barre, Knowlsville, Attica, supernumerary, supplying Sweden during 1871. In 1872 he was appointed a steward of Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, and occupied that position for ten years, when he was made supernumerary again. His leading characteristic was fidelity. His early life was spent as editor and publisher of a village paper, and he came into the Conference at mid-life, but he attended to the duties of the ministry with untiring devotion and fair success. He was a thorough student, and thoughtful people listened with interest to his sermons. He carried his business habits into his fields of labor, and left the church property in a better condition than he found it. During his stewardship at Lima he kept the property in a most excellent condition. He left two sons, both attorneys at law in Denver, Colo., and at the residence of one of these he passed away. He will be remembered with gratitude by many who were converted upon the charges he occupied, and with great respect by those who knew him well for his solid character and consistent piety.

Isaac Harris was born November 27, 1823, in Gorham, N. Y. He was of pious parents, and at the age of ten was soundly converted. When twenty-four he married Miss Mary A. Wheeler, of Independence, N. Y., who still survives him. He took work under the presiding elder in 1862, being sent to Freeville, N. Y., where he remained two years. He then joined the Oneida Conference, of which he was a member until 1868, when he united with the Central New York, and in 1876 with the Genesee Conference, each transfer being by change of boundaries. Including this first charge he served the following places: Freeville, Pompey, Nelson, Cayuga, Conquest, Dryden, Newfield, Hopewell, South Sodus, Short Tract, Bristol Center, Fowlerville, West Sparta, Portage, Wiscoy and Hume, Eden and North Evans, Woodside, Buffalo; Clarence, and, lastly, Darien. Here he died July 3, 1894, after having been superannuated only ten months. Revivals broke out on every charge he served. In some cases they were wonderful for extent and permanent results, as many as two hundred entering the kingdom of God during a single season. Nearly two thousand were converted under his ministry. He was preeminently a pastor. No neighborhood was too isolated, no family too retired or humble. During the war he was a member of the Christian Commission. Temperance claimed his loyal devotion. He was a Royal Templar, a Good Templar, and an honorary member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. His decline dated back nearly three years, when he had a stroke of paralysis. From the Conference of 1893 he rapidly sank. He suffered a second shock on July 3, 1894, and died the evening of that day, peacefully falling asleep. On the last day, when his pastor said, "The Lord Jesus Christ is with you?" he answered, "Yes, that is the best of all."

Samuel Nichols was born at Edmonston, N. Y., February 27, 1813, and died in Bath, N. Y., October 6, 1894. At ten he moved with his parents to Italy, N. Y., where he spent the remainder of his young manhood. In 1829 he was converted. In 1835 he was licensed to exhort, and the next year received license to preach. In 1839 he joined the Genesee Conference and was appointed to Alfred Circuit, with eighteen appointments to fill. During the year there was a gracious revival on the circuit, and at Andover he left a church with fifty members. In 1840

he was appointed to Independence Circuit, with twelve appointments; in 1842 to Westfield Circuit, with eighteen appointments; in 1844 to Tioga Circuit, extending from Lawrenceville, Pa., to the Blockhouse Settlement, a distance of forty miles. In 1845 he was sent to the Addison Circuit, with thirteen preaching places; in 1847 to Wellsboro, a small circuit of only seven preaching places; in 1849 to the Tyrone Circuit; in 1851 to Avoca, a two-weeks' circuit of eight appointments. His subsequent appointments were: Coke's Chapel and Bristol, Knoxville, Burlington, Lawrenceville, Towanda, Webster, Townsendville, Watkins, Jacksonville, Painted Post, Bible Agent for Steuben and Chemung Counties, Burdette, Townsendville, Butler Center, Montezuma, Kanona, Bath, Kanona again, Bath again. Extensive revivals prevailed in most of these appointments. In 1882 he took a superannuated relation. He was greatly beloved by the church and citizens of Bath, where he resided. He was a noble man, pure in spirit and in life. "His works do follow him."

Dennis C. Blakely was born in Java, N. Y., March 26, 1832, and fell asleep August 12, 1894. In 1857, under the influence of godly parents, he consecrated his all to Christ and united with the Church. He married Miss Emily Skinner, of Java. For some years he engaged in agricultural pursuits, and served as a local preacher. Though successful in these lines, his active mind, his fondness for study, his passion to lead souls to Christ, constrained him to devote his all to the ministry. His charges were: East Hamburg, Boston, Woodside, Buffalo; Williamsville, Java and Johnsonburg, Scottsburg, Alabama, West Sparta, Pike and East Pike, Wales, Marilla, Yorkshire. He would sometimes melt in tenderness while delivering his message; at other times he would so rise in majesty while proclaiming the Gospel that men would with trembling flee from the wrath to come. He had a tender heart, a well-developed social nature, a rare knowledge of men in business relations, a high appreciation of his holy calling, and an unwavering faith in God. In 1893 he took a supernumerary relation, but continued preaching the Gospel till the end, and went from the pulpit to the Church triumphant.

William Wall Mandeville was born in Penfield, N. Y., July 17, 1812, and passed to his heavenly rest from Hornellsville, N. Y., October 3, 1894. He was converted at the age of seventeen, and united with the church in his native town. In March, 1838, he married Miss Maria Hawley, who, a month after the celebration of their golden wedding, passed away to heaven. He united with the Genesee Conference in 1844. By the division of the Conference in 1848 he became a member of the East Genesee Conference. By subsequent changes of boundaries he became a member of the Central New York in 1872, and again of Genesee in 1876. During his effective ministry he served the following charges: Burlington and Springfield, King's Mills and Miller's Corners, East Henrietta, Ontario, Fairville, and Lock Berlin, South Sodus, Bloomfield, Fairville, East Palmyra, and Marion. In 1856 he was made supernumerary, and so continued for two years, after which his appointments were: Middlesex, Cohocton, Savona, Groveland, Livonia, Rush, Poultneyville and Ontario, Bristol, Fowlerville, West Sparta, South Dansville, Scottsburg, Stafford. In 1880 he became superannuated, and retired to his former home in Webster, N. Y. He was a man of respectable abilities, and although not favored with opportunities for higher education, yet, by persistent use of the means within his reach, he became an acceptable and useful minister of the word. He was a man of guileless nature and of unblemished character. By his kindly and sympathetic spirit he won the hearts of his people. His last Sabbath on earth found him in the house of the Lord engaged in his worship. His presence was a benediction to the Church and community. On Tuesday, October 2, 1894, he went to Hornellsville for the purpose of attending Conference. He arrived there in the evening, and after conversation with the family entertaining him he proposed worship. After invoking the divine blessing upon the presiding bishop, the Conference, the families entertaining the ministers, and loved ones at home, he offered this simple petition: "Father, if it be thy will, may we all awake in the morning." The family awoke as usual, but he had passed into the light and joy of eternal day.

Central German Conference.

John Flitzing was born in Germany, November 16, 1814. He emigrated to America in May, 1836, and joined the church in Wheeling, W. Va. In February, 1843, he was married to Anna Maria Berlau. It pleased God to call him to the ministry in 1845. His first appointment was Canal Dover. He was effective for thirty-seven years. He labored in twenty-one different fields, and altogether preached five thousand eight hundred and twenty-five sermons. After severe suffering for six months he died in Lexington, Mo., leaving a widow, five sons, and one daughter.

F. W. Henke was born in Ziegenhagen, Prussia, August 26, 1853, and died October 14, 1893, at Elmore, O. He was converted at the age of fifteen, was made a local preacher at twenty, and entered the Central German Conference in 1878. He labored in the following places: Caseville, Dewitt, Edgerton, Allegan, Woodville. As a preacher of the Gospel he was of a loving disposition, thereby gaining the esteem of all committed to his care. His sermons were clear and powerful. In 1875 he married Elisabeth M. Sutterlin. Five children survive him.

Louis Nippert was born in Goersdorf, Germany, March 23, 1825, and came to this country in 1830. At the age of fifteen he found Christ, and joined the Ohio Conference in 1845. His first appointment was Indianapolis. After serving in Pittsburg, Pa., and Columbus, O., the Mission Board of the Church sent him to Germany, where he landed June 7, 1850, to assist Dr. L. S. Jacoby in the organization of his great work in the Fatherland. In 1868 he was elected Superintendent of the Martin's Mission Institute at Frankfurt, where he remained until 1886, when he returned to the United States. He was successively stationed in Pittsburg, Pa.; Columbus, O., and at Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, where he died in the Lord on August 17, 1894.

Iowa Conference.

Orville Clarson Shelton was born in Mason County, Va. (now West Virginia), December 30, 1816, and died in Burlington, Ia., September 5, 1894. Born of sturdy stock, he was a man of strong convictions of right and wrong. At an early age he became deeply religious, united with the Church, and began his active ministry at nineteen. Until 1852 his work was in Southeastern Ohio and West Virginia. In that year he became a member of the Iowa Conference, in which he served the following charges: Birmingham, New London, Glasgow, Crawfordsville, Salem, Burlington Circuit, West Point, Troy Circuit, Chillicothe, Brighton, Eddyville, Fairfield, Salina and Glasgow, Henry Street, Mount Pleasant; Salem again, Ainsworth, Burlington City, Pleasant Hill, Millersburg, Martinsburg, Granville, Kellogg, Lynnville, Montrose. At the Conference of 1888 he received a superannuated relation. In his early ministry he traveled on horseback and frequently required four weeks to make one round of his circuit. In those days powerful revivals were the rule in his work. Though the son of a slaveholder, he dared to denounce slavery in his native State; inheriting a slave from his father's estate, he first educated him and then gave him his freedom; receiving a small patrimony which he believed to be in part the proceeds from the sale of a human being, he restored it, with interest, to the freedmen; reared in a community where intoxicating liquors were freely used, he refused to touch, taste, or handle them; in his boyhood, serving as a clerk in a store where whisky was sold as any other commodity, he refused to sell it, was admired for his devotion to principle, and was retained in his situation. Converted when a child, he ever manifested the deepest interest in the relation of children to the Church. Possessing fervent piety, characterized by great faith, and noted for his untiring zeal, his ministry was accompanied with constant prosperity for the Church.

Robert G. Wilson was born in Montezuma, Ia., July 5, 1858, and died of pleuro-pneumonia in Fremont, Ia., June 2, 1894. He was converted when fifteen. He attended the public schools of Montezuma, and afterward studied for two years in the Iowa Wesleyan University. On February 23, 1882, he was given license to exhort, and later license to preach. He joined the Iowa Conference, September, 1883, was ordained deacon by Bishop Ninde, September 13, 1885, and elder by Bishop Merrill, September 11, 1887. On June 18, 1883, he married Miss Mattie C. Platt, of Montezuma, who, with two sons, remains to mourn her loss. He served the following charges: Albia Circuit, Lovilla Circuit, Unionville, Brighton Station, Richland Circuit, and Fremont Station. His fatal illness was of less than a week's duration. He preached to his congregation on Sabbath, May 27, 1894, from the text, "Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ," and then went to his bed to suffer until the Saturday morning following, when he fell asleep. He was conscious to the last, and having tenderly said good-bye to his parents and family he said to his wife, "It is all right," and "was not, for God took him." From childhood to his death he was faithful in all trusts committed to him. Because of real merit he was steadily growing in the esteem of his brethren.

C. S. H. Dunn. [Obituary not received.]

Des Moines Conference.

Hugh Linn was born in Huntingdon County, Pa., November 18, 1832, and died in Shelby, Ia., May 26, 1894. He was converted at a camp meeting in Orbisonia, Pa., in 1848, and received license to exhort in 1855, and to preach in 1856. He served the Church as steward, Sabbath school superintendent, class leader, exhorter, and local preacher. He entered the East Baltimore Conference at its beginning, in 1857. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Scott March 6, 1859, and elder by Bishop Simpson March 17, 1861. He began his ministry on a circuit of sixteen appointments, with a salary of eighty dollars. His appointments were as follows: Alleghany Circuit, Cassville, New Washington, Bedford Circuit, M'Connellsburg, Bellefonte Circuit, Glenn Hope, Hampstead, M'Connellsburg again, Duncansville, Grahamton, Pine Grove. Then, moving to Iowa, he supplied Big Grove, Harlan Circuit, Shelby Circuit, Persia, Astor. Then, transferring from the Central Pennsylvania to the Des Moines Conference, he was appointed to Manilla, Dow City, Northboro. He was superannuated in 1893. He was married at Everett, Pa., March 26, 1861, to Miss Carrie Feight. After a faithful and useful ministry of thirty-five years his rest is glorious.

Samuel Jones was born in Pendleton County, Va., September 5, 1819, and died in Perry, Ia., December 28, 1893. On October 24, 1844, he married Mary Ann Ervine. Three daughters were present at the funeral. In early life he studied medicine, but forsook that profession for the work of the ministry. Baptized in infancy and converted in 1840, he was licensed as an exhorter in 1844. On October 20, 1845, he was licensed as a local preacher and served for ten years, the last two of which were spent as a supply on West Rockingham Circuit. He was elected to deacons' orders by the Baltimore Conference and ordained by Bishop Beverly Waugh March 11, 1850. He was ordained elder by the same bishop March 10, 1855. He entered the West Virginia Conference at Wheeling in 1855, and served the following charges: Philippi, Somerville, Point Pleasant. In March, 1861, he was transferred to the Des Moines Conference, where he served the following appointments: New Virginia, Norwalk, Des Moines Circuit, Nevada, Boonesboro District, Boonesboro Station, Ogden, Perry, Carroll. Feeling the infirmities of years, he retired in 1883 to his home at Perry to spend the remnant of his days. He was a pure, gentle, earnest man, and was held in high esteem by the churches he served. He died in the faith, giving many expressions to his loved ones of perfect peace and victory.

Southern Illinois Conference.

Joseph L. Hawk was born September 5, 1838, in Champaign County, O., and died in Jonesboro, Ill., January 10, 1894. He grew to manhood in the place of his birth, and married Miss Jane E. Kerns, of Hampshire County, W. Va., August 14, 1862, who, with five children, is now living. He was converted March 11, 1855, was licensed to exhort in 1860, and to preach in 1872. He did faithful work as a local preacher until 1878, when he was admitted on trial in the Kentucky Conference. In 1880 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Haven. In 1887 Bishop Andrews ordained him elder. He traveled ten years in the Kentucky Conference. These years were marked by much hardship, but were brightened by the conversion of many souls. In 1888 he was transferred to the Southern Illinois Conference, and successively served Spring Garden, Benton, Vergennes, and Jonesboro. He knew well the doctrines of his Church. He was manly in character, tender as a child, and forcible as a preacher. The last two weeks of November, 1893, he was engaged in a successful revival meeting, when he was attacked with la grippe, and was forced reluctantly to cease the meeting, go home and lie down on his deathbed. Twice he rallied a little, but relapse followed which proved fatal. Among his last utterances were references to his work.

Robert Allyn was born in Ledyard, Conn., January 25, 1817, and died in Carbondale, Ill., January 7, 1894. He graduated from Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and, with the exception of some four years in the pastorate, devoted his life to teaching. He first taught mathematics in Wilbraham Academy, and was in 1846 made principal of that institution. He next served as principal of Providence Conference Seminary at East Greenwich, R. I. In 1854 he was appointed Commissioner of Public Schools of Rhode Island. In 1857 he was elected to the chair of ancient languages in the Ohio University, Athens, O. In 1859 he accepted the presidency of the Wesleyan Female College at Cincinnati. In 1863 he was elected president of McKendree College at Lebanon, Ill. In 1874 he became regent of the Southern Illinois Normal University at Carbondale, Ill., where, after nearly a half century of educational service, his dust reposes. He was of Congregational parentage, but was converted at a Methodist camp meeting in his native State while yet in his teens. He felt at once his call to the ministry, and without delay set about his college course. He joined the New England Conference in 1842, and was subsequently a member of the Providence, Ohio, Cincinnati, and Southern Illinois Conferences. He was licensed to preach August 18, 1841, was ordained deacon by Bishop James July 7, 1844, and elder by Bishop Waugh April 12, 1846. By pen, voice, and example he was a defender of the right. Many hundred graduates have received diplomas bearing his signature, not a few of whom have achieved distinction, among them being Bishops Mallalieu and Warren. He represented the Southern Illinois Conference in the General Conference of 1872. For years he was secretary of this Conference, and no man did so much to systematize its business. He excelled in organization and in executive force. The movement to celebrate the centennial of Methodism in Illinois received much of its inspiration from him, and he was chief among the organizers of the Southern Illinois Teachers' Association. He was twice married. At his funeral, January 9, 1894, in Carbondale, Ill., students, professors, citizens, ministers, and the humblest servants vied with each other in doing honor to his memory, for he was the friend of all. He had received the degrees of D.D. and LL.D. As a thinker he was profound, as a preacher he was always scholarly, and often spoke with rare unction and power. A strong man has fallen. We expect to meet him where every song is victory and where no shadow falls.

Joseph Earp was born at Melbourne, England, January 27, 1820. Of his childhood history but few hints are preserved. One of these is that his parents were members of the Wesleyan Methodist Church; another that he was converted at the age of twelve. When nineteen he came to the United States and soon took up his residence at Marion, Ill. He married Miss Margaret E. Walls December 5, 1841. For several years, while engaged in secular work, he sustained the relation of local preacher, and labored successfully in his own and adjacent towns. In 1854 he entered the itinerancy in connection with the Southern Illinois Conference. He filled the following appointments: Vandalia, Central City, Alton, Lebanon, Bunker Hill, Brighton, Jerseyville, Mount Carmel, Olney, Salem and Flora, serving two terms each at Brighton, Jerseyville, and Mount Carmel, and three each at Vandalia and Lebanon. In 1862 he was appointed to Lebanon District, and in 1873 to Alton District, each of which he served four years. He stood high in the Conference as a man of judgment and piety, and was a member of the General Conference of 1876. As a pastor he was diligent. Riding out with a gentleman, who was a hearer of the word, he asked, "How is it that you, a man of intelligence and of professional attainment, have not acknowledged Christ as your Saviour?" This was blessed to the conversion of the one addressed, who became an active and influential Christian. Once for several days and nights he nursed an apparently dying man through the crisis of his disease, dispensing the balm of Gilead to the sufferer while working to relieve his condition. On September 27, 1876, he married Miss Hester E. Boswell, of Shipman, Ill., who, with one daughter, survives. In January, 1893, through exposure in attending a funeral, he was brought into great suffering from valvular insufficiency of the heart. Still he managed, by husbanding his strength, to carry on his work so far as public services were concerned. In 1893 he became superannuated. While deploring his enforced inactivity, he was patient in suffering, and submissive to the divine will. The end came sooner than expected. On Thursday morning, March 8, 1894, after a night of comparative rest, almost before his attendants were aware, he quietly breathed his last.

Elmer E. Waggoner was born at Godfrey, Ill., November 24, 1862, and died at Staunton, Ill., August 17, 1894. His childhood was spent in a rural home, his youth in school. In 1891 he graduated at McKendree College with the honors of his class. Having early given his heart to God and his life to the Church, he passed directly from college to the ministry. In 1891 he was received on trial in the Southern Illinois Conference, was ordained deacon by Bishop Foster in 1892, and in 1893 was received into full membership in the Conference. On March 22, 1892, he married Miss Belle Linhoff. He was pastor one year each at Venice, Grafton, and Staunton. He was devoted to his work, studious and methodical in his habits, and winning in his manner. He was greatly beloved by the people, and their testimonials of appreciation were manifested both before and after his death. He clung to life with tenacity, and planned for work almost to the end. But when made to realize that his work was done he was sweetly submissive and peacefully fell asleep, saying: "All is well; blessed are they who die in the Lord."

Detroit Conference.

Daniel Cook Jacokes was born in Charlestown, N. Y., April 15, 1813. A few of his school years were spent in Geneva (now Hobart) College, in Geneva, N. Y. He married in 1832, and came to Michigan, spending one year in Detroit. He then moved to Lodi, Washtenaw County, where he spent two years pursuing his studies. It was expected he would enter the ministry of the Presbyterian Church, but he changed his denominational relations, and in the fall of 1840 was admitted on trial in the Michigan Conference. His appointments were: Farmington Circuit, Lake Superior Indian Mission, Grass Lake, Girard, Northville, Mount Clemens, Port Huron, Pontiac, Trenton, Lafayette Street, Detroit; chaplain to the Fifth Michigan Infantry, Dexter, Pontiac again, Presiding Elder of Adrian District, Hudson, and chaplain of the Eastern Michigan Asylum at Pontiac. This last position he held from 1878 till 1892, when failing health led him to ask a superannuated relation. His majestic form drew marked attention wherever he went. With forehead broad and surmounted by a luxuriance of jet black hair, with eyes keen and piercing, with face expressive of the strong character behind it, he moved among men with the bearing of a commander. He was shut up to no one department of study, but the doors of the kingdom of knowledge opened to him in many directions. He delighted in scientific pursuits. Astronomy was his favorite study. Many a midnight he spent in his observatory, which he constructed at a large expense and transported from place to place as his appointments were changed. He equipped it with a fine equatorial refracting telescope. For many years he was more familiar with the stars and nebulæ than with the faces of men. He said to the writer, "I love the telescope, which carries me over such vast fields of God's universe, but when I want to contemplate God's greatness I study his works through the microscope." He possessed unusual mechanical genius, and would easily have been an expert worker in wood, brass, and iron. His study, which contained from four to five thousand volumes, also held his tools and turning lathe, and there he made his telescopes, microscopes, and musical instruments. He was an extensive reader, grasping the meaning of an author with remarkable facility. The fields in which he spent most of his reading were metaphysics, moral philosophy, and ecclesiastical history. He gave much study to the languages especially connected with Scripture history, and was more or less familiar with Latin, Greek, Hebrew, and Arabic, and also with German and French. In the field of Bible archæology he had few equals. He read thoroughly the reports of various exploration parties and obtained a vast number of maps and photographs of their discoveries from the Old World. As a preacher his profound belief in Scripture doctrine, his masterly use of the English language, his vast sweep of imagination enabled him at times to reach heights of Christian thought unknown to many minds. His abilities were recognized beyond the bounds of his Conference or State. He received from Ohio Wesleyan University the degree of Master of Arts, and afterward that of Doctor of Philosophy. During the revision of the State Constitution, by which the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage was prohibited, he took a prominent part. At the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia, in 1876, the governor appointed him Commissioner of the Educational Exhibit for the State of Michigan. Here his genius rendered most valuable service. He organized a scheme for an educational exhibit which was adopted by the National Board of Education. The educators of other nations also studied his plan with admiration and copied it for use in their own countries. In 1877 he was appointed by the governor a member of the State Board of Health, a position which he held for nine years; and also agent of the State Board of Corrections and Charities for Oakland County. In 1882 he became a member of the American Public Health Association. His mental activities continued to his closing year. As the world receded his heart seemed to glow in the light of the unseen world and to revel in the very inner meanings of the Gospel he had preached. He died of paralysis, in Pontiac, January 11, 1894.

Andrew Bell was born in Warwick, N. Y., September 7, 1818. Previous to 1840–42 he was in business and was a member of the Dutch Reformed Church; but while boarding in New York city with a Methodist family he began occasionally to attend the Methodist Church, and soon after, having moved to Adrian, he was converted. In 1844 he married Miss Susan Thompson, of New York city. In 1845 he was admitted to the Michigan Conference and appointed to White Lake Circuit. In 1847 he was received in full connection and appointed to Genesee. In 1848 his appointment was Saginaw, the people being, as he afterward said, the most liberal and the most wicked that he had ever met. In 1850 he was sent to Clarkson, and in 1852 to Byron, where, from ceaseless labors without sufficient rest, he broke down in health. In 1853 he was sent to Ann Arbor, where much good was done during his few months' ministry upon this circuit. Here his health completely failed before the next Conference. For a long time after his collapse he cherished the hope that he would be able to once more enter the efficient ranks, but all such hopes proved groundless. For twoscore years he was superannuate, and for ten years was a great sufferer. In the early morning of August 21, 1894, he stepped from the sick room into his new home, eternal in the heavens. His was a peculiarly strong and fine organization. He could not speak other than accurately and with close discrimination. He longed to leave this world, not chiefly because of his sufferings, but because of his intense eagerness to pierce the veil which separated him from the unseen. He expressed himself as anxious not to miss any of the experiences in that supreme change between the earthly and the larger life. Almost his last words were: "Praise the Lord! The Lord is good; he is good."

Harvey Hodskiss was born in Prattstown, N. Y., February 12, 1818, and died in Locke, Mich., January 12, 1894. He was of Puritan ancestry, his grandfather having been a defender of liberty in the Revolutionary War. When ten years old he moved with his parents to Chautauqua County, N. Y., and there grew to manhood. On April 9, 1837, he married Miss Desire Hill. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church when eighteen years of age, and began to exhort and preach when twenty-three. In 1855 he moved to Michigan and settled in Locke. For nearly four years he was chaplain of the State Prison at Jackson, but resigned in 1868 to join the Detroit Conference, and was stationed as follows: Francisville and Leoni, Fowlerville, Hamburg, Perry, Owosso, Hartland, Leroy, Webberville. In 1881 he became supernumerary, and so remained ten years. In 1892 he was made superannuate and continued in this relation till called up higher. His sermons contained a blending of the intellectual with the affectional that made his ministrations profitable. He was a man of strong convictions, and had the courage to proclaim what he believed to be the truth. This was preeminently seen in his attitude on the subject of temperance. His death was quite unexpected. A slight stroke of parlaysis was soon followed by heart failure, and he entered into the land of rest.

William Birdsall died at Flint, Mich., January 3, 1894. He was born at Lake Pleasant, N. Y., July 3, 1816, being the eldest of a family of ten children. He enjoyed no school privileges. His place of study was the shoe bench at his own fireside with his family. His parents were Methodists, and their influence over him was hallowed. He was converted at fifteen and united with the Church. He felt a call to preach, but thought himself not qualified. An exhorter's license was fairly thrust upon him, and also that of local preacher. In 1857 he joined the Detroit Conference and was stationed at Oak Grove. His other appointments were: Byron, Brighton, South Lyon, Tuscola, South Flint, Mount Morris, Clio, Chesterfield, Goodrich, Gaines, Parshallville, Oak Grove again, Otisville, Woodhull. In 1883, on account of infirm health, he became superannuated. He was married in 1833 to Miss Polly Lobdell. He was a faithful minister, and his record is on high.

William M. Campbell was born in New Brunswick, September 2, 1823. He was converted at the age of fifteen, began work as a local preacher when sixteen, and took active work when seventeen. For thirteen years he continued to preach. He then located and practiced medicine for eight years. Then he again took up the active ministry in the Congregational Church for nine years. Once more he discontinued the ministry, and returned to the practice of medicine for three years. Reentering the pastorate he joined the Detroit Conference, taking the following appointments: Hartland, Davison Station, Perry, Memphis, North Branch, Cheboygan, Ridgeway, Napoleon, Dexter, Chelsea. Then, on account of health, he superannuated and finally came to Plainwell, where he made his home until his death. He married Miss Alvira Aldrich in Canada in 1846. She died in 1885. He was again married in 1887 to Mrs. Bovee, of Kalamazoo, who survives him. In the summer of 1894 he went to Bay View, but after a few days was attacked by disease, and lasted only a few hours. He was a good man, was beloved by the Church, and will be greatly missed.

James Worthington Kennedy was born in Moorefield, O., April 24, 1854. He early joined the Presbyterian Church. After some years he sought a definite experience, and received clear evidence of his acceptance with God. At sixteen he began teaching, and so continued for twelve years, studying law in his spare time, and then going to college. He was ready to be admitted to the bar when a new religious experience directed him to the ministry. Following his convictions, he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Ohio, and came to Michigan in 1883. He was received on trial in the Detroit Conference and appointed to Davison. In 1885 he was admitted into full connection and ordained deacon. In 1889 he was ordained elder by Bishop Foss. His next appointment was Perry, which then included Morrice. During his term he built the convenient church at Morrice. He served three years at Perry, leaving amid general regret. His third appointment was Fenton, where he also served three years; he then came to Haven Church, Detroit, in the fall of 1892. He had the universal love of his Church, his people following him to the grave with tearful affection. He married Miss Agnes A. Simmons in Deersville, O., November 2, 1876. He was progressive, and particularly interested in work for children. His death occurred February 14, 1894. He was first attacked with peritonitis: Later other serious trouble developed, requiring a surgical operation. Improvement followed, with prospect of restoration, but a second operation was found necessary, from which he gradually sank until he passed away. His death, in early manhood, is a profound loss. He was a preacher of genuine worth and large promise. Modest and unassuming, sweet spirited and tender hearted, sincere and devout, he was a man of marked personality, a close student, and an independent thinker.

North China Conference.

Leander W. Pilcher was born at Jackson, Mich., August 2, 1848. He was accustomed to the vicissitudes of an itinerant's home, for he was a son of Elijah H. Pilcher, D.D. He graduated at nineteen from the Ohio Wesleyan University; was principal of high school at Pontiac, Mich., for one year; was superintendent of public schools in same city for one year; was appointed missionary to China in 1870; returned to the United States in 1874; graduated from Boston Theological School in 1876; the same year married Miss Mary Garwood, of Monroe, Mich., and immediately sailed again to China and fulfilled the duties incumbent upon a missionary until his death, November 24, 1893. The Church press naturally emphasized the signal ability which he displayed as President of the Peking University; but his fellow-laborers, while not detracting from his fame as an educator, speak also of the same ability and faithfulness in other equally laborious but less-honored offices. To the home Church he was, by his continued absence, very largely a stranger. Yet it realizes the greatness of the loss which it has sustained. He never lost his child's heart. His was a rarely loving and lovable nature: all the wealth of his soul was poured out upon his companions in missionary life. The work will go on. God has other workmen. But those who knew him in the intimacies of Christian friendship wil be hungry-hearted until they see him again in the better country.

Colorado Conference.

William Plested was born in Canada, December 16, 1842. In early manhood he felt called to preach and began to prepare for this work. He graduated with honor from the Northwestern University in 1870, and from Union Theological Seminary, New York, in 1873; and thus, well trained and splendidly equipped, he began work in the Congregational Church, having charge for over four years of the Bethany Church, New York. In the beginning of this pastorate, October 6, 1874, he was happily married to Miss Alice Gordon. In 1877 he came to Shenandoah, Ia., where he served as pastor of the Congregational Church for a year and a half. In the fall of 1878 he joined the Des Moines Conference and was appointed pastor at Leon, and the next year at Afton. While there he held revival meetings, preaching every night for seven weeks, when he broke down and was obliged to give up work. He traveled a year in his own conveyance through Colorado and New Mexico in the hope of regaining his health. Removing to Trinidad, Colo., December, 1882, he was transferred to the Colorado Conference in 1893. He had much to do with the enlarging and finishing of the beautiful church at Trinidad, and the parsonage adjoining was the gift of himself and wife. But his most enduring monument is the memory of his consistent Christian life, his business integrity, and his manly character. Though keenly disappointed because he had to abandon his life-work, yet he worked on as he could with marked patience to the end. This came just after the turn of the night, July 1, 1893, when he passed out of the tabernacle here into the temple on high.

Erie Conference.

Peter Burroughs was born in Owaseo, N. Y., August 31, 1808, and died in Westfield, N. Y., October 6, 1893, being at his death the oldest member of the Erie Conference. He embraced religion in his seventeenth year, united with the Church, and soon after was licensed as an exhorter. In 1835 he was licensed to preach, and traveled one year under the presiding elder. In 1836 he joined the Erie Conference at its organization, in which Conference he traveled for fifty-two consecutive years. He was married October 2, 1828, to Miss Minnie Slawson, who preceded him some two years to the heavenly home. He attended the last session of his Conference but a few weeks before his death. He spoke with much feeling in the love feast of his faith that the grace which had sustained him in life would prove sufficient in death. Soon after his return from Conference he was taken ill. His death was most triumphant. Rallying from unconsciousness about an hour before his death, he exclaimed with beaming face, "Joy, joy, joy! All is joy!" One present describes the scene as one never to be forgotten. During his active service he filled the following appointments: Cleveland Circuit, Geneva, Jefferson, Ellsworth, Edinburg, Hudson, Middlebury, Chardon, Chagrin Falls, Twinsburg, Freedom, Mesopotamia, Hendersonville, Pleasantville, Gerry, Villanovia, Sherman, Portland, Sinclairville, Leon, Sheffield, Pine Grove, Sunville, Cochranton, Clymer, West Dayton, Little Valley and Salamanca, Irving, Cherry Creek, Lockport, Delanti. His work thus covered a large portion of the Conference, and few men were more widely known and universally beloved. He was of more than average ability in the pulpit, while his kindliness won for him the regard of those with whom he mingled. His memory is as ointment poured forth.

Obed G. McEntire was born in Crawford County, Pa., February 11, 1829, and died at Geneva, Pa., November 3, 1893. In childhood he was converted near the place of his nativity and united with the Church in 1848. He received an exhorter's license in April, 1858; was licensed to preach in August, 1858. He was received into the Erie Conference in 1859 and was appointed to Ridgway, where his first sermon was preached in the court house, from Psalm i, 3. He was ordained deacon in 1861 by Bishop Morris, and elder in 1863 by Bishop Simpson. Seeking a higher education he was the first to graduate in the biblical and classical course at Allegheny College, June 19, 1859. The following were his appointments: Ridgway, Brockwayville, Callensburg, Mercer, Ashtabula, Ellington, Warren, O.; Greenville, Warren, Pa.; Jamestown District, Brookville, Girard, Jamestown, Emlenton, Tidioute, Cattaraugus, where he finished his ministerial labors. At the last quarterly meeting of the year, having preached and administered the sacrament to a large congregation, he was seized in the afternoon with heart disease, from which he never rallied. He was a man of cultured intellect, profound in thought, smooth in diction, conclusive in argument; he was eminent in the pulpit. Amid severe suffering he patiently trusted in the divine hand to lead him, and constantly said, "It is all right on the other side."

James Clyde was born in New York city September 29, 1829. His father was an elder in the Scotch Presbyterian Church, and purposed to educate his son for the ministry. This course was subsequently abandoned, and he was trained as a civil engineer. His conversion and connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church occurred in 1853. His devotion and gifts being soon recognized he was given a license as a local preacher, and for several years served in this relation, until 1876, when he was admitted on trial in the Erie Annual Conference. He received local deacon's orders in 1875, Bishop Ames presiding, and elder's orders by Bishop E. O. Haven, in 1880. He served the following charges: Plumer, North Washington, Waterloo, Saegertown, Cochranton, Sunville, Edinboro, State Street (Meadville), and Centerville. In 1891 he took a supernumerary relation, which he maintained two years, the first year serving the State Road Church as pastor. In 1893 he was granted a superannuate relation. His religious experience was deep and abiding through the many severe ordeals of his life. His last illness dates from December, 1892. He rallied from the first and second attacks. The third and final one found him ready to depart. On the evening of May 10, 1894, he ascended to his coronation. During his last sickness he enjoyed some extraordinary experiences. He frequently spoke of having a wonderful insight into mysteries which in health were beyond his power to comprehend, and his countenance was radiant with unearthly light. He was thrice married. A widow, the sharer of his toils for years, and nine children survive to mourn their loss. He was preeminently studious. He read much; he read deeply; he treasured what he read. He was an intensely earnest man. A profound sense of his responsibility swayed his entire being. He was uncompromising in regard to reigning evils. On all questions involved in the great reforms of the age he reechoed the law of Mount Sinai, "Thou shalt not!" His work is done, and he has entered into rest.

Alvah Wilder was born in Dummerston, Vt., August 2, 1812, and died January 15, 1894. When a small boy his parents moved to Phelps, N. Y., then to Harpers, O. His advantages for an education were very limited. In 1837 he married Miss Mary Plummer, of Edinburg, O. He was converted in 1833, and was licensed to preach in 1836. He was employed as a supply on Mesopotamia Charge, and entered upon his work in 1837. He was admitted on trial in the Erie Conference in 1842, and was ordained both deacon and elder by Bishop Waugh. He served the following charges: Gustavus, Oil Creek, Kinzua, Harmony, Washington, Spring Creek Mission, Luthersburg Mission, superannuated. He located in 1853, and was readmitted in 1872. He then served Cherry Creek, President, Tionesta, Ellery, Arkwright, Irving, Hydetown, Enterprise, Steamburg, New Salem, Corsica. He was superannuated from 1886 to 1894. He was very successful as a revivalist, and was never so happy as when in the thickest of the fight. For over fifty-seven years he stood on Zion's walls a faithful and earnest minister. He possessed much native talent, and often spoke with great power. He was happy in life and victorious in death. His last testimony was, "The Master is with me."

Nathaniel Norris was born in Wellington, Ferndon, England, August 2, 1821, and died in Fay, Pa., June 30, 1894. When a young man he was licensed as a local preacher by the Burton-on-Trent Circuit of the Wesleyan Methodist Church. In 1850 he came to Pittsburg, where, uniting with the Methodist Protestant Church, he remained till 1859. He removed from Pittsburg to Fay, where he established the home at which he died. For some time afterward he remained a member of the Methodist Protestant Church, and when he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church his local preacher's license was recognized. In 1875 he was received on trial in the Erie Conference. During his effective relation he served the following charges: Charleston, Lowell, Harrisville and Pine Grove, Edenburg, Centerville, Harlansburg, Volant, and Pardoe. At the Conference of 1890 he was granted a superannuated relation. His brethren remember him as a man who was as unaffected as a child, college presidents bear witness to the excellence of his preaching, multitudes converted under his ministry testify to his power as a man of God. Noble in appearance and dignified in manner he preached in demonstration of the Spirit and with power. The large attendance of thoughtful and upright men about his casket marked the esteem in which he was held, yet he was a self-made man, having begun life as a blacksmith, and continuing to work at the forge until he was received into the Conference. All that he was and did was the result of his genuine and abiding regeneration by the Spirit of Almighty God. This molded his life, outlined his pathway, and made his death a victory.

Richard Peet was born in 1825. His earlier life was spent in infidelity. He prided himself in being able to defeat in debate some of the brightest men of the Church in his locality. After his conversion, like Paul, he labored as zealously for the Church as he had previously labored against it. He served two appointments in the Wesleyan Church—Concord and Mesopotamia, in Ohio. His name appears on the Erie Conference roll in the class of 1869. He labored on the Clarion District under the supervision of two presiding elders. He served the following charges: Reynoldsville (where his labors were crowned with the conversion of one hundred and seventy-four souls), Putneyville, Rimersburg, Richardsville, Ringgold, supernumerary, Enterprise, superannuated. He suffered intensely two years, but faith triumphed, and his life came to a peaceful close September 6, 1894, at his home near Fredonia, Pa.

Northwest Indiana Conference.

Elihu Mason was born January 16, 1828, in Indiana. He was reared in the Quaker Church. His conversion, first Church membership, and first ministry were in the Wesleyan Methodist Church. In 1858 he commenced his ministerial career. He was pastor in the Northwest Indiana Conference at Cartersburg, Morton, Annapolis, Newport, Burlington, Coatsville, Plainfield, Bainbridge, and Lebanon. He was powerful in exhortation and mighty in prayer. He had many great revivals, leading hundreds of souls to Christ. He was a soldier in the war of the rebellion and a chaplain in the army that planted the Stars and Stripes on Lookout Mountain. In 1881 he was granted a superannuated relation. Removing to Kansas City, Mo., he was for a time assistant pastor in one of the large churches there. In the fall of 1893 he was seized with sickness, and in a few days departed this life. Knowing that the end was near, he sent loving messages to his absent children and friends, and fell asleep in Jesus. His end was most triumphant.

Bardin Hooks Bradbury sweetly passed to the heavenly rest from his home in De Motte, Ind., February 5, 1894. He was born in North Carolina, April 3, 1811, came to Indiana in 1817, and joined the Indiana Conference with a class of thirty-one in 1839. He was effective for twenty-nine years, supernumerary for four years, and superannuated for twenty-one years. He was mighty in prayer and in the Scriptures. About 1850 he found himself, under the code of North Carolina, a legal slaveholder. He repaired to his native State, selected an old friend as agent, and clothed him with a power of attorney to take charge of the slaves, using so much of their wages as might add to their comfort, the entire balance to be paid over to them, when, from infirmities or other cause, they might become unable to labor. After the war the accumulated thousands of the wage fund were divided and paid over to the former slaves. In 1874 he married Mrs. Ann Haddox, who survives him. His death seemed painless. The funeral services were crowded to overflowing with the friends and neighbors of the good man whom they so much loved.

S. C. KENNEDY was born in Ohio, January 6, 1842. His father was the Rev. Samuel Kennedy, and he was trained from his childhood in the doctrines of Methodism and early learned to love the truth. At twenty-two he made a public profession of faith and joined the Church. He was received on trial in the Indiana Conference in 1872, was ordained deacon in 1874, and elder in 1876. He was a member of the Indiana Conference eighteen years, serving important charges. He was stationed at Manhattan, Worthington Circuit, Newark, Patricksburg, Elliotsville, Orleans, Center Point, Waverly, Monrovia, and then came to Zionsville, in the Northwest Indiana Conference. Wherever he went he was popular and successful. For many years his health was poor, and he asked for rest several times, yet he kept at work filling some vacant place. During a ministry of twenty-one years he is said to have averaged nearly one hundred converts each year. He was an excellent preacher, had a generous heart, and made numerous friends. He saw the sunny side of life and had words of cheer for all he met. Through his long illness he still hoped when others despaired. Becoming sick during a revival in March, 1893, he waited through long months of suffering for the call to reward. Shortly before his death he said, "I love to live, but if not, all is well." On February 11, 1894, he entered the temple not made with hands, to join the song of the redeemed.

OLIVER C. HASKELL, son of the Rev. Jerry Haskell, a minister of the New Light Church, was born in Vermont, March 26, 1836. His father removed to Indiana and settled in Vermillion County when Oliver was three years old. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at ten, but was not converted until ten years later. He was admitted as a probationer in the Northwest Indiana Conference in 1860, but before he had completed his two years of trial the war had begun. He was therefore discontinued at his own request and enlisted in the Seventy-first Regiment, Indiana Volunteers, afterward changed to the Sixth Indiana Cavalry. He was a true and faithful soldier, and cherished to the last his love for the comradeship of the war. After the close of the war he returned, and in August, 1865, married Miss Clarinda Jenks. The same fall he was readmitted to the Northwest Indiana Conference and ordained a deacon by Bishop Scott. Before the war he had served one year as junior preacher on the Otter Creek Circuit and a part of the next year in Boone County. After his readmission in 1865 his appointments were as follows: Annapolis, Sanford, Zionsville, Summit Grove, Michigantown, Monticello, Crown Point, Goodland and Remington, Bainbridge, Terre Haute Circuit, Plainfield, Fowler, Bellmore. On Saturday evening, August 25, he had begun a two-day meeting, and was in the pulpit preaching when he was stricken with paralysis and soon became helpless and speechless. In this condition he lingered until Sabbath afternoon, September 2, when he fell asleep. During his last year he was led to see such a wealth in the provisions of grace as never before, and received such a baptism of power that he carried a Pentecost with him wherever he went. To him henceforth the personal indwelling of the Christ was as real as his most familiar communion with an earthly friend, and so his experience became an inspiration to every Christian he touched and a wonder to the uninitiated world. He was retiring in his manner, kind toward all, and carried a smile everywhere. As a preacher he was clear and scriptural.

Minnesota Conference.

JOHN J. CRIST was born in Lawrenceburg, Ind., in 1846, and came to Minnesota with his parents in 1856, locating in Dakota County. He enlisted in the First Battalion Minnesota Volunteers, and served until the close of the war. In 1868 he entered Hamline University, where he remained until 1870, when he entered the Northwestern University, where he graduated in arts and divinity with high honors. At the close of his university course in 1877 he joined the Minnesota Conference and successively served the following charges: Plainview, Dover, Preston, Winona, Spring Valley, Monticello. In 1892 he was appointed pastor at Faribault, where he faithfully served to the hour of his death, March 8, 1894. In 1878 he married Miss Eva Van Norman, who survives him. Converted in early life, he escaped the temptations that help to wreck character. He was a safe man. The churches he served had the consciousness that they had as their leader a man on whom they could count for practical wisdom. He was of more than ordinary ability as a speaker, student, and scholar. He bore in a remarkable degree the fruits of the Spirit, and implicit trust and loyalty to duty so pervaded his life that at times he was an astonishment to his friends. He was zealous in his efforts to reach men and fearless in declaring to them the whole counsel of God. The suddenness of his departure is a cause of great grief. Stricken down in the midst of revival work which he could not get the consent of his conscience to cease, though warned by constant weakness of his danger, he died as martyrs die. We may say, "To what purpose is this waste?" But the fact remains that a box of precious ointment has been broken on the feet of our Lord, and he knows.

Japan Conference.

FRANK T. BECKWITH was born in Defiance, Ia. We know nothing of his history previous to 1885. During the year 1885–1886 he served the Yorktown and Stanton charges in the Des Moines Conference, and in 1887–1888 Defiance of the same Conference. In 1888 he entered Garrett Biblical Institute, where he graduated in 1891. During his stay in the institute he had charge of Oswego and Montgomery, in the Rock River Conference, from 1888 to 1889, and in 1890 he served at Arlington of the same Conference. Soon after graduation he sailed for Japan, where he arrived early in September, 1891. He was appointed to the Tokio Ei-Wa Gakko, where he served until the following Conference, when he was made a teacher in the Chinzei Gakkwan. Even before he left for the last appointment the disease which claimed him had commenced its work. Upon his arrival in Nagasaki he was feeling very much reduced in strength, but hoped that rest would restore his health, and was quite unwilling to put himself under medical treatment. The disease, however, increased in severity, and in March, 1892, he sailed for the United States. He succeeded in reaching his home in Hiawatha, Kan., where he died in the latter part of June. He was a man of remarkable energy and earnest devotion to his work. His absorbing desire was to preach the Gospel to the Japanese. It was a pleasure to converse with him on religious subjects. He had learned to know some of the deep things of God. We mourn his loss in the prime of life, but thank God for the hope of an eternal blessedness with him.

KIMURA SHICHIJURO was born in Arato Machi, Fukuoka Ken. He lost his father in youth, and the care of his mother thus fell early upon him. His filial obedience is worthy of special note. He was of a literary turn of mind and was especially poetic in his writings. His fondness for journalism found expression in his editorship and publication of a magazine. He was sincere in his purposes and intensely earnest in his service to the Church. His absorbing desire was to spread the truths of Christianity among his countrymen. He was intensely interested in the subject of self-support, and labored hard to secure this desirable end in the churches he served. In 1884 he entered the Japan Conference on probation. He was ordained deacon in 1887, and elder in 1889.

His appointments were: Kurume, Yanagawa, Kumamoto, Yokohama, Yamagata, Sendai, and Nagasaki. He was taken sick in October, 1892, and died August 2, 1893.

Tanaka Shinichi, the late pastor of the Nagasaki Church, was born in Shiotsuka Mura, Fukuoka Ken. His father, Yusuku, was a farmer. He was a young man of great activity, and was most faithful in his obedience to his parents. He was fluent in conversation and eloquent in address. In 1887 he entered the Chinzei Gakkwan, graduating in the first theological class from that institution in 1891. While a student he manifested his interest in his fellow-students by frequently gathering them in his room and pointing them to Christ. He entered the Conference on probation in 1891. His first appointment was Kokura, where he laid the foundation of our Church under very great difficulties. In 1893 he was ordained a deacon, and was appointed to the Nagasaki City Charge. He was deeply interested in securing a suitable church property there, and, being greatly wearied in body and mind by this responsibility, about the middle of March he was taken sick with typhoid fever, and on April 11, 1894, fell asleep in Jesus. His death occurred only a few days after the church property was purchased. We would not attempt to fathom this mysterious providence, but rejoice in the assurance that he has entered into joy eternal.

Central New York Conference.

Ransley Harrington died at Lyons, N. Y., November 22, 1893. He was born in East Brookfield, Mass., April 11, 1802. His parents were devoted members of the Baptist Church. He was converted in boyhood and joined the church of his parents. At twenty he began preparation for college, having in mind the ministry. He records that while in school "bad teaching and reading" led him to the abandonment of religion and his purpose to enter the ministry. After leaving school he devoted himself to business. But his mind was not at rest. When about twenty-four he married Miss Mary Hall, a deeply pious lady whose efforts were greatly blessed in bringing him back to the Saviour. While listening to a sermon his convictions became intense, and before the light of the next morning he was gloriously reclaimed. He was received into the Genesee Conference in 1835, and continued to travel with but little interruption for thirty years. In the change of boundaries he fell among the brethren of the Central New York Conference. Though he was feeble for many years yet the old fires were constantly burning. He preached occasionally, was the teacher of a Bible class, and Sunday afternoons would walk out to the county asylum and talk and pray with the inmates. He won souls, built churches, paid debts, and sought to spread abroad the knowledge of salvation as God gave him ability and opportunity. He has gone to receive the reward due to faithful toilers.

Albert N. Damon was born in Madison County, N. Y., September 25, 1838. His youth was spent upon his father's farm. Early in life he was imbued with a desire to serve his Master, and began evangelistic work when a mere boy of sixteen. Earnest and faithful in this work, he was rewarded by seeing his father and brothers join the church under his labors. During two years of evangelistic work between two hundred and three hundred souls were brought to Christ. At nineteen he was licensed to preach. He was admitted to the Black River Conference in 1858. By various changes of boundaries he was a member of the Central New York, the Genesee, and finally the Central New York Conference again. His appointments were as follows: Parish, Williamstown, South Mexico, Saint Lawrence, Cape Vincent, North Manlius, Red Creek, Homer, Watkins, Corning, Alexander Street, Rochester; Penn Yan, Seneca Falls, Waterloo, Trumansburg, Homer, Mansfield, Pa. One year after joining Conference he married Miss Hetty Salisbury, of Pulaski, and over two thousand two hundred souls were brought into the fold through their united efforts. He loved the ministry and was an enthusiastic as well as thoughtful preacher. A cold contracted from attendance at two funerals developed into pneumonia. He loved his family next to his God, and during the few hours of consciousness which were given him at the last he gave expression to affectionate and tender farewells. The consolations of the Gospel he preached to others sustained him in the hours of his dissolution. One of his last utterances was: "I rejoice in the comfort of Christ." He died on December 4, 1893.

James Lockhart Edson was born in Nova Scotia, September 25, 1821, and died in triumph March 10, 1894, at Newark, N. Y. Converted at Lockport, N. Y., in 1840, and impelled to preach the word, he spent two years at Lima in preparation for that work. In 1848 he was received on trial in the East Genesee Conference, and was ordained elder in 1852. Canoga and Sheldrake, Nunda and Sparta, Bellona, Bethel and Potter, Rush, Mount Morris, Honeoye Falls, Victor, Penfield, Mount Morris again, East Bloomfield, Nunda, Lodi and Trumansburg, were the charges he served in the order given. By change of boundaries in 1872 he came into the Central New York Conference, serving Rose, East Palmyra and Junius. After failure of health in 1876 and consequent retirement he supplied Lock Berlin in 1878-1879, Sodus Point a part of 1881, and East Palmyra a portion of 1883. He married Miss Susan Phillips, of Seneca, N. Y., September 10, 1850. Excellencies blended in him which rarely go together, a strong logical faculty with marked tenderness, a fine sense of propriety in speech and conduct with a delicate skill in administering correction to the erring, a steady conservatism with a wholesome progressiveness. Success in soul-winning, in indoctrinating and in church building attested his gifts as a minister of Jesus Christ. His fatal illness, which was rather a languishing than acute pain, was borne with Christian fortitude. His memory is fragrant.

Richard H. Clark was born in Caroline, N. Y., February 17, 1826, and died in Wolcott, N. Y., March 22, 1894. His parents were devoted Christians and faithful members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was converted at the age of seventeen, and became a student at Cazenovia Seminary. While there he supplied at Delphi, N. Y., for a brief time, and one evening conducted a revival service to such a successful issue that every person not already converted, except one, arose for prayers. That revival was the foundation of the present church in Delphi. He was licensed to preach in December, 1850, and was admitted to the Oneida Conference in 1851. His appointments were as follows: Cardiff, Onondaga, Morrisville, Bennett's Corners, New Woodstock, Nelson Flats, Tully, Cuyler and De Ruyter, Preble, Conquest, Ledyard, Wolcott. He was faithful to all the duties of his calling. As a preacher he was plain in his utterances. Souls won to Christ are the evidence of his wise and winsome utterance of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. For sixteen years he was superannuated. His last days were full of Beulah land experiences. He died triumphantly, and has passed into the company of the redeemed.

Clement E. Hoag died suddenly on the Union Valley Charge, May 28, 1894. He was converted at East Homer, in the winter of 1885. He began holding temperance meetings with such effect that in 1886 he was licensed to preach. Recognizing the call of God, he entered Cazenovia Seminary, where he spent two years. During this period he supplied the Oran Church for a time. In April, 1890, he joined the Northern New York Conference, and was appointed to Pillar Point, which he appears to have already supplied for a year or more. In October following he was transferred to the Central New York Conference and appointed to New Woodstock. The year here spent was mainly a struggle with sickness, and he was removed and appointed to Eaton, where he spent three years. He was here instrumental in the conversion of many souls and in needed improvements upon the church edifice. From Eaton he went to Union Valley, where his pilgrimage ended. His religious life was that of a sinner saved by grace. He ever remembered the pit from which he was digged, and had abounding sympathy for the straying. This drew to him a large circle of friends. As a preacher he was of ready utterance and clear thought. The best things about him cannot be written; his battles, his heroism, his victories, all are known on high. He is best known on earth by the souls which on Eaton Charge he led to the Saviour.

Orville Newell Hinman died June 13, 1894, in New Hope, N. Y., aged sixty-three years. He was born in the town of Homer, and there lived till 1857, when he left his native place to travel as an itinerant preacher. He was soundly converted at nineteen, and was made a class leader six months afterward. At this time he passed through the great struggle of his life. His grandfather wished to take him as a son and make him heir to a fine property, but God said, "Go preach." After a protracted struggle he yielded, saying, like Paul, "Woe is unto me, if I preach not the Gospel." He was admitted to the Central New York Conference on trial in 1857, and into full connection in 1862. He was ordained deacon in 1862 by Bishop Ames, and elder in April, 1864, by Bishop Scott. He served the following charges: Georgetown, Delphi and Bethel, Perryville, South Onondaga, Union Valley, Onondaga Indian Mission, Nelson, Virgil, Borodino, Ira, New Hope, Skaneateles Falls, Elbridge, Amber, Union, Valley, Cuyler and De Ruyter, Freetown, Italy, South Sodus, Wayne and Barrington, New Albany, Ulster, South Sodus again, Erin and Breesport, Junius, Montezuma, Summer Hill. He was married February 23, 1858, to Lucettia A. Knapp. Though for some time in failing health he clung to active work, and was superannuated in 1893. His last days were very peaceful. He was a man of genial spirit, of abiding faith in God and the Bible, of untiring zeal, of great power in prayer. His last testimony is comprehended in these words: "I have found the Gospel which I have so long preached to others my perfect stay and comfort now." He has laid down the cross and taken the crown.

William Reddy was born at Lansingville, N. Y., in 1813, and died at Kingston, Pa., June 20, 1894. When he was eighteen he was converted at his birthplace. At Ledyard, in 1833, he was licensed to exhort, and three years later was licensed to preach. He was received as a probationer in the old Oneida Conference in 1837, having served the Pittston Circuit as supply the year before. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding in 1839, and elder by Bishop Soule in 1841. He served the following charges: Canaan, Brooklyn, Gibson and Jackson, Bridgewater and Montrose, Carbondale, Wyoming, Honesdale, Oswego, Wyoming District, Chenango District, Cazenovia, Auburn, Auburn District, Aurora Street, Ithaca; Cazenovia District, Chittenango, First Church, Utica; Skaneateles, Syracuse District, Weedsport. In 1880 he was supernumerary, and from 1881 to 1894 he was Tract Agent of the Central New York Conference. He was nineteen years a presiding elder. He was five times elected a delegate to the General Conference and twice a reserve delegate. More than once he represented his Conference as a delegate to other religious bodies. Though not a college graduate, he became a creditable Greek scholar, and few men were better acquainted with the polity, theology, and history of the Methodist Episcopal Church than he. He was preeminently a Bible scholar. He was able to repeat the larger part of the New Testament from memory, and was a favorite with all who loved expository preaching. His services to the cause of education were not small. He was one of the founders of Wyoming Seminary, secured the first subscription for it, and for four years was president of its board of trustees. He was trustee of Cazenovia Seminary for fifteen years and president of its board four years. He was a trustee of Genesee College six years, and was one of the commissioners who arranged its removal to Syracuse and development into Syracuse University. In 1876 Union College and Allegheny College conferred upon him the degree of D.D. Though in labors abundant he was a frequent contributor to the Church papers. He was the author of Inside Views of Methodism, The First Fifty Years of Cazenovia Seminary, and at the time of his decease had prepared for the press a History of the Oneida Conference. A fearless advocate of the "higher life" and "prohibition of the liquor traffic," he was charitable with those who did not agree with him. During all his career he was a revivalist. He was twice married. His end was peace. An honored guest of the Wyoming Seminary at its jubilee anniversary, he died within the walls of the institution he did so much to found. His funeral was held in the University Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, Syracuse, June 23, 1894.

Uriah S. Beebe was born in Herkimer County, N. Y., March 8, 1835, and died suddenly in Union, N. Y., July 15, 1894. At fourteen he was converted and joined the Church. He was educated at Whitestown Seminary and Cazenovia, where he graduated in 1862. For several years he followed teaching with great success. In 1869 he yielded to a call long heard, and entered the ministry. He joined the Central New York Conference, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson, and elder by Bishop Peck. His appointments were successively: Cato, Fair Haven, Delaware Street (now Brown Memorial), Syracuse; and Wall Street, Auburn. He was one year Financial Agent of Syracuse University, and fifteen years a presiding elder. His districts were: Auburn, Geneva, Cazenovia, and Auburn again for one year, when failing health compelled him to relinquish his labors. His disease being that of the heart, complicated with dropsy, he was obliged for many months before he gave up his work to sleep in a sitting posture. He dreaded a lingering death by dropsy, and had often expressed the wish that he might depart suddenly. His prayer was heard, and when alone in his room, on Sabbath morning, his spirit went home. For years he lived in anticipation of this call. His position when found indicated that he had recognized the character of the event, although death was instantaneous. His ministry was one of unbroken success. Revivals invariably attended his preaching. On his districts it was common to have seekers at the altar at his invitation. As a preacher he was unique. He was forceful, clear, and often eloquent. He had a vivid imagination, but never gave it play merely to secure ornamentation. Personally he was the embodiment of geniality, and was a favorite with young and old. For the work of a presiding elder he had peculiar adaptation. He never married, and was therefore free to go as occasion demanded. He was a close observer of men, had great executive ability, and invariably advanced the benevolent contributions of his district. He was a delegate to the General Conferences of 1884, 1888, and 1892. For fourteen years he was a trustee of Cazenovia Seminary, and for ten years was chairman of the board. In his eight months' residence at Union, for medical treatment, he became so endeared to the people that they desired a funeral.

service there. One having been held, a second service was held in Wall Street Church, Auburn, among his old parishioners, with an attendance of about forty ministers. Thence the remains were taken to Utica, N. Y., where a final service was held among his relatives and early friends, and the itinerant was laid to rest with his kindred in Forest Hill Cemetery.

Henry Thomas Giles was born at Sauquoit, N. Y., June 22, 1821, of stanch Christian and Methodist parentage, and died at Geneva, N. Y., October 4, 1894. He was converted at the age of twenty-one. At twenty-eight he entered Cazenovia Seminary, and remained there two years. He also attended the Concord Biblical Institute, and served some time on the Otego Circuit. He joined the East Genesee Conference in 1855, and was transferred to the Central New York Conference in 1870. As a preacher he was logical and full of earnestness. His life was unspotted. As the end approached with great calmness he made all preparation for the welfare of his family, and then with a triumphant faith entered upon his reward.

Charles C. Tucker was born in Pembroke, Canada, in 1866. He remained in his father's home until about sixteen, when he came to the United States, and for some time resided with his brothers in Philadelphia. Believing, some seven years since, that God was calling him to preach, he at once began to prepare himself for his great mission. One year was spent by him at the Syracuse University, and the next at a high school in Elmira. In his thirst for knowledge he attempted to do double work in Greek and German, but at the close of his second year at school was compelled to lay aside his studies and take a much-needed rest. He spent the following year in Canada, and then came back to the United States, applied to the Central New York Conference for work, and was appointed in 1891 to the Burlington Charge, in Pennsylvania. The work on that charge proving too hard for one in such feeble health, at the next session he was appointed to Reading Center, and at the Conference of 1893 was stationed at Butler Center, where he had just completed his first year's pastorate, when he suddenly ceased to work and live. He was a strong preacher, a faithful pastor, and a zealous lover of the souls of men. He had been warned by his physician that he must stop preaching or die. "Then," said he, "I will die at my post." He was true to his word; he continued to work to the very last. The cry, "Behold, the Bridegroom cometh!" came at midnight. But it found him ready, and with lamp burning he entered into banquet with his Lord.

James Erwin, whose name for many years has been a household word in Central and Northern New York Methodism, began life in the north of Ireland, February 26, 1812, and died in Syracuse, October 11, 1894. When he was but two years old his parents immigrated to this country and settled at Fort Covington, Franklin County. His father and mother were members of the Scotch Presbyterian Church, and their home was under the careful discipline characteristic of that people. He had good advantages for his time. He spent ten years in school and three years at a trade. At thirteen he was converted. To use his own words: "I was awakened at a Methodist prayer meeting, but converted in my own bedroom through the prayers and instructions of my precious mother." He was admitted to the Oneida Conference on probation in 1834, and into full connection in 1836. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Waugh and elder by Bishop Morris. He served sixteen different charges, some of them two terms. He was presiding elder of three districts, and acted as agent for Governeur Wesleyan Seminary and Syracuse University. During the war he was connected with the Christian Commission on the field and securing funds for the work. During his ministry of sixty-two years he was supernumerary two years and superannuated two years. He was always a safe, judicious leader. He represented his Conference six times as a delegate to the General Conference. Delicate of constitution, and so sensitive of spirit that the sob of a child would move his deepest sympathies, he was a man of supreme courage. He feared nothing in this world but sin. The date when he came into the experience of "perfect love," as he was best pleased to call it, was a marked period. It occurred when he was at the prime of his influence, and when honors were laid at his feet. While holding a superannuated relation the Syracuse Methodist Union began its work of Church extension. A mission was formed on Hawthorne Street, in the Fourteenth Ward, and he was put in charge. Three years ago it was made a Conference appointment, and he was appointed preacher in charge. The Tuesday meetings in his charge for the promotion of holiness were precious to many saints. He came from his last prayer meeting quite feeble and ill. The attack gave no alarm at first, but after a few days he was obliged to keep his bed. The morning of his departure he was animated, but he had a sinking spell, from which he rallied soon, and said, "I suppose you think I have had a very hard time, but I have had a good time." The veil was lifted and the man of God was translated almost in the twinkling of an eye.

East Ohio Conference.

Horatio N. Stearns was born in Wilmington, Vt., May 24, 1810, and moved with his parents to Chautauqua County, N. Y., in 1818. It soon appeared that he possessed many gifts and graces befitting the ministry, and in 1834 he was licensed to preach. He was an accredited minister of the Church for sixty years. In 1835 he united with the Pittsburg Conference. When the Erie Conference was organized in 1836 he became a member of it, and here remained till the East Ohio Conference was organized in 1876. Being now within its bounds he became a member thereof, and there continued until the close of life. He was twice married. He was one of the most successful ministers of his Conference. For many years the blending of the intellectual with the emotional in his pulpit efforts made his deliverances at times so powerful that his audiences were swayed like forests bending before the storm. He filled the following appointments: Napoli, Wattsburg, Cleveland and Ohio City, Akron, Mercer and Salem, Clarion, Franklin, Franklin District, Warren District, Ravenna District, Perry Street, Cleveland; Erie Street, New Castle, Bloomfield, Youngstown, Shardon, Chagrin Falls, Kingsville, Saybrook, Morgan, Unionville. He held a superannuated relation for twenty years. He was retiring, courteous, and in the fullest sense a Christian gentleman. Companionship with him was a rare privilege, his loving spirit a benediction, his counsels wisdom, his friendship steady and unselfish, his integrity unblemished, his loyalty to the right unswerving to the end. After a brief illness he peacefully "fell asleep" June 22, 1894.

Ezra Hingeley was born in Birmingham, England, October 29, 1825, and died in Washington, D. C., February 7, 1894. He came of the purest Wesleyan stock. His father dated his conversion to the hour when, as a child bowed in prayer for pardon, the hands of the aged Wesley rested on his head. Ezra, the twelfth son in the family, could not recall the time when he did not trust in Christ as his Saviour. In his seventeenth year he was licensed as a local preacher. On February 26, 1846, he was married to Anne Warwick, the beloved companion of forty-eight years, who still survives him. After preaching a year in Ireland he came to America in 1849, and found employment in Pittsburg. His services as a local preacher were in so constant demand that he was soon urged into the regular ministry. In 1853 he was admitted to the Pittsburg Conference. He was the first one whom Matthew Simpson ever ordained. His record as a traveling preacher, unbroken from 1853 to 1892, is as follows: Rostraver, Carmichaeltown, Addison, Brownsville, Finleyville, Temperanceville, Kittaning, Monongahela City, First Church, Steubenville; Massillon, Carson Street, Pittsburg; East Liverpool, Barnesville. In East Ohio Conference: Willoughby, Cambridge, Coshocton, Presiding Elder of New Philadelphia District, Salem, Ravenna, Saint Clairsville. He was a member of the General Conference of 1884. In 1892 he was compelled to rest for the first time. At the next Conference he asked for a superannuated relation in an address for manliness and sweetness never to be forgotten by those who heard it. After rendering valuable services at Coshocton he went with his wife to spend the winter in Washington. A fall from his horse when presiding elder had produced an injury from which he never recovered. At last he was compelled to consult a physician. An operation was ordered immediately. It seemed at first successful, but septicemia suddenly developed, and unconsciously he passed away. In a most touching will, executed before the operation, Dr. Hingeley expressed his perfect faith in Christ, sent messages of tender affection to his brethren of the Conference, and directed that, should he not survive, he should be buried in Coshocton. He was a man of striking personal appearance and of marked character. He was intensely loyal to conviction. He could not be unmanly. He was to the last youthful, alert in mind, widely informed on all questions of the day, in sympathy with all true progress. His memory remains a precious gem, without flaw or stain.

John Tribby was born September 14, 1816, in Brookfield, O. He received only a common school education, but by habits of study he acquired such scholarship as commanded respect, and in 1873 Allegheny College conferred upon him the degree of A.M. He was converted in Brookfield, O., in 1835. On July 4, 1843, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Hoover, of Petersburg, O. He was appointed to Gustavus as a supply in 1846. In 1847 he was received on trial in the Erie Conference; in 1849 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Waugh, and in 1851 an elder by Bishop Morris. The following are the charges he served: Youngstown and Poland Circuit, Charlestown, Hudson, Akron, Cuyohoga Falls, Youngstown, Warren, Painesville, Poland, Ravenna, Geneva, Painesville, North East, Presiding Elder of Akron District, Kent, Newton Falls, Windham. In 1883 he found it necessary to take a supernumerary relation, and in 1884 a superannuated relation. After superannuating he supplied Courtland, Twinsbury and Northfield, Mogadore. This long list of appointments he served with marked fidelity and success. Never self-seeking, he aimed only to glorify Christ. As a theologian he was profound; as a preacher chaste, clear, and logical; as an executive officer he was kind and wise. Everywhere he was gentle and meek, yet courageous and loyal to the right as God gave him to see it. In his daily life he was a Christian gentleman, his mere presence preaching Christ with an irresistible eloquence. The last words to his pastor were, "Everything is all right, more than right." He died in great peace in Ravenna, O., December 27, 1893, leaving wife and daughter and a large circle of friends who wait in hope of a reunion in heaven.
